One of the most charming functions during the Christmas season was the dance on Tuesday night at Napanee by Mr. and Mrs. William A. Daly and their daughter, Miss Mary Daly, who returns to England in a short time to resume her musical studies. The Masonic chambers was the scene of this most enjoyable affair and the rooms presented a pleasing appearance, with Christmas decorations and multicolored lights. About 130 guests were present. Miss Mary Daly looked very pretty in a frock of apricot georgette, with full skirt handsomely embroidered in floral pattern, and carrying sunset roses. She received with her mother. Mrs. Daly was charming in a beautiful gown of powder blue satin with touches of mauve and silver. Among the out-of-town guests were Cadet Bruce Graham of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Waram of Toronto, Miss Mary Rowland and Mr. W. Steacy of Kingston.

An orchestra stationed in the hall made inspiring music and the dancers made the most of it until eleven o'clock, when supper was served. Just before midnight the favors, including whistles and other noise-making contrivances, were given to the guests and they waltzed in 1926 with plenty of music as they formed a procession that went up the back stairs and came down the staircase leading to the hall, making as much noise as possible—and that was a good deal. The party was a delightful one and thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of guests.

The Editor Hears

That this is the day "dad" is popularly supposed to receive as his New Year's gift, the bill for his Christmas present.

That the numbers of radio sets in the city has been greatly increased during the last few weeks as so many people have received a set for a Christmas present. For "shut-ins" the radio has a great charm; there is the lure of wondering just what you will hear and the astounding fact that you are hearing music relayed from Germany, South America or some other far-away land.

That a lady who heard some English, Irish and Scotch girls singing at a recent happy festivity of the Overseas Club of the "Y" remarked upon their splendid repertoire. Song after song was sung without words or music; everyone seemed to know the same songs and to be able to remember the words, a rare accomplishment in this country. We have become very dependent on books for our words, and yet we have descended from the men and women who made the folk songs of England, Ireland and Scotland, which were sung long before a word or a note of music was written. Even during the singing of our most familiar hymns you will see many people who, if a hymnbook is not available, seem unable to join in the singing. There are many things the newcomers to our country can teach us and evidently the ability to remember both words and music of a song is one of them.

That the committee in charge of the Sailors' Home are going to ask their fellow citizens to give a shower of linen, furniture, jam, pickles and anything useful in a house to help with the furnishing of the new home. Many people have furniture, perhaps too large for their house or out-of-date, stored away, and the committee hopes to have some of it given to help them in their enterprise.
