Answers to Saturday's Crossword Puzzle. THE LATE MRS. W. CARSWELL. Passed Away at Matawatchesan and Sincerely Regretted. Matawatchesan, Jan. 28.—The all-powerful "Messenger of Death," that human skill cannot avert, was on Saturday, Jan. 23rd, the means of creating a home of sadness, when the wife and mother was borne away to her eternal rest. The lady in question was Mrs. William Carswell, a life long resident of this community, who by her passing, has left a void, not only in her immediate household but in the community as well, as nearly every family in the settlement can claim relationship, and those who do not, have indeed lost a true and warm hearted friend and neighbor. Her name will long dwell as a pleasant memory. The late Mrs. Carswell had been ailing for the past three months, when pneumonia developed about three weeks ago and, despite all medical care, the spark of life gradually grew dimmer until it finally fled. Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn her demise, five daughters and three sons, who are: (Maggie) Mrs. Jack Strong and (Nettie) Mrs. George Gilmour, David and William of Fernie, B.C.; Alexander, Harris, Sask.; (Annie) Mrs. E. Tamblesau, Renfrew, and Alice and Katharine at home, the two latter and Alexander being the only ones present when her spirit took its flight. Mrs. Patrick Carswell, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Jack Carswell, William Thompson, Alex Thompson and Colin Thompson are sisters and brothers, being children of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson. Had Mrs. Carswell lived until March 16th, she would have attained the age of sixty years, thirty-seven of which were spent in wedlock, her marriage to Mr. Carswell taking place on April 16th, 1888. An exceptionally large assembly was present at her late home, Tuesday, when the funeral obsequies were ably conducted by Rev. P. A. Scott, Denbigh, who gave a very impressive sermon, his text being Corinthisians XIII. The hymns were old favorites, "Nearer My God to Thee," "Rock of Ages" and "In the Sweet By and By." At the close of the touching ceremony, and while hymn, "When Mother Prays," was softly sung by Rev. Mr. Scott and Mrs. Thomas Strong, her sorrowing relatives and friends filed in to the Chamber of Death, to view for the last time, all that what mortal of their dear one. Her three brothers and three brothers-in-law, William, Alex and Colin, and Patrick Carswell, Jack Carswell and Robert Thompson bore the remains to the family plot in the cemetery here, to be laid beside her two children who passed away in childhood.
