TO BROADCAST KIWANIS CLUB ADDRESSES ON MONDAY NIGHT

Station CFMC of the Monarch Storage Battery Will Send Out the Programme—Radio is Coming into its Own in Kingston, Giving Service and Pleasure to Thousands.

Radio is coming into its own in Kingston. We have baseball, football and hockey fans, and now we have radio fans.

Radio fans in Kingston can now be numbered among the thousands, and it will not be long before radio sets are as common as the telephone, with one in nearly every house.

As is well-known, Kingston has two broadcasting stations—CFRC at Queen's University and CFMC, of the Monarch Storage Battery Company, and they have both been giving excellent service.

An announcement of great importance was made to-day, when the news was given out that Station CFMC, operated by the Monarch Storage Battery Company, will broadcast the "big doings" at the Kiwanis Club's birthday party, to be held in the Frontenac Hotel on Monday night. Mr. Frank J. Hoag, the first president of the local Kiwanis Club will preside at this gathering and his address will be broadcasted as well as other prominent speakers who have been secured for the occasion.

As a result of the broadcasting of this programme, many Kingstonsians will be able to sit in their homes and hear all the addresses, and President C. Hanley, and his officers are more than pleased over the action taken by The Monarch Storage Battery Company.

This will mark the first time in Kingston, for broadcasting addresses from local service clubs, and the feature is creating a good deal of interest.

It is stated that the broadcasting of musical programmes had a lot to do with getting the people interested in radio. There are many music-lovers in Kingston, and they are always very anxious to "tune in" when a big musical event is being sent out from some of the stations.

Football fans found the radio of great service to them last fall for all the games in which Queen's team was engaged. All the games at outside points were broadcasted, as well as the games played in the Stadium here, and friends of the famous rugby team all over the continent, had the pleasure, thanks to the wonderful invention, Radio, to get all the particulars of the games while they were in progress.

When radio first came into the limelight, it was believed by many that it was merely a fad, and that it would not last long. That it is here to stay, is a certainty.

There is something to meet the wants of everyone over the Radio. In the early evening, there are the bedtime stories, later on the musical programme, news of the day, topics of agriculture for the farmers, special features, etc., forming one big treat.

The hockey matches in the professional leagues are also broadcasted and this is looked upon as a big thing by the followers of these hockey games.

That Radio is playing a big part in the world of to-day, is a fact that no person will take issue with. It is giving service in many ways, as well as pleasure, and is attracting more interest every day.

STORY-TELLING HOUR IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Children Taking Great Interest in This New Feature at Public Library.

The children's story-telling hour, which has recently been opened at the library, is proving to be a success in every way. Not only has the number of children attending increased during the last month but the interest and enthusiasm among the school children is increasing, much to the gratification of Mrs. Kennedy.

The first story in connection with the recently opened class for third and fourth book children is meeting with the approval of parents and school teachers, who are urging the pupils to attend. Mrs. Kennedy, who conducts this hour, tells only myths connected with the history of Rome, Greece and some early Canadian history. It is thought that this should be a great help to the children in the study of history, in school. The association of a story with the hard facts of history will tend to lighten this subject for the minds of those who do not naturally take to it. This is the aim of the library story-hour, and it is hoped that those interested in the library, that parents will continue to urge their children to attend.

LOCAL HOTELMEN HAVE NOT BEEN APPROACHED

Regarding Their Opinion on Question of Government Control.

It was reported from a Western Ontario City on Friday, that a party was going the rounds of the various cities interviewing the hotelkeepers and sending them out on the question of government control. One report also stated that the party was working in the interests of the Ontario government, but this was denied by Premier Ferguson.

When interviewed by the Whig on Friday a local hotelkeeper stated that the local hotelmen had not been approached about the matter.

BOOK REVIEW.

A Man Under Authority, by Ethel M. Dell. The Ryerson Press, Toronto. $2.

Admirers of Miss Ethel M. Dell's wonderful powers of writing will welcome this great new story by her. It is her finest piece of work, written in that romantic and sympathetic vein for which she is famous. She shows how the great drama of love and life goes on wherever human beings are gathered together; how noble impulses and yearnings war with petty jealousies and hatreds; how each man influences his neighbor for weal or for woe; how love inevitably begets love. Into the life of the village of Rickaby, smiling serenely in the spring sunshine, there enters an alien presence, a beautiful woman from another world, with a different set of ideas. The currents and counter-currents of human feeling which she sets in motion form the basis of this fascinating story.

Had Her Leg Broken. Naud Buckley, twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. Levi Buckley, met with an unfortunate accident at her home near Berlin, Wednesday, while sleigh-riding when she fractured her right leg. The fracture was X-rayed in Belleville, after which the fracture was reduced.

MANUFACTURERS' LIFE EXPANDS GREATLY

New Business in 1925 Amounted to Over Sixty-five Millions.

A remarkable expansion is indicated by the thirty-ninth annual report of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Company, as submitted to policyholders and shareholders at the annual meeting held on the 21st instant.

Another record in new assurances was established, the new business for 1925 being in excess of sixty-five million dollars bringing the insurance in force to approximately three hundred and twenty million dollars. The assets of the Company increased by over six and three-quarter million dollars and at the end of December amounted to slightly less than sixty million dollars. The Company continued to invest its funds in government and high-class municipal bonds and first mortgages on improved real estate at satisfactory rates of interest.

Payments to policyholders also constituted a record. The death claim amounted to $1,809,989; matured policies, annuities, etc., $5,518,498, and dividends to policyholders $1,198,798, making a total of $8,527,285. It is interesting to note that the dividends to policyholders amounted to 75 p.c. of the death claim payments. In addition to the above the company set aside $1,313,702, as dividends to policyholders to be paid during 1926.

The surplus of the company including contingency reserve and reserve for dividends to policyholders amounts to over seven and one-quarter million dollars.

The commodious new head office of the company on Floor street, east, Toronto, formally opened by the Canadian High Commissioner in August last, has growing comfortably the business of this growing institution.
