Motor Trip To Florida.
In the last week of November, Walker's Studebaker sedan bus will leave Kingston on a sight-seeing trip to Florida, stopping at points of interest on the way. The bus is a large one, and up-to-date in every way, which assures the passengers a comfortable trip. Several people have already arranged to make the trip, and it is expected that there will be a full complement before the bus leaves.

For "Armistice Day."
Many of Kingston's public and private buildings had the Union Jack flying in celebration of Armistice Day. The flags were half masted for five minutes, at 11 o'clock, in memory of the soldiers, who gave their lives in the Great War. This practice has become a custom throughout the British Empire. Many citizens were heard to express their regret at the absence of the flag on some of Kingston's public buildings.

Awarded Damages.
A case of interest to Napaneseans was held at Cobourg, when before Justice Rose, an action was heard between Hamel Benn vs. the Canadian National Railways and Joseph Anglin for damages. A year ago last May Mr. Benn was painfully injured when the car in which he was an occupant, and Mr. Anglin, driver, collided with an engine of the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Benn was awarded $417 by the jury. W. D. M. Shorey, Toronto, was the lawyer for Mr. Benn, while J. M. Farrell, K.C., Kingston looked after the interests of Mr. Anglin.

Ciscoes Are Running.
Ciscoes are running again at Clayton, N.Y., and are being caught in great numbers. Many are of good size being twelve to fourteen inches in length, while one sisco measured seventeen and a half inches and weighed two and a half pounds. The best catches are made in front of Clayton near the channel in about sixty feet of water. A drop line is used with a heavy sinker and a small hook baited with a piece of white pork. They are a gamey fish and put up a good fight. Nearly half of those hooked get away before they are landed. The advent of these fish in Clayton last fall was the first in many years.

She wore a taupe Vera Powell acted as bridesmaid and was gowned in black Betty crepe with touches of silver. She wore an amethyst bar pin, the gift of the groom. Frederick Henry Smithers of Detroit was best man. After the ceremony the party went to the Capitol Cafe where a dainty wedding luncheon was served. Kingston's Good Example.
An American, who was in the city to-day, said that Kingston was the first Canadian city he had seen, which carried out the custom of putting out street flags on a public holiday or on any historical occasion. He said that this custom seems to be gaining impetus on this side and he hoped that it would become an established practice in Canada, as it was in the States.

Sir John's Explanation.
Sir John A. Macdonald was defeated in Kingston in 1878 by Alexander Gunn, but later in the year a seat was found for him in Victoria British Columbia. Sir John explained his defeat by Mr. Gunn by saying he did not know the "Gunn" was loaded.
