A number of delegates have arrived at the local hotels for the convention of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, to be held Wednesday and Thursday.

To Give Concert at Rockwood.
The Salvation Army Band will put on a concert at the Rockwood Hospital, on Tuesday evening. The band will render sacred selections, under the leadership of Bandmaster Horace Otten.

Walks Slippery.
The walks about the city were very slippery on Tuesday and men were engaged in spreading sand to prevent slipping. Those driving horses also experienced considerable trouble in keeping the animals from falling.

Children Given Treat.
Mr. W. O'Donnell treated the children of St. Mary's-of-the-Lake Orphanage to a sleighing party on New Year's afternoon. About eighty-five children were accommodated on three sleighs, and they thoroughly enjoyed their jolly ride through the city streets.

Death of An Infant.
The death of John Murray, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, 89 Queen street, occurred on Tuesday morning. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon from the residence of his parents to Cataragui cemetery. M. P. Keyes was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Boy Taken Home.
Lee Thompson, the five-year old son of Mr. Claude Thompson, of Bath, who broke his arm while sliding down hill, was brought to Kingston by Dr. Maybee, of Odessa, on Sunday, and underwent treatment in the Hotel Dieu. The break was slightly above the elbow. His parents took him home on Monday afternoon and he is reported to be very much improved.

New Sailor's Home.
The new Sailors' Home and Friendly Mission, which was opened recently to the transients of the city, is in need of furnishings and citizens who have any old furnishings might call at the home, which is situated in the old Provincial Hotel on Brock street. The tag day which was held recently, did not provide enough to carry out the extensive work anticipated by the ladies in charge, and the citizens are asked to help in any way possible.

Held A Euchre.
A very enjoyable and largely attended euchre was held Monday evening under the auspices of the Orphans' Guild, in the recreation hall, of the House of Providence. The convenors of the event, were Mrs. W. G. Bailey, and Mrs. W. D. Saghru. There were seventeen tables, with fourteen in play. The first prize for the ladies was won by Miss Gertrude Darragh. Six gentlemen tied for the gentlemen's first prize. Refreshments were served by the ladies at the conclusion of the games.

Crossed Over The Ice.
Despite the fact that the ice bridge between Wolfe Island and Kingston is in a very precarious condition, due to the mild weather of Monday and Tuesday, Oliver Hawkins of Wolfe Island crossed to Kingston with a horse and sleigh on Tuesday morning. He was forced to pick his way carefully and proceed slowly, and he stated that the ice was very thin in places and that air holes were numerous. The trip was made without breaking through the ice at any place, but it is not considered safe enough for heavy traffic, and the islanders are hoping for a cold spell to strengthen it. The Salvage Prince broke the ice in the harbor again on Monday afternoon and in places the ice showed to be nearly a foot thick.
