The ladies of Sydenham street church have the reputation of having one of the best of the many sales of work held in Kingston at this season of the year, and on Thursday they added to that reputation. Mrs. W. T. B. Brown and the vice-president, Mrs. H. W. L. Day, received the hundreds of visitors who brought so readily that by five o'clock the candy table was completely cleared and the table where Miss Helen McIntyre and Miss Jennie Shaw and a committee had sold good things to eat, was left with only its lovely flowers, its candles and three pumpkins. Everyone admired the candy table with its mauve, yellow and green decoration and Mrs. Harold Ettinger and her committee are to be congratulated on this pretty corner. Twined with roses was the big stall in the centre of the room where lovely work was for sale. Here the conveners were Mrs. R. G. Andrews and Mrs. Ford and many pretty Christmas gifts were bought from them and their assistants. Woolies for everyone were in another corner and Mrs. J. E. Singleton and Mrs. W. Coates had got all these attractive wares together and with a committee were rapidly selling them. All sorts of aprons were at another beautifully decorated stall with Mrs. Ansley and Miss Garbutt as conveners. At the door, Mrs. Elmer Woodman and Mrs. R. O. Patterson took the small entrance fee. Pink chrysanthemums were on all the tables and the hall was most attractively decorated. In the lower hall tea was served, Mrs. J. G. Ettinger and Mrs. Frank Anglin being the conveners of the tea committee and other ladies taking turns in pouring and in waiting upon the crowds of guests. A big basket of pink mums centred the tea table and on each of the many small tables where merry parties gathered for tea, was a small vase with a single pink blossom. Over $700 was taken in at this very successful sale.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, beautifully decorated for the occasion. The bride who was given in marriage by her father was charming in a white velvet gown with long pointed bodice and bouffant skirt and girde of tiny orange blossoms, with yoke of Duchesse lace and a Duchesse lace veil with long train which belonged to a great aunt. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of sweet-heart roses, lilies of the valley, daisies and mignonette, and wore the groom's gift a string of pearls. Mrs. Nora Bermingham, sister of the groom, acted as maid of honor and was becomingly attired in pink georgette and silver lace with long streamers of turquoise blue velvet ribbon and carried pink rosebuds and mignonette. That before long the Salvation Army will have the big cauldron in which they ask us to put a coin or a cheque as we feel inspired to do, so that they may be able to give Christmas cheer to those they know to be in need. Money given to the Salvation Army is money given where it will be put to good use.

That many Kingstonians are motoring to Ottawa to-day to spend the week-end and see the football match.

That the entertainment given in the Hotel Dieu nurses recreation hall on Wednesday was a most successful event. The tables were effectively decorated and the articles attractive. The bridge in the afternoon and the euchre in the evening were enjoyed by a large number of citizens.

That the Kingston women's societies are taking a special interest in the work of the V.O.N. this year, and the committee hope that the men's societies will follow suit. Miss Stevenson, superintendent for Eastern Canada spoke at the meetings of some of the clubs when she was last in Kingston and saw many of the prominent men to whom she explained the working of the Order. The people who receive the ministrations of the V. O. nurses do not need explanation. They know what she has done for them in their trouble.

Local Council Meeting. Mrs. Frederick Etherington presided at the meeting of the Local Council of Women held in the Council Chamber on Thursday and there was a large attendance of members. Chown was appointed convener of the League of Nations committee.
