It was entirely as it should be that the Assembly Hall of the Eastern Dairy School was decked with flowers on Tuesday evening for the Horticultural Society was giving its first dance and a very pleasant one it was.

As each guest entered the room, Mrs. Emily Crawford, smartly frocked in pale coral pink georgette, beaded, presented them with a bouquet of daffodils. Bridge was played in one of the class rooms and in the fine hall the guests danced to the excellent music of the Melody Kings Orchestra.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

BISHOP'S MILLS.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Edward Weir, on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. G. Atkinson presided, and over thirty members and visitors were present.

A splendid exhibit of the work done by the Girls' Garment-Making Club was shown. The class has been busy at work, accomplishing much, and receiving an excellent elementary training in sewing, under the direction of Miss Lucy McLelland and with the co-operation of the public school teacher, Miss M. Wilson.

A conundrum contest was conducted by Miss E. Powell. For guessing the most correct answers, the first prize was awarded to Mrs. A. Greer, ex-president of the W.I. of Oxford Mills, who was a visitor at the meeting. The second prize was won by Mrs. W. S. Render, ex-president of the Bishop's Mills W.I. Piano solos were rendered by Mrs. A. Weir and Miss E. Powell, and were much appreciated. The meeting was closed with the National Anthem.

GLENBURNIE.

The January meeting of the Glenburnie Institute was held at the home of Mrs. George Patterson when satisfactory reports were heard, the treasurer's financial report being particularly gratifying, especially the announcement that the quilt, donated by Mrs. C. Kemp, had brought in $35. The members of the Institute will meet the members of the progressive committee to discuss making further improvements in the Glenburnie hall. Correspondence was read from the district secretary, Mrs. G. W. McNaughton regarding a lady from the Department of Agriculture who would give a course in the early summer and it was decided to have this course given. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, and then progressive euche was played. Mrs. R. Joyner winning the prize. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. Moores on Tuesday, Feb. 11th.

St. George's Cathedral W.A.

The annual meeting was held on Tuesday. Most excellent reports were given, particularly from the treasurer. From the various branches over $1,000 has been raised for missions. The president of the Juniors, Norma Eccles, gave a remarkably good report, and the treasurer, Elsie Kershaw, a most business-like one. Rev. W. E. Kidd was present and spoke kindly words of appreciation and grateful thanks to the various officers.

The voting by ballot resulted in the following: President, Mrs. Gardner; secretary, Mrs. C. S. Kirkpatrick; first vice-president, Mrs. H. P. Lowe; second vice-president, Mrs. Rees; treasurer, Miss E. Sutherland; Dorcas secretary, Mrs. F. B. Deach; Living Message secretary, Mrs. Cecil Boyd; Little Helpers secretary, Miss Edith Ritchie; Thankoffering secretary, Mrs. W. Sawyer; delegate to the annual meeting at Brockville, Mrs. F. E. Dench. While the scrutineers were busy, Miss Kidd, who has recently returned from Dr. Grenfell's Labrador mission, gave an interesting talk. She has been there eighteen months, and told of the varied features of the work. In the presence of sympathy and thanks were passed, also a message of congratulation to Bath on the rebuilding and consecration of their church.

The Editor Hears

That enough goes into the garbage pail of many homes to feed another family just because the housekeeper will not take the trouble to make over the cold meat the odds and ends of vegetables, etc. In such colleges as Macdonald College at Guelph and at St. Anne de Bellevue, the girls learn how to make the most appetizing dishes out of "left overs." On Tuesday afternoon, Miss Gertrude McKelvey, a graduate of the former college, gave a most interesting talk and demonstration at the Y.W.C.A. in which she told a large class of women and girls, just what to do to make the remains of a dinner into delicious delicacies for luncheon or supper.

That the knitted frock or suit, so useful for outings, will be worn again this year. The knitted sweater and the pleated skirt will also be much worn on the golf links, and for tennis or boating. The knitted frock was a great discovery. It wears wonderfully, is smart and becoming, it does not hold the dust, does not crush and looks as well after an all day motor trip as it did when the wearer donned it in the morning.

That the late Cardinal Mercier, the grand old man of the Roman Catholic church, before he passed away, wrote with his own hand a religious will, addressed to the Anglican Archbishop of Canterbury. The details of this document have not yet been made public, but as it was written shortly after the visit to the cardinal of Lord Halifax, president of the Anglican church union, it is believed that it has reference to the question of a union between the Roman and Anglican churches, for which the cardinal long had been working.

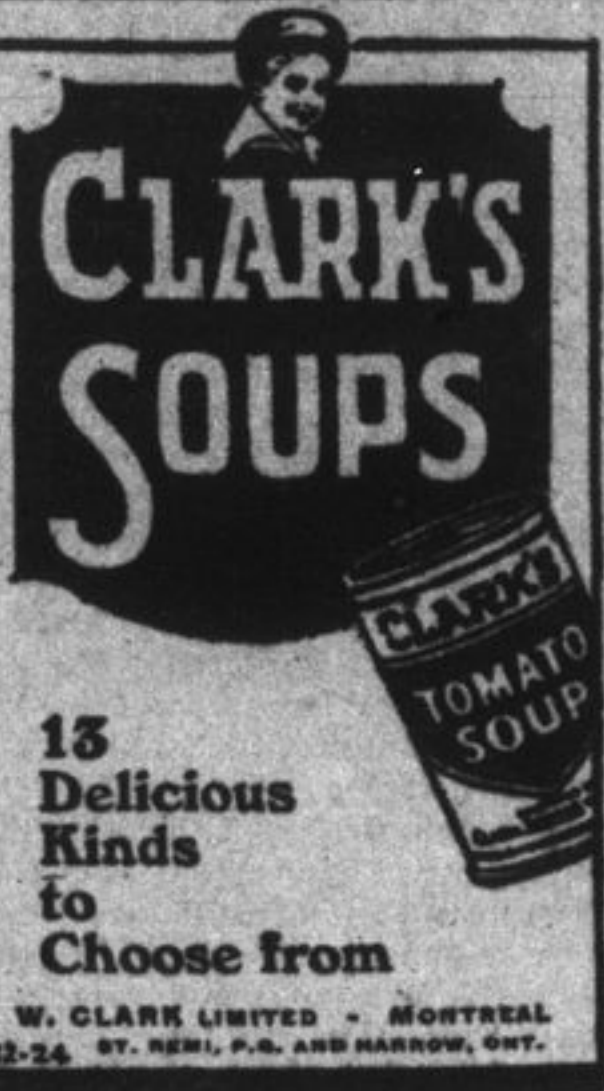

That Miss Christabel Pankhurst, who has been in Kingston several times, is now assisting Mrs. Mabel Tuke, another suffragette of international fame, in running a tea room at Cannes, France. A correspondent says she makes an excellent cup of tea with her beautiful hands. She says she is only acting as waitress while she is writing a new book.

That a solemn warning has been given to women with grey hair not to be too great a hurry to have it dyed. Madame Hudson, of New York, a leading authority on beauty culture, told the crowds which attended the first annual Exhibition of the National Hair Dressers Association of Canada that a woman with grey hair accentuated her age when she changed the color of her hair, emphasizing any wrinkles or lines she might have, or imperfections of the skin.

University Women Fete Miss Whitton

Miss Charlotte Whitton, who sails in March to represent Canada at the Geneva Child Welfare committee meetings, is being feted to-day by the University Club women whom she addresses.

From a communication just received from the League of Nations office at Geneva we quote the following which tells what is expected of her there: "When she comes to Geneva in March, Miss Whitton's work will have to do with the protection of children from an international point of view. The Child Welfare Committee takes the normal child as the basis of its study and emphasizes the constructive side of child welfare, at least as strongly as the question of protecting children from adverse influences or exploitations. In order to assist governments and to promote international co-operation, a comparison is made of the methods and experiences of different countries in dealing with the problem and consultation and exchange of views take place between the officials and experts of different countries. The committee's subjects of most interest in Canada are perhaps the law relating to the protection of life and health in early infancy and the effect of the cinematograph on the physical and moral well-being of children. A study is also being made of the effect of family allowances on the physical and moral well-being of children and on the birth rate and infant mortality rate. An international convention is now projected for the assistance or repatriation of foreign children who are abandoned, neglected or delinquent. The committee co-operates with the League Health Organization and the International Labor Office in order to improve the situation of children in distress and provide for the adequate physical and moral education of the younger generation. Miss Whitton is not now to be the sole representative from North and South America. As both United States, Canada and the South American countries protested to Geneva over a single representative, the League has reconsidered. At its December meeting three new assessors were appointed. As announced on this page before, they are: United States, Miss Julia Lathrop; South America, Don Ismael Valdes, of the Pan-American Child Welfare Conference, has devoted most of his life to the social service work of Chile; and Mademoiselle Helen Burniaux, the representative of the International Federation of Trade Unions, has been
