A perfect day in Indian summer was given to the ladies of St. Mark's Guild for their annual bazaar, and on Wednesday afternoon the Barrie field town hall was filled with visitors who had difficulty in reaching the various tables, so great was the crowd. Mrs. Francis Brook, the president of the society, received the visitors, assisted by Mrs. F. W. Archbold, and at the door taking the admission fee were Mrs. Edward and Mrs. Herbert Murray. In the centre of the hall a fancywork booth was in charge of Mrs. W. Milton, Mrs. H. J. Dawson and Mrs. Rolfe, and just beyond it was the candy table, decked in mauve and centred with a vase of mauve chrysanthemums. Here Mrs. J. Merchant, Mrs. John McCartney and Miss Paul sold mauve boxes of sweets. The long table fairly groaned with home cooking. Delicious bread, real pies, the kind "mother used to make," and golden brown crullers were displayed and surrounded with eager buyers, the ladies selling these good things being Mrs. J. J. Wilmut, Mrs. Grey, Mrs. Shepherd, Miss Medley, Mrs. R. Patterson, Mrs. W. M. Murray and Miss A. Stuart. Rummy, checked apples and pickles, canned fruit, etc., with vegetables, were at the end of the room near the entrance, and were sold by Mrs. W. J. Berry and Mrs. R. J. Moore. The bazaar was presided over by Miss Agnes Stanton, assisted by Marjorie Hewitt and Barbara Stanton, and near by was a table with the red berries of the bitter sweet for sale by two young girls, Miss Edith Wash and Miss Dorothy Warmington. Mrs. Norman was in a very popular corner, and when you managed to find what was on her table by pushing your way through the crowd, you found that all sorts of things, for bright little girls had made them. The girls who were selling these pretty things were Elsie Wash, Isabel Warmington, Dolly Batty, Beatrice McGillis and Alice Norman. The tea table, centred with pink blossoms and decked with candles, was presided over in turn by Mrs. James Baxter, Mrs. E. Malone, Mrs. Herbertberg and Mrs. Frank Day. The tea was served on the platform, decorated with Chinese lanterns, by a bevy of ladies, amongst whom were Mrs. John Baxter, Mrs. J. S. Crossfield, Mrs. Schermburg, Mrs. M. Stanton, Mrs. W. Wright, Mrs. J. Esford, Miss Vincent, Miss Helen Wilmut, Miss Edna Berry, Miss Ethel Dowler, Miss Rhessa Knapp and Miss Olive Murray.

St. Mark's sale is one of the events of the year, not only for the members of the guild, but for the parish and the community. It is held in the village hall, everyone is interested in the pleasant event and the most delightful community spirit pervades the gathering. Then, too, the ladies are assisted by the men of the parish, who take the greatest interest, driving cars to the city for Kingstons who wished to attend the sale and showing by their presence the interest they take in the ladies' efforts to increase the funds necessary to carry on the material needs of the parish. Rev. A. O. Cooke, the rector, certainly led the way, for he, too, brought his car over to Kingston many times during the day to take interested Kingstons to the sale. The city parishes were represented by their clergy, and the Bishop of the diocese came over for a cup of tea.

For Deep Chest Colds. All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the air passages and lungs. Vicks is a "vapor" treatment in salve form. For deep chest colds you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for 5 minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth. Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long. This double action usually checks the most stubborn cold overnight.

VICKS VAPORUB. Over 21 Million Jars Used Yearly. Cured Her Rheumatism. Knowing from terrible experience the suffering caused by rheumatism, Mrs. J. E. Hurst, who lives at 294 Davis Avenue, D13 Bloomington, Ill., is so thankful at having cured herself that out of pure gratitude she is anxious to tell all other sufferers just how to get rid of their torture by a simple way at home. Mrs. Hurst has nothing to sell. Merely out of this notice, mail it to her with your own name and address. She will gladly send you this valuable information entirely free. Write her at once before you forget.

The first meeting of the Kingston Garrison Badminton Club was held in the armourees on Wednesday with a good attendance of members. Badminton was played on the courts and in the ladies room, bridge and mah jongg tables were in play. Among those present were Col. and Mrs. W. P. Elkins, Major and Mrs. Brooke, Lawson, Col. and Mrs. R. H. Col. and Mrs. E. J. C. Schmidtlin, Col. and Mrs. R. O. Alexander, Prof. and Mrs. W. H. Macnee, Mrs. James Hamilton, Mrs. E. H. Macnee, Mrs. Charles Grant (Hallifax), Miss Hora, Mrs. Travers Hora, Miss Edith Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, Miss Marion Leslie, Miss Mamie Anglin, Miss Laura Kilborn, Miss Eleanor Phelan, Miss Louise Hill, Dr. McKee.

Mrs. J. W. Horning repelved on Wednesday afternoon for the first time since coming to Sydenham. The drawing room was beautiful, with flowers and ferns and here the hostesses received her guests, wearing her wedding gown of blue georgette and silver lace. Mrs. Horning was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. F. R. Wood and Mrs. E. Horning. The table in the dining room was centred with a mirror and cut glass basket of lovely golden chrysanthemums; here Mrs. Lovel and Mrs. Hollingsworth poured tea assisted by Miss Edith Truscott, Mrs. F. Elston, Mrs. McFadden and Mrs. Charles Truscott, little Miss Georgia Wood attended the door and ushered in the guests.

Miss Leeder, V.O.N., spoke to an interested audience at the meeting of the C.W.L. held in the Roman Catholic Assembly hall Tuesday evening. The president, Miss Doonan, introduced the speaker, who spoke of the origin of the Victorian Order and of the work being done in the city, referring to the Welfare Station and the well baby clinic conducted there. Miss J. Bugge played a much enjoyed piano number and when refreshments were served, Mrs. J. Donoghue and Mrs. F. Briceland presided at the table.

That there were several points about the production of "Leo, the Royal Cadet," that other amateur companies would do well to follow. The costumes were good, quite as good as are seen in all but very expensive companies. Then every scene was put on promptly, and the waits between the acts were no longer than in a professional production. The lighting effect was excellent and as for the music, it was exceedingly tuneful and pleasant. The choruses were well sung, the soloists were good, the orchestra excellent and there was a finish about the whole affair that is frequently lacking in amateur performances.

That Wednesday was quite unmissably a real Indian summer day, a day that belongs exclusively to the northern part of this great continent. The soft air gave the softness artists call "atmosphere" to the distant shore across the exquisite pearly blue of the lake. The purple shadows in the river, where the leafless trees are reflected, and the glorious sunshine we have seen so little of lately, all tell us that the all-too-brief autumnal summer is here.

That as is advertised, the Kingston public will have an opportunity of seeing just what Queen's Alumnae Association has accomplished in giving a splendid building to Kingston and a home to the women students of the university when Ban Righ Hall is thrown open to the citizens on Saturday afternoon. Her Excellency the Lady Byng of Vimy, will be the guest of the Alumnae after she declares the building open on Monday afternoon and cards will be sent out to the members of the alumnae and the donors and members of the university staff.

That many Queen's students, who live in the district, will go home for Thanksgiving, the first holiday in the autumn term. It is the first absence from home that seems the longest, and for the boys and girls who are among the freshmen and freshettes, this holiday is looked forward to especially if home is within reach.

ROMANCE ENDS

That it is said that when a budding actor once telegraphed to J. M. Barrie, "Am playing Hamlet in London next Monday," the author replied, "Thanks for the warning." Ninety per cent. of the public in the smaller cities to-day, it is advised that a concert is to be given from the works of Wagner, Gluck, Beethoven, and any half-dozen others, and that they were to be presented by "modern methods," would simply smile and say in effect, "Thanks for the warning," and stay away. Not only that, but they have a sneaking belief that those who do go to such concerts are queer kind of folk, if not a little crazy.

In Flanders Now.

An answer to Lt.-Col. John McCrae by Edna Jaques. We have kept faith, ye Flanders dead. Sleep well beneath those poppies red. That mark your place. The torch your dying hands did throw. We've held it high before the foe, And answered bitter blow for blow. In Flanders' fields.

And where your heroes' blood was spilled. The guns are now forever stilled. And silent grown. There is no mourning of the slain. There is no cry of tortured pain. And blood will never flow again. In Flanders' fields.

Forever holy in our sight. Shall be those crosses gleaming white. That guard your sleep. Rest you in peace, the task is done. The light you left us we have won. And "Peace on Earth" has just begun. In Flanders now.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By Laura A. Kirkman.

Contributed Recipes: Mrs. D.: "Other women may like my White Cake Frosting: I put about seven-eighths of a cup of granulated sugar into the top of my double boiler with three teaspoons of cold water and one unbeaten egg-white, and cook the mixture seven minutes—sometimes a little less. During the cooking, I beat the mixture constantly. It is ready to spread on the cake when it begins turning a little bit sugary around the edges."

Mrs. W.: "My Corn Muffins are a little different from other housekeepers'." Here is the recipe: Mix together one cup each of white corn-meal and bread flour. Add one-fourth cup of granulated sugar, a pinch of salt, and two teaspoons of baking powder. Stir well, before adding two cups of cold, sweet milk, one well-beaten egg, and one tablespoon of melted butter. Turn the batter into a greased muffin pan and bake 20 to 25 minutes in a hot oven.

Reader Friend: "Vanilla Wafers: Cream one-third cup of butter with one cup of granulated sugar and stir in one beaten egg. When well mixed, add one-fourth cup of cold, sweet milk and two and one-quarter cups of bread flour mixed and sifted with one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder and a pinch of salt. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla, chill, then roll out on a floured board very thin. Cut with a cookie cutter and bake on a buttered pan in a moderate oven for 12 minutes."

Old-Timer: "I believe that young housewives will like my Lemon Pickle: Wash and wipe 12 large lemons and cut them in eighths. Put them in a pan with one-half cup of salt, eight cloves of garlic, and one teaspoon each of ground mace, nutmeg, and allspice. Add a bare one-eighth teaspoon of Cayenne pepper and one-fourth cup of mustard. Then stir in one-half gallon of the best vinegar and bring to the boiling point slowly. Let simmer for 30 or 40 minutes, then turn the mixture into a large jar and for one month stir the pickle daily, keeping the jar covered when not stirring. After the month, store in small glass jars, sealed, or in bottles tightly corked and the necks dipped in melted paraffine wax. Fine to serve with sliced cold meats."

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department, will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and province. —The Editor.

Mrs. Josephine Widener Leidy, daughter of Joseph E. Widener, millionaire art collector, has sued for divorce from her husband, Carter Leidy, young son of a Philadelphia physician. The two eloped in 1920 and Leidy spent a year "on probation" working in an iron foundry to prove to his rich parents-in-law that he was worthy of their daughter.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

FAIRFIELD EAST. The October meeting of the W.I. was held at home of Mrs. E. P. John, on Wednesday, 24th. Because of the rain very few members were present. Mrs. Johns, as president, conducted the meeting. The roll call was answered by a thought or a good suggestion for Thanksgiving. Arrangements were completed for the Halloween social evening on Friday, 30th. The members chose Mrs. Jesse Inanhard as delegate to Ottawa convention on Nov. 10th, 11th, and 12th. The November meeting will be held at Mrs. Edwards'.

HARROWSMITH.

The October meeting of the Harrowsmith W.I. was held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the town hall. The president, Mrs. Charles Stewart, was in the chair. The meeting was opened with the singing of the Ode and the repeating of the Lord's Prayer in unison. Twenty-six members responded to the roll-call with an "apple recipe." Various items of business were discussed, since the last meeting of the Institute in September, a thorough canvass of the village by Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Copp and by the different directors in the country, has resulted in a large number of signatures for the public library, which we are hoping to establish in the near future. Much work has yet to be done along this line, but good results are expected and the hearty co-operation of all interested in this work, is earnestly desired. A number of the "Harrowsmith Excelciors" also attended this meeting, and Miss Helen Kerr's report of the convention at Kemptville was read. "God Save the King" was sung and then refreshments were served by Miss Barstow, Mrs. George Boyce, Mrs. William Botting and Mrs. Bartell.

On Friday evening, Oct. 30th, the ladies of the Institute served a banquet for the Masons and about one hundred partook of the sumptuous repast prepared for them. After expenses were deducted, $35 was added to the treasury.
