To enter the city buildings from the bitter winter night and to be transported in fancy to the mystic land of the East, where men in the fies and gay costumes of the land of the Pararchs, gowned in blue and green georgette and greeted their fur-cloaked guests in the hall, was the unique experience of the hundreds of people who attended the Shrine Charity Ball on Thursday evening. At the entrance to the ballroom the guests were received by Mrs. John McKay, who was handsomely gowned in black and silver; Mrs. Claud Gordon, who wore black satin; Mrs. Harry Wilder, wearing a frock of tomato crepe and cut velvet; Mrs. R. J. Gardiner, gowned in blue and green georgette and satin, headed in crystals, and Mrs. Harold Davis, wearing a black beaded gown. The star, the crescent and the scimitar were much in evidence in the windows, and from the platform, where colored lights threw a rosy glow on the pretty scene and tall palm were reminiscent of the East, Sid Fox and His Serenaders played most inspiring music. The gay frocks of the ladies and the scarlet sashes worn by the men, as well as the striking costume of the members of Ramesses' Patrol, made the scene in Ontario Hall a brilliant one.

Supper was served in Memorial Hall from a table arranged in a square and decorated with tall yellow candles in brass candelabra. In the centre of the square on a table was a miniature temple in the form of a cake decorated with the Shrine Symbols and the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, and a placid figure of Buddha gazed with contemplative eyes on the Kingstons and their guests. On the platform was a banner and the Ramesses' Patrol. The dainty confections, and indeed all the good things at the buffet supper, were made by Mr. and Mrs. Walker, who are in charge of the Masonic Temple.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson, the latter wearing black tulle crepe; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Smithies, the latter in a frock of blue georgette and silver; Mr. and Mrs. G. Cavin, who was in mauve georgette, beaded; Mr. and Mrs. W. Linton, who wore mauve; Mr. and Mrs. H. Harvey Milne, who was in black satin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. d'Esterre,

Is Your Child Thin and Weak?

Cod Liver Extract in Sugar Coated Tablets Puts On Flesh and Builds Them Up

In just a few days—quicker than you ever dreamed of—these wonderful health building, flesh creating tablets called McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets will start to help any thin, underweight little one.

After sickness and where rickets are suspected they are especially valuable. Most people know that from the livers of the lowly codfish vitamins of the first class are extracted—the kind that help all feeble, underweight men, women and children.

Try these wonderful tablets for 30 days and if your frail, puny child don't greatly benefit—get your money back.

A very sickly child, age 3, gained 12 pounds in 2 months. Ask Jas. B. McLeod, Mahood's Drug Store, Branigan's Drug Store, or any drugists for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—as easy to take as candy and 50 tablets, 50 cents.

The people who had received an invitation couched in verse to the birthday party held at the House of Providence on Thursday afternoon in honor of the sixteenth birthday of the Orphans Guild, turned out splendidly in spite of the storm and brought with them as many cents as they numbered years enclosed in sealed envelopes which they handed to Miss Shaw, the treasurer as they entered. They were received by kindly Mother Ursula and Miss Agnes Doolan, the president of the Guild. Mauve and yellow decorations were in the reception room and the same color scheme was carried out on the table centred with a birthday cake and adorned with daffodils and tall yellow candles. The tea was in charge of Mrs. W. G. Bailey, Mrs. D. Fitz Gibbon, Mrs. A. Martin, Mrs. A. McConville, Mrs. A. Simpson and Mrs. A. C. Smith assisted by Mrs. T. J. Murphy, Mrs. W. Malden, Mrs. F. can bring a definite statement from Canada. We believe and we hope but have no statistics on many parts of the work. Research work was another field in which there were great opportunities, and good salaries for women, who were ready to begin at the bottom of the ladder. "I would say, fit yourselves to take secretarial positions, learn stenography and be fit for office work and as a secretary you will learn the work of the department you choose." These and other ideas were suggested to girls who were thinking of a career, but Miss Whitton paused before she spoke of what she said was the real and vital part of the various religious and semi-religious organizations working side by side for the betterment of the human race, the actual work with those they are helping. She warned the girls that they would see human nature in a bad light, that the social worker was not called in until there was something wrong and that they must have a deep and abiding faith in the personality of the human beings they were called upon to deal with and in the real goodness that lies somewhere in the heart of man.

The speaker referred to the Council for Social Service of the Church of England in Canada, of the Social Service Council of the United Church, and of the Continuing Presbyterian Church and felt the girls could find work within their own church. She dwelt on the immigration of children and spoke strongly of the children brought out from large institutions or from crowded cities and placed on farms, miles from anywhere, with perhaps an elderly couple as their sole companions. In a recent case of suicide of a boy, it was found he had no money of his own, he was given five cents a week to put on the collection plate on Sunday. "Imagine what a waste of a time he would have, putting five cents on the plate once a week."

The saving of children, the work of the Y.W.C.A., the supervised playgrounds and the positions in connection with the Mothers' Allowance and the Delinquent Act were all open to women. Women had an intuition and a sympathy needed for such work. "But," said this girl gravely, "Don't go into it lightly. Don't go into it unless you go to help a human being like yourself, who has not been able to adjust the circumstances of life as well as you have. Strive for faith in humanity, pray for it and say to yourself, "But for the grace of God, there go I."

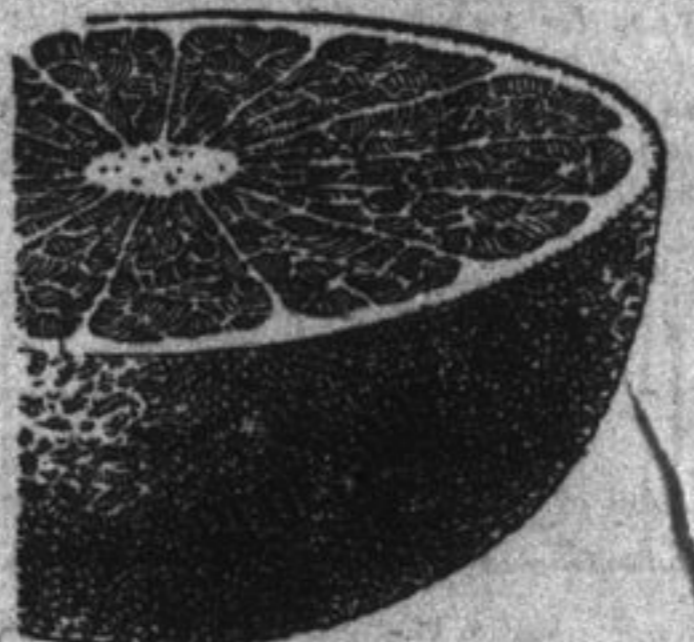

Kingston Company, Girl Guides. At our meeting on Monday, Miss Jones, the Guide from England visited our company. Mrs. Bogart was with her. Miss Jones conducted the meeting and gave us many helpful ideas. She found our company very neat and orderly. During the meeting Miss Jones played several games with us which provided a great deal of amusement, after which she explained to us why we were Guides and what was our duty as Guides. She encouraged us to work for badges and to frequently review the tests we had already passed so that we might always "Be Prepared."

All the Guides enjoyed the meeting very much and we feel Miss Jones has aroused a great deal of enthusiasm which will not quickly fade away. The meeting closed with the Guides singing "O Canada" and "Taps."

Women Use Then dispose of this new hygienic help easily as tissue—no laundry

WOMEN by the millions are discarding the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new and scientific way. A way that offers protection unknown before. A way, too, that solves the old embarrassment of disposal. It is called "KOTEX." Eight in 10 better-class women now employ it. Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment. It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads! You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheers frocks without a second's doubt or fear. It deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL danger of offending. You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX." Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Package of twelve costs only a few cents.
