GET UP AND GET BUSY IT'S WASHDAY

IF HUBBY HAD TO DO THE WASHING

THE CHANCES are that if hubby was invited to do the family washing or to stick around while it was being done he would say, "Let George do it." Our advice is to let one of our electric washing machines take the soil out of the garments and the toll out of your wife's life. Let us demonstrate their worthiness and guarantee.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF ORPHANS' HOME

Reports Showed That Institution is Carrying on a Splendid Work.

The annual meeting of the Orphans' Home Society and Widows' Friend Society was held on Friday afternoon in the auditorium of that institution. There was a good attendance.

Mr. T. A. Kidd was in the chair, and he very ably conducted the meeting. Rev. M. C. Johnston opened the meeting with prayer. The chairman, in his remarks, stated that the home was in a healthy condition, and complimented the matron on her efficiency.

Rev. Mr. Johnston then gave a sermonette on "Charity," and showed how the meaning had changed from what we call love to condescension of the rich for the poor.

Mr. Kidd gave an outline of the work of the Children's Aid Society. He said that the society was keeping wards from nearly all the counties in Eastern Ontario, for which they were receiving remuneration.

The secretary, in her report stated that the provincial nurse had reported that the children were in a very healthy condition. The board of management had not seen its way clear to accept the offer of Queen's University to purchase their property. The various kindnesses shown by local citizens and societies were very much appreciated by the officials of the Home.

The secretary's report was very interesting and described the work done by Dr. McCallum, in looking after the welfare of the children.

The registrar stated that there were at present thirty-two inmates, sixteen boys and sixteen girls. Eighty-six children have passed through the home during the past year. Many of these were from the county and other municipalities.

Reports were read from the house, clothing and children's committees all of which showed a healthy condition, but requested more interest on the part of the citizens of Kingston.

DECORATED STORE WINDOWS.

In Honor of Armistice Day—Three Fine Scenes.

Windows in Kelley's grocery store, Laidlaw's and Steacy's dry goods stores are beautifully decorated for Armistice Day in memory of the Canadians who fell fighting for their country.

Kelley's grocery store window depicts a soldier's grave yard, showing the miniature graves, with poppies, strewn over them, and small white crosses. The background of the scene is black, throwing into relief a large white cross in the centre. The scene is very pretty and realistic and the decorator has made the window very noticeable.

Laidlaw's window is decorated with flags, poppies, soldier helmets and guns, and presents a very nice appearance. A model dressed as a nurse brings back to the soldiers and nurses, memories of "over there" and a number of pictures show battle front scenes.

Steacy's window shows a soldier's grave, with a large cross in the centre and kneeling by it, a model dressed as a war widow. The scene brings back memories of the war and of the wives and sisters at home, who passed through years of fear for those loved ones fighting for them. Poppies are strewn over the grave, and the window is very attractive.

The decorators of each store have made the windows very realistic and pretty and many favorable comments have been passed upon their appearance.

LETTERS To The Editor

A Word To the Clergy.

To the Editor of The Whig: There is likely to be much criticism of the Archbishop of Canterbury's statement that the clergy must burn more midnight oil, to draw large congregations. Men are not drawn to God by the silken swish of an academic gown, no matter how much the wearer knows. The way of salvation is so simple that a wayfaring man may not err therein. On every hand we are told that the churches are preaching themselves empty. We cannot fail to see that crime is rampant in our midst, yet the sale of Bibles is largely increased. So there are still thousands of souls that have not bowed the knee to Baal.

Then again, are all our clergy reborn? Because the blind cannot lead the blind. Do they walk as children of the light? Those who do, will certainly have followers. There is an irresistible magnetism in God's word, when the preacher himself has found the truth. President Coolidge says, there is great need of true religion to stem the tide of prevailing crime and lawlessness. The good book tells us the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty. Can anything be more cruel than the crimes that are taking place in our midst? Our preachers must try to rekindle the lights. It will never be accomplished by man-made laws, for those very laws are openly defied by those who are supposed, and paid, to guard them. It is, as in the days of old—selfishness. Man, by himself, is priced. For thirty pieces, Judas sold himself—not Christ.

We need in this age true men, such as the Bishop of Exeter described; aye, aye, and we need more true, womanly women, and less grinding of the terrible divorce mill, making children worse than orphans, and breaking up homes, the purity of which should be the strength of the nation. We need, and greatly, too, more unity and less sectarianism, some of which seems as silly as the children's song, "I Don't Want To Play in Your Yard." —MARY A. NASH, Brooklyn, N.Y., Nov. 6.

A Great Investment.

To the Editor of The Whig: As a business man grows old enough to take life seriously, the wise investment of time and money, and energy is his guiding motive.

To-day as never before, such an opportunity is presented if he takes a share in the $4,000,000.00 budget of the United Church of Canada, with its guaranteed dividends of one hundred per cent. of real joy and happiness.

God has invested his all in the great task of bringing us from the jungle of hate, to the Paradise of loving each other. What a chance to send streaming through the whole world this life-giving Gospel that alone can satisfy the human soul.

At first sight, four millions may seem a very large amount for the United Church to raise, but in reality it means about one cent per member, per day. Not how few, but rather how many shares will be taken, should be the decision arrived at by every member of the United Church.

—D. A. SHAW, Kingston, Nov. 7th.

It Might Be Worse.

A friend met a cheerful Irishman who had plainly suffered some hard knocks. "Well, Pat, how are you getting along now?" he inquired.

"Oh, O'!'s still hard up, but O'!'s a fine job in Honolulu, and fare paid. O'! sail to-morrow.

"Sure, man, you'll never be able to work there. The temperature is a hundred in the shade."

Pat had endured too much carefully to be discouraged. "Well," he replied, hopefully, "O'!'s not be working in the shade all th' toime."

THE TOWN WATCHMAN

A week ago, the Watchman asked if anyone knew why Barrie street was laid out in the shape of a bow. As the historical society perhaps does not know, the reason was this: In the early days of the settlement, the people feared attacks from the Indians and a stockade was built from the water's edge near River street in a semicircle to the shore of the harbor at the present Macdonald Park. Inside this stockade the inhabitants felt fairly safe from attack, and the old town of Kingston was built inside the bow.

Without the help of the United Farm Women's organizations, which took a big part in the election in 1921, the Progressive candidates last week had no chance. It was the farm women who elected the big Progressive following in the House of Commons four years ago. This time those organizations were not functioning, and thus the sad result for the Progressives.

Should there be revelling on the anniversary of Armistice day? It was natural on the first Armistice day that there should be, but succeeding Armistice days are regarded as memorial days, and in London, Eng., a big ball had to be cancelled owing to public feeling against it. Feasting and revelling are not the thing for a holy day.

One hears, too, of a "Thanksgiving dance." What a misnomer! Most Thanksgiving dances are held to make money. A "Thanksgiving night dance" is a more correct way of designating such an event.

Only seven wedding ceremonies were recorded in Kingston last month. This is surely the lowest number for any month in years. Perhaps the general elections were partly responsible for so few young people entering the bonds of matrimony.

What is this we hear? According to the provincial inspector, the insurance companies are doing so well that the rates may soon be reduced. The companies will be glad of the reduction day, and why should they not offer insurance bargains? There are bargain days in other lines of business—why not in the insurance business? The announcement of the provincial inspector may seem strange to many policyholders who were lately called upon to pay higher premiums to fraternal organizations.

Potatoes are now selling as high as three dollars a bag in Kingston, owing to the shortage and exports. There are few homes, however, in which there is not a big waste in potatoes; the garbage cans show this. In this shortage time people can get along with about half the quantity they usually buy and still have sufficient. They can use substitutes, just as we do sometimes when hard coal is scarce.

The Family Market Basket

Poultry of all kinds was very plentiful on the Kingston market on Saturday morning. Chickens, which were the best of their kind which had been seen on the market in years, sold for from $1.50 to $2 per pair. Barred rocks chickens, which weighed about eight to nine pounds to the pair, brought $2 per pair. Turkeys were fairly numerous and sold from 35 to 40 cents per pound. Ducks were $1 to $1.25 apiece. One noticeable thing was the very small showing of geese.

Strictly fresh eggs, which have not been very plentiful during the past week or ten days, were sold at 75 cents a dozen. It is claimed that the shortage of eggs this year is due to the fact that the farmers have experienced considerable difficulty in raising the young birds owing to disease, and also having the birds killed by skunks and foxes.

Lamb, which presented a very fine appearance, brought 23 cents per pound for hind quarters and 21 cents for fronts. Pork sold for 23 cents for hinds and 21 cents for fronts.

The price of potatoes, which has continued to soar during the past few weeks, reached a point of $3.00 to $3.25 a bag of ninety pounds.

Butter, which was not shown in large quantities, found ready buyers at 50 cents a pound.

Tons of apples were offered for sale, and were sold at the rate of about 75 cents per bushel. The apple growers informed The Whig that apples are so plentiful that they have trouble in disposing of them. Apples are being purchased at the rate of about $1 a barrel in the orchard to people who furnish their own barrels.

H. W. Carter, seven times mayor of Brandon, Man., will again be a candidate in the forthcoming elections.
