Exceedingly smart and up to the minute was the annual at home given at the Kingston Collegiate Institute on Tuesday evening. In the lower hall, evergreens and rose-shaded lights on artistic wicker standards gave a charming effect, and the guests went on to the gymnasium where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Sitter, the latter wearing a smart black gown with a black and silver scarf, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hedley, the latter also in black, and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Otto, Mrs. Otto frocked in flame red velvet and georgette. Mrs. Alexander Newland, chairman of the Board of Education, was a guest, and was gowned in beige georgette, embroidered. The decorations of the gym were most elaborate. Blue and white, the K.C.I. colors, were used, at one end of the room the figures 1925 stood out against a white ground, and at the other K.C.I. between two sporting silhouettes were on the wall. A lattice of blue and white made the drop ceiling, and in the centre the streamers were cleverly caught up to form a dome. Small evergreen Christmas trees and tall shaded lamps made a charming corner where Sid Fox and his Serenaders played inspiring music. Pretty girls in pretty frocks in all the popular gay tints, danced gaily, and the scene was a charming one indeed. Supper was served downstairs in a room turned into a Chinese hall. Silhouettes, Chinese figures and Chinese characters were on the pillars, Chinese lanterns shed a soft light and Chinese waiters served an excellent supper. The dance was altogether a delightful one and the perfect arrangements reflected great credit on the committee in charge, that included Miss Marjorie Fair, Miss White, Miss Marjorie Lytle, Miss Burns, Messrs McKelvey, C. Laturney, A. Andrews, H. Reid, R. Day and E. Connelly.

Mowat Sanatorium is gaily decorated for the festive season of Christmas with long wreaths of evergreens, red bells and red and green streamers, and on Tuesday evening a party of Red Cross workers went out to give the gifts they had so carefully prepared for the patients in the infirmary to those for whom they were intended. Some one had blundered, however, and many of the boxes had already been given to the patients, during Dr. Hopkins' absence from the hospital. However, the ladies received many words of appreciation for their gifts. Each one seemed just what the recipient needed most, and the care with which they had been prepared and the kindly wishes written in notes and on cards went right to the hearts of those who are making a brave fight against the dread "white plague." The presents for the girls and women patients had not been sent out before hand, so they received their pretty gifts from the hands of the donors. Mr. W. A. Rogers, Mrs. W. A. Dewey, Mrs. Henry Duckman and Miss Kathleen Daly, with some other visitors, visited the patients in the wards and had a chat with each of them. From the main building the party went over to the recreation hall where the Christmas tree and a programme arranged by Mrs. James Marshall was the event of the evening for those who were well enough to enjoy it. Mr. Marshall sang, and a dialogue by Mr. Marshall and Miss Albright was enjoyed. Mr. Kelly, a prince of reciters, gave two numbers splendidly, and Mr. M. R. Carraide played two brilliant piano solos. The presents on the tree from the Red Cross, the I.O.D.E. and the canteen were distributed by Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Dewey and Dr. Bruce Hopkins. Patients and nurses each got a present, and many happy moments will be spent in opening the pretty boxes. The hall was gaily decorated with evergreens, streamers and colored lights, and after the gifts were distributed a dance followed.

Man Sleeps Like Log, Eats Anything

"After taking Adlerika I can eat anything and sleep like a log. I had gas on the stomach and couldn't keep food down no sleep." (Signed) R. C. Miller. ONE spoonful Adlerika relieves GAS and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Often brings out old waste-matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for chronic constipation. T. H. Sargent, druggist.

ON EARTH GOODWILL AND PEACE

In the fields with their flocks abiding, The shepherds lay on the ground, And glistening under the starlight The sheep lay white around.

When the light of the Lord streamed o'er them, And lo, from the heaven above, An angel leaned from the glory And sang his song of love:

He sang that first sweet Christmas The song that shall never cease—"Glory to God in the highest, On earth good will and peace."

"To you in the city of David A Saviour is born to-day!" And sudden a host of the heavenly ones Flashed forth to join the lay.

O never hath sweeter message Thrilled home to the souls of men, And the heavens themselves had never heard So glad a choir till then:

For they sang that Christmas carol That never on earth shall cease—"Glory to God in the highest, On earth good will and peace."

And the shepherds came to the manger And gazed on that holy Child; And calmly o'er the cradle The virgin Mother smiled:

And the sky in the starlit silence Seemed full of the angel lay—"To you in the city of David A Saviour is born to-day!"

So they sang and ween that never The carol on earth shall cease—"Glory to God in the highest, On earth good will and peace."

That the War Cry with a pretty colored cover, showing a Hallelujah lassie with her arms full of holly, is being sold on the streets. It is well worth buying, not only because everyone likes to help the Salvation Army along at this time, but because it is full of interesting reading matter and illustrations telling the old, old story of the coming to earth of the only Son of God as a Babe in a manger at Bethlehem.

That a plea for our childish belief in old Santa was made by Gamaliel Bradford in his "Santa Claus: A Psychograph" in the Christmas Bookman. He says: "So the legend of Saint Nicholas is a lovely and a detectable myth, the last living relic of the vanishing world of dreams. The fairies are gone. No little children or innocent maidens watch any longer through the ardent summer nights to catch some echo of the songs and dances of tiny people, footing it daintily over the dewy turf. The witches are gone. Unpleasant old ladies can look about them ill-favoredly and purvey gossip without the danger of being burned at the stake. The ghosts are gone. Solitary graveyards are far more comfortable and agreeable sojourning places in the summer evenings than crowded streets. Santa Claus alone still lingers with us. For heaven's sake let us keep him as long as we can."

That Kingston people who have homes and happy family parties are asking their friends who have neither to dine with them on Christmas Day. Christmas in a boarding house, where one feels they are interfering with the freedom of the house mistress and her family, is a dreary day, but few people will be left to that trying experience in Kingston. If you can think of such a one on your list of acquaintances, see to it that they are not left to undergo it.

That to-day the Girls of the Fellowship Club of the "Y" sent out splendid baskets to some families who would perhaps otherwise not have had a Christmas dinner. With the churches, the schools, the Klansians and other good folk, surely no one in Kingston will fare badly tomorrow.

Eczema On Hands For Two Years Cuticura Healed

"For about two years I suffered with eczema on my hands. It started with small scales and then turned to a rash and was very sore and red. It itched terribly at times and kept spreading until my fingers were covered with it. I could not put my hands in water nor do any work. I did not get much sleep at night on account of the irritation. I used other remedies without much success. I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and sent for a free sample. After using it I purchased more and in a month's time I was completely healed." (Signed) Lawrence Chauvin, West Chazy, N. Y., Sept. 27, 1924.

Makes Cuticura Soap and Ointment your every-day toilet preparations and leaves clear, sweet skin, soft smooth hands, and a healthy scalp with good hair. Cuticura Talcum is unexcelled in purity.

People always laugh at the fool things you try to do until they discover you are making money out of them. You've seen these basket sets which the large ones envelop the small ones. Well, that's internationalism.
