The Whig will be glad to have the names of visitors in town and accounts of various social events for publication in the social column.

All the courts were filled with players and little groups stood waiting their turn to play at the Saturday meeting of the Garrison Badminton Club in the Armouries.

Major and Mrs. Patrick Cuffe, King street, who are with the latter's mother, Mrs. Pauling, at Barrie, for the holiday season, have returned to town.

Miss Madele Wilson, who has been at "Densmore" for two weeks, will return to New York on Wednesday.

Miss Mamie Acheson, Brighton, is spending a few days at the Y.W.C.A. Mr. Alfred Dowdell, who has been with his mother, Mrs. Thomas Dowdell, "Densmore," for the holidays, returned to Lennoxville College on Sunday.

Miss Geraldine Daly returned to Montreal on Sunday from a visit to her sisters, Miss Daly and Miss Kathleen Lally, Albert street.

Dr. and Mrs. McFadyen, Alice street, gave their home on Saturday evening for a party given by Chalmers Church choir in honor of Mrs. J. E. C. Dobbs of which a full account is given on another page.

Miss Vera Lindsay has returned from New York and is at 243 Albert street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nicolle, Barrie street, are leaving Hamilton on Tuesday for California.

Mrs. Smith, who has been visiting her son, Mr. W. H. Smith, and Mrs. Smith, King street, has left for Montreal to visit her daughter.

At the opening of Parliament, Mrs. T. R. Little, formerly of Kingston, wore an imported gown of black lace with a corsage bouquet of orchids and violets.

Miss Eleanor Hamilton, Elgin, has returned to Notre Dame convent after spending the holidays at her home.

to take part in the deliberations of the League of Nations to make the world a safer place for the children of the nations, is a brilliant speaker, and is being heard twice to-day in Kingston on the subject of the working of Juvenile Courts.

That the present style of dress calls for an erect carriage. Does anything look worse than a woman in a straight line frock standing with all the weight of her body on one leg? The effect of her smart frock is entirely spoiled. It may or may not have good lines. No one can tell, for the skirt seems longer at one side than the other and the shoulders are not mates.

MISS LEMAR TELLS OF RIO JANEIRO Where She Is Principal of a Girls' School—Enjoyed Visit to Kingston.

"In three weeks I will be as hot as I can be," said Miss Mary Lemar on Saturday morning, while the snow drifted around the street corners and the blue waters of Lake Ontario were imprisoned under a foot of ice.

Miss Lemar, who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. J. B. McLeod, Alfred street, leaves on Tuesday en route for Rio Janeiro, South America, and will arrive at her destination in the height of the Brazilian summer.

Think of having Christmas in the middle of the summer holidays, wouldn't it seem strange? Bennett College, under the direction of the Southern Methodist church, is a girls' boarding school and day school. There are about seventy boarders, and from two hundred to two hundred and fifty pupils altogether.

"We have many girls of the better off class of Brazilians," said Miss Lemar, "girls whose mothers would not have dreamed of going to school to learn to teach."

"Will these girls teach?" Miss Lemar was asked, and she replied: "Many of them will. They have been going to Switzerland and to England when they pass from us, but now they are beginning to come to the United States and like our practical teaching." Bennett College prepares the girls for matriculation and there are also teachers' training classes taught by Miss Lemar.

That the Earl street robin has come forth from his winter quarters, and on Sunday morning early churchgoers heard his cheerful call for breakfast—one rather deep note and five notes a few tones higher. There is no mistaking the robin's call. No doubt he whistled later when he had found food. He is evidently not afraid of cold or snow, and probably did not go south at all, but sought a more sheltered place for a few months, and now, with a kindly remembrance of the crumbs and small pieces of raw meat that his Earl street friends gave him last year, thinks he will wait in Kingston for the spring he evidently thinks is on the way.

That the following resolution was passed at the December meeting of the Central Council of the Red Cross Society: "Resolved, That this council express its thanks to the daily, weekly and monthly press of the Dominion of Canada for its valuable support of the society's peace-time policy for the promotion of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering and for the liberal allotment of space to recording the various acts and endeavors of the society."

That whether you think Kingston needs a Juvenile Court or not, it is well to know all there is to know on the subject. Miss Whitton, the clever Renfrew girl who is an M.A. of Queen's, and has recently been chosen to be one of the few women colleges, and the Methodist church has six boys' and six girls' schools in smaller towns.

The Portuguese are very fond of music, and the National Conservatory of Music, being near, three teachers come in every day to teach music to the girls in the college. The National school of Fine Arts is also near at hand.

"I love the work," said Miss Lemar, "and it is quite worth while. I thoroughly enjoyed my visit to Kingston. I have been right royally entertained. I think everyone wants to play as well as to work and we try to make the girls all round well balanced women. I play bridge. Why shouldn't I? I don't get time when I am at work, but I love a game when I am on a holiday."

Luncheon Meat-Stuffed Peppers Wholewheat Bread Celery Cookies Tea

Dinner Ham-Vegetable Casserole Cheese-Rice Croquettes Fruit Salad Indian Pudding Sauce Coffee

NEW DISHES THIS WEEK. Ham-Vegetable Casserole: Quarter one medium-sized head of cabbage and cut each quarter in chunks. Place this in a buttered casserole (or any baking dish which has a cover) and add one-half cup of washed but uncooked rice, one cup of diced raw turnip, five large onions peeled and sliced, two cups of raw diced carrots, two cups of diced celery, and a quart can of tomatoes. Make a hole in the centre of this mixture and in it place the hock end of a ham (skin removed). Add a small muslin bag filled with six whole cloves, six peppercorns, one teaspoon of celery seed, and a piece of a bay leaf. Cover all with boiling water, put on cover, and slip the dish into a moderate oven to bake for three hours. Serve in the same dish.

Candied Sweet Potatoes: Boil sweet potatoes in their skins till tender, then rub off the skins, slice each potato lengthwise, and place in a buttered pan. Cover with bits of butter, sprinkle thickly with brown sugar and lightly with a little ground cinnamon, and slip the dish into a hot oven to bake till a rich brown. Serve hot.

Wholewheat Muffins: Beat together one-eight of a cup of granulated sugar, one egg-yolk and one cup of sweet, cold milk. Add one-half cup of white bread flour sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder, then add one cup of whole-wheat flour. Last, stir in two tablespoons of melted butter and fold in one stiffly-whipped egg-white. Bake in greased muffin pans for 25 minutes in a hot oven.

Drawing Room of Their Excellencies

Ottawa, Jan. 11—Gathered from all parts of Canada and including the usual large local quota, citizens of the Dominion to the number of nearly nine hundred attended the drawing room held in the Senate chamber on Saturday evening by Their Excellencies the Governor-General Baron Byng of Vimy and Thorne-El-Soken and the Lady Byng. It was a large drawing room and considerably more attended than last year.

Most regal in bearing was Her Excellency in a handsome gown of rich black satin, entirely embroidered with diamonds and jet. Her Excellency wore a diamond tiara of a Russian style and other diamond ornaments, that encircled her neck and arms or were attached to the bodice. The Orders of St. John of Jerusalem and that of Queen Elizabeth of Belgium were also worn.

A number of young Canadian daughters of prominent families, who are guests at Government House, were the first to be presented, then followed a few young men guests at Government House, Miss Eva Sandford, secretary to Her Excellency, came next and after her the wives of the members of the Governor-General's staff, Mr. Arthur Sladen, Mrs. H. W. Snow and Mrs. H. Willis O'Connor.

The Misses Cockshutt, daughter of the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, were the first of Government House guests to be presented, then followed Miss Lola Dunsmuir of British Columbia, Miss M. Currie, daughter of Sir Arthur and Lady Currie, Miss Moleson and Miss Elizabeth Morsall of Quebec, and Miss Margaret Kerrland Mackenzie, of Toronto, Mr. Harold Armstrong who is here from Toronto, visiting at Government House, followed with Mr. W. B. Hendrie and Mr. George Hendrie of Toronto, and Gentleman Cadet, Riley of Winnipeg.

Meanwhile the galleries became filled with the handsomely gowned women and their male escorts, while others took their places on each side of the Senate chamber to watch the presentations. It was a lovely scene of beauty and brilliance, the white feathers and veils worn by most of the ladies present adding a touch of dignity.
