

OLD ST. ANDREW'S HOLDS ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Thomas Eakin, D.D., Principal of Knox College, Toronto, Special Speaker.

The anniversary of St. Andrew's Church was observed on Sunday, when Rev. Thomas Eakin, D.D., Principal of Knox College, Toronto, conducted the services, and the choir, under the direction of Mrs. A. R. B. Williamson, presented special music. The seating capacity of the church was taxed both morning and evening, by large congregations, and the special thanksgiving met with a very hearty response.

ated in 1890, by the late Rev. Principal Grant. Dr. Eakin took his text at the morning service from St. John 4:35: "And herein is that saying true, one soweth and another reapeth." From this text Dr. Eakin pointed out that no man could live to himself without receiving any help from anyone else. It was a thought, he said, that must challenge indifference, and prove a hope that would sustain those who could see no visible results from their labors. Man was not a unit, said Mr. Eakin, he was dependent on others and had obligations towards others. "We were indebted to all the generations that went before us, he said, and in this connection noted the wonderful inventions, such as railways, radios, telephones, newspapers, etc., which to-day we regard as commonplace of life. There was no man who was performing any useful work to whom we were not indebted, he said. "In things material and things spiritual we are bound up with one another," said the minister. "It is because of this interdependence of one on another, generation on generation, that self-sacrifice took such a unique place in the teaching of the Master."

The sowing was even more important than the reaping, said the speaker, and he urged men to sow wisely, because the seed which they sow must be reaped by future generations. To those who seem to see no result from their toil, he spoke a word of encouragement, pointing out that it was no more possible that their energy should be lost than that an atom of matter should be lost in the material world. The flower wasting its sweetness on the desert air might be poetry, he said, but it was not a scientific fact. To those who had not awakened to the seriousness of life, Dr. Eakin said that God was working out a definite plan, and the world had been waiting for thousands of years for each one to come and play his or her part. If they failed in this, they had no reason for being. In concluding, he prayed that God might give each one grace, humbly, reverently, joyfully, to do a good day's work. "The Place and Value of the Church in the Social Structure," was the subject chosen by Dr. Eakin for the evening sermon. His text was from Haggal 1:2: "Thus speaketh the Lord of Hosts saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the Lord's house should be built."

HEALED HIS RUPTURE. I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of recovery was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely healed my rupture. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble, have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may have a complete recovery without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 145 M. Marcellus Avenue, Massachus. N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

The preacher held that all the finer features of civilization were due to the church. Answering the man who said that he could live just as good a life outside the church as in it, Dr. Eakin said that there were no doubt men who could do this, but civilization as a whole could not. "If a nation forgets its church it will pay a long price in the decadence of its homes," he declared, and his concluding plea was: "If you cannot come into the Christian church because it will do you good, will you not come in that you may do us good?" The special music was a feature of both services that was much enjoyed by the congregation. The choir was at full strength and rendered the anthem and chorals with excellent tonal effects and deep religious feeling. A duet sung by Miss MacLeod and Mr. Jack LaFlair was especially delightful.

The programme of music was as follows: Organ "Prelude to Paradise," Wagner; choral prelude, "Be Thou Exalted, O My God," Bach; men's chorus, "Like as the Heart Desireth the Waterbrooks," Whelpley; offertory, "Air in C," Bach; anthem, "Fierce Was the Wild Billow," Tertius Noble; choral response, "O Lamb of God That Takest Away the Sins of the World," Smart; organ postlude, "Overture," Hollins; organ prelude, "What Tongue Can Tell Thy Greatness, Lord," Bach; vocal duet, Mendelssohn; offertory, "Night Song," Elgar; anthem, "I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me, We Will Go Into the House of the Lord," Elvey; organ postlude, "Final from Sonata in D Minor," Gullmant.

EGERTON H. REYNOLDS. Awarded a Scholarship for Ontario School of Education. Word was received from Toronto to the effect that Mr. Egerton Howard Reynolds, B.A., formerly of Kingston, had been awarded a scholarship valued at $125 from the University of Toronto War Memorial Fund for the Ontario College of Education for the current year. The scholarships are only open to men who served during the great war. The committee, which was detailed to make the selection, decided that instead of two scholarships of $250 each to make four awards, because the committee found itself unable to choose two outstanding candidates from the seventeen applications, the candidates were all of equal merit. Mr. Reynolds graduated from Queen's University in 1925 with the degree of B.A., and is a son of the late Howard Reynolds and Mrs. Reynolds, formerly of Frontenac county. He is also a brother of J. C. Reynolds, practising lawyer, Kingston. He enlisted in Kingston with the 3rd Divisional Ammunition Column and served in France with the 4th Divisional Trench Mortars and the 21st Pattery, C.F.A.
