TO DRAFT DOCUMENT SETTING FORTH AIMS

Of a National Alumni Association at Re-Union to Be Held in Kingston.

At a meeting of the general campaign committee of the Queen's Endowment Fund, held Thursday afternoon, in the Douglas Library, it was decided that a document be drafted, setting out the aims and objects of a National Alumni Association, with officers to be elected at the re-union in Kingston, to be held between November 24th and 26th this year. Prof. Graham was appointed chairman of a sub-committee, with power to appoint its members and to report back later to the general campaign committee. Prof. D. McArthur was in the chair and those present were Principal Dr. R. Bruce Taylor, Judge H. A. Lavell, Mr. H. J. Melkley, John W. E. McNeil, the Very Rev. Dr. McGillivray, Dean Matheson, Prof. S. M. Graham, Prof. M. B. Zakor, Prof. C. J. MacKay, Miss Birch, (Alumnae Association), J. S. McDonnell, (Athletic Board of Control) and S. Stalford, campaign director.

It was decided to issue as part of the campaign literature, a booklet exclusively with Queen's athletic achievements past and present. Judge Lavell and Prof. Baker were appointed a sub-committee to assist the publicity staff in the preparation of this booklet.

Prof. M. B. Baker, chairman of the general re-union committee, reported that he had waited upon Mayor T. B. Angrove, suggesting co-operation with the general campaign committee at the general re-union in the fall. His Worship has assured him of the sympathy of the civic authority, with the aims of the campaign and that every assistance would be given to make every feature in the re-union a success.

Dr. L. J. Austin, professor of surgery, who has just returned from Montreal, where he addressed a meeting of the Alumnae Association, on behalf of the campaign, was appointed a member of the general campaign committee.

Following upon enquiries made with respect to the desirability of forming organization districts in the north country, it was decided that additional branches be formed at Timmins, Hatleybury and Sudbury.

BOOKS

"Maple Leaves and Sprigs of Heather" by Mack (J. H. MacIntyre). The Ryerson Press, Toronto. Price $2.

Canadians who are proud of their descent from Scottish ancestors will be interested in a book of verses by "Mack." Written for the most part in broad Scots and by a Scottish Canadian, Mr. J. H. MacIntyre, the official bard of the Middlesex and Elgin Caledonian Society, they will have strong appeal for men and women of Scotch blood. Not far from Kingston are the men of Glenagarry who will revel in the homely rhymes telling of the life in a Scotch settlement. A deep religious feeling pervades many of the verses such as "Sabbath Morn in a Native Glen," and other poems show a touch of dry Scotch humor. The appeal of the changing Canadian seasons, the first lilac blossoms, the glowing colors of autumn foliage are described, and for those who remember the heather-clad hills of Scotland there are songs of the homeland. "Our Noble Pioneers" is a tribute to the men and women who faced the unknown hardships of a strange land to bring the splendid contribution of their Scotch blood of the people of Canada.

DR. ADAMS' RESIDENCE AT DENBIGH BURNED

Almost All the Contents Were Saved by Neighbors Who Assembled.

Denbigh, Feb. 12.—About 11 o'clock, Wednesday morning, Feb. 12th, an alarm was given from Dr. Adams' that his residence was on fire. In a few minutes a crowd of men and women gathered, and seeing that it was impossible to save the building, they began carrying out the furniture, etc. Before the roof fell in, almost the entire contents of house had been rescued from the flames. It is thought the fire originated from a spark from the chimney as it was first noticed in the attic and roof. Both houses and contents were insured. Dr. and Mrs. Adams are moving into the home vacated by Mrs. M. Ready, Kingston, until further arrangements can be made.

The weather is much colder the past few days and we were treated with a light fall of snow making sleighing some better.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Faulk also L. Thompson and Miss Adams, Slat Falls, were Sunday visitors at E. W. Petzold's. Little Ethel Petzold spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. A. Faulk.

LADS AND THEIR DADS AT A JOLLY BANQUET

Successful Event Held in Queen Street Sunday School on Friday Night.

In connection with the C.S.E.T. "Father and Son Week," a father and son banquet was held in Queen Street Sunday School on Friday evening. A spirit of good fellowship pervaded the banquet table, which was very sumptuously provided by the ladies of Class 27. The lads and their dads were waited on by one of the classes of the Sunday School, composed of young ladies. After a very witty programme of toasts, which was supervised by Mr. C. Williams, in a very capable manner, Mr. Will Cooke, Y.M.C.A. national secretary, the speaker of the evening, was called on. Mr. Cooke, who is a very fluent speaker, kept his audience in a humorous mood by his witty stories. He spoke of the need of a closer relationship between father and son, at the adolescent stage, in the growth of the youth. The youth of the country, declared the speaker, are the men of tomorrow, and their destiny depended on their upbringing.

The following is the toast list of the evening, the speakers, the greater number of who were boys, delivering splendid addresses:

"Our Country," proposed by Kenneth Kleinstantner and replied to by Mr. Fraser.

"The Church," proposed by William Norman and responded to by Rev. W. H. Raney.

"The C.S.E.T. Programme," proposed by Fred Norman and responded to by Mr. W. Kating, chairman of the Boys' Work Board for Kingston.

"Our Fathers," proposed by George Nash, and responded to by Chief Armstrong, who wound up a very witty address by the remark, "although my hair is grey I am still a boy in spirit."

"Our Lads," proposed by Dr. C. C. Nash, and responded to by Mr. Paynter.

"The Visitors," proposed by Ralph Connolly, and responded to by Freeman Waugh, who was present as a guest from St. Andrew's Taxis Square.

"The Ladies," proposed by Reginald Hanna, and responded to by Mrs. Shurtliff.

The speaker of the evening, Mr. Cooke, was introduced by Mr. M. Haslow, Y.M.C.A. general secretary for Kingston.
