RADIO "BLOOPER" BUSY IN KINGSTON

This is The Pest Who Does Not Know How to Tune In.

The "blooper," the curse of radio, is very busy in Kingston at present. Many fans are complaining about this pest, whose name is legion. The "blooper" by way of explanation is the operator of a regenerative set, who does not know how to tune in and as a result emits a series of squeaks from his antenna and thus keeps his neighbors from enjoying a concert or speech to which they happen to be listening at the time.

One local radio dealer declared that the "blooper" was injuring his business, and that unless something was done and done right away, his business would rapidly go on the down grade. He states that whenever he goes to demonstrate a set to a prospective customer he gets nothing but one squeak after another and as a result he makes no sale.

The question of educating the public, he thought, was a most urgent one, for this nuisance has increased very rapidly during the past winter which has been a very bad one for radio fans. In large cities, both in the United States and in Europe, the "blooper" is hunted down ruthlessly. He seems to enjoy the squeak more than the programme and hence the trouble with the enthusiastic fan who is after the music.

One difficulty in connection with "the blooper" is that he is not always aware that he is "blooping," for on some sets he may be getting a programme and at the same time sending out the squeak; this however can be remedied by a little education. This nuisance can also be remedied by the co-operation of all radio fans in the city in giving the "blooper" to understand that everybody knows that he is "blooping" and he will soon quit.

DR. HASTINGS STRONG FOR PASTEURIZATION

Toronto's Medical Officer of Health Gives Opinion in a Special Report.

"The safeguarding of a municipal milk supply is as important, if not more so, than the safeguarding of the water supply. A municipality would be no more justified in not enforcing the pasteurization of all milk not coming from tuberculin tested herds and up to the standard of certified milk, than they would be in not requiring the filtration or chlorination, or both, of their contaminated water supplies."

The above is what Dr. Charles J. Hastings, medical officer of health at Toronto, and regarded as an authority on such matters, has to say in a recent report published, and which has special reference to pasteurization. Dr. Hastings is a very strong advocate of pasteurization and what he has to say on the matter should be of special interest to Kingstonians, now that the subject is in the limelight.

In his report Dr. Hastings states that the situation regarding compulsory pasteurization of all except the highest grade of milk sold in that city is extremely satisfactory. At the time the report was issued about 99 per cent. of the city's supply was being efficiently pasteurized. In his report Dr. Hastings also states:

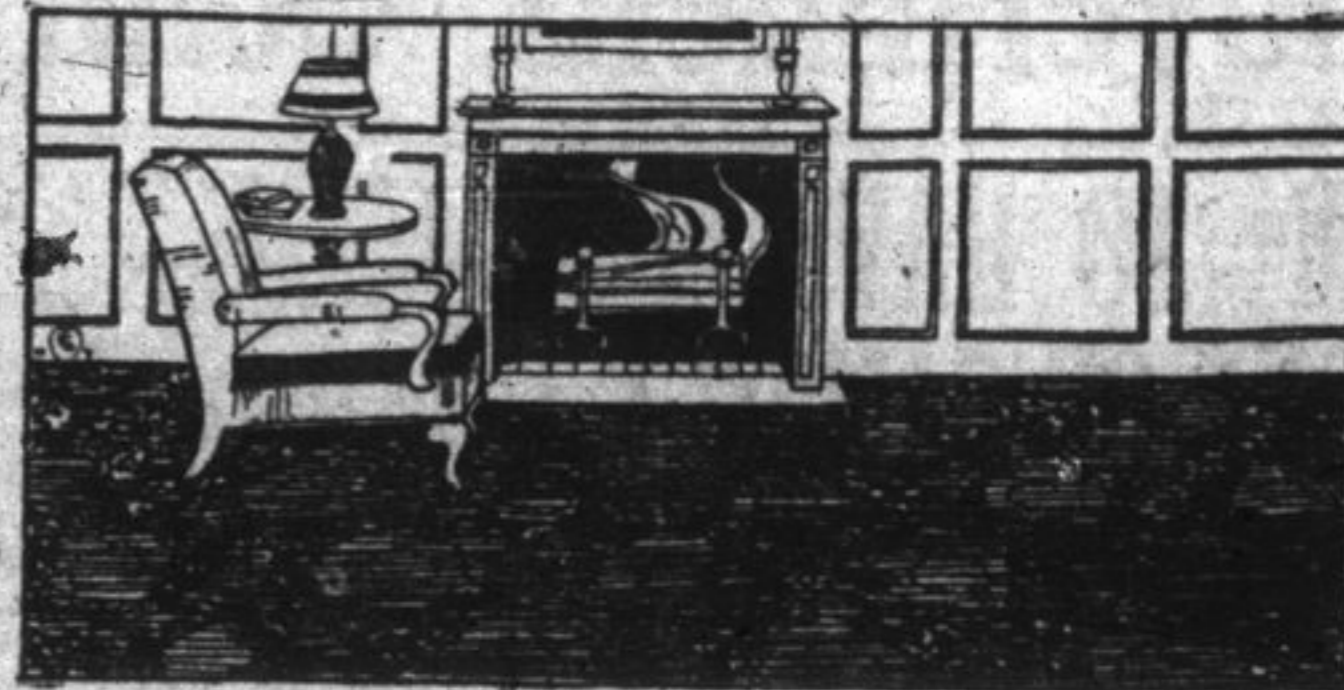

"With such overwhelming evidence of the dangers of the transmission of diseases through milk, the problem confronting the departments of Health is—how most efficiently to remove these dangers? The united opinions of those who have for years been studying the relation of milk to diseases, is that there are only two kinds of milk that should be permitted by any health officer to be sold for human consumption. These are certified milk and inspected, scientifically pasteurized milk. We use the term, 'scientifically pasteurized,' to distinguish it from the various commercial forms of pasteurization that have been used in the past."

Dr. Hastings says that no one who has been making a scientific study of the milk question, has within recent years, questioned for a moment the advisability of the pasteurization of all milk, for infants and children, that does not come from a herd that has been shown to be free from tuberculosis, or that has not been procured under conditions necessary for the production of certified milk.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

ATHENS.

The February meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Saturday last, a goodly number being in attendance. As is customary here, the "Women's Institute Carol" was used in opening the meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. G. E. Judson, president, with the secretary, Mrs. D. L. Johnston, at her side. Under the head of business, the forthcoming class in millinery was discussed, over a score of ladies having signified their intention of joining the class. An oratorical contest is being planned for the district, and the local and contiguous schools are to contest here on the evening of the 26th of March, the winner to contest against the winners from other points, later.

A splendid paper on, "The Background of Canadian Women" was read by Mrs. Upham, which gave much ground for thought. As a picture must have a background, so the present depends upon the background of the past. Our Canada, the land of promise, a veritable "Promised Land" is the result of the heroic endeavors of Cartier, La Salle, Madeline de Vercheres, Laura-See-secord and others. The agencies which have made possible the achievements of the present are the home, the school, the vocation, the church and the state. Many a dear old "Stay-at-Home" has, by bitter privations, daring struggles, heart-breaking pain, made it easier for those who followed. This is woman's age. Years ago the doors of opportunity creaked on their hinges if women sought to enter, but now all doors stand wide open. Many places are clamoring, "Send us women."

The right woman can go anywhere, can do anything, and come back smiling. The great need is that women be models of purity, and decorum, that we may weave ourselves into the woof of tomorrow. To keep in touch with the great world outside, this branch frequently gives space to "Current Events," this item being in charge, this month, of Mrs. W. A. Eaton, who had a great sheaf of important events to speak of.

"Using odds and ends of food" was the practical topic in charge. Mrs. G. W. Beach, who gave personal experience concerning the conservation of food. Others added their quota of information, on request. Two pleasing musical solos were contributed, one, a vocal solo by Mrs. Harte, the other, a difficult piano solo by Miss Rhodes, of the high school staff.

A treat is in store when, on March 27th, Rev. C. J. Curtis is to speak of "The women of the Modern world," and, as he has gained his knowledge at first hand, from an extended residence in the Orient, his address will be most enlightening.

Plans are in progress, whereby Group III. of the Women's Institute will present an interesting programme in the town hall, on the evening of March 17th, the proceeds to be devoted to Institute purposes.
