HAS TREATMENT FOR HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE
SERIOUS FIRE AT CALDERWOOD HOUSE

Dr. Macdonald, of St. Catharines, Tells of Results He Has Obtained.

Another Canadian doctor, who promises to make a valuable contribution to medical science described his researches at a post-graduate lecture Friday afternoon, in the amphitheatre, General Hospital, before a large number of the medical students, Medical College Staff and city doctors. Dr. Macdonald, of St. Catharines, reviewed the results which he has obtained in the treatment of high blood pressure by an extract prepared from the liver.

High blood pressure is a rather common trouble, especially in people of advancing years. Not only is it liable to lead to the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain, but it is often more or less, connected with kidney disease, and with hardening of the arteries. The cause is still unknown. Dr. Macdonald has discovered an extract obtainable from the liver, which in a good number of cases tried during the past year has lowered the pressure of the blood to reasonable limits, and kept it there. The new substance is injected into the veins or muscles, or under the skin, and has recently been so improved that it causes no disturbances in the patient. One case he cited, was that of a doctor sixty-five years of age, who developed high blood pressure, suffered two attacks of apoplexy and had to give up work. He tried the new treatment, and the pressure not only came down, but he is now carrying on as large a practice as before and says he feels quite well. Still, Dr. Macdonald is very modest in his claims and desires many such results with many investigators before pronouncing the treatment a success.

Dr. W. T. Connell emphasized the importance of Dr. Macdonald's work, if the hopes for the extract are fulfilled.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL REFUSED TO ANSWER

Questions Put to Him With Regard to Release of Peter Smith.

The Toronto Star says: Hon. W. F. Nickle stated last night that he had seen Peter Smith in the penitentiary last Saturday. The attorney-general refused to divulge the nature of the interview or its purpose. He would not deny nor would he confirm the story that Mr. Smith's release is not far away.

When asked if he were going to have a talk with Mrs. Peter Smith, Mr. Nickle replied that there was no use asking him any questions about the matter, because he didn't intend to answer. He was further asked whether it were true that friends of Mr. Smith are pressing hard for his release, and that the province is not entirely unsympathetic and will consider it if Mr. Smith pays all the costs that can be made, but Mr. Nickle gave the same reply.

A Bishop Approves

(Brooklyn Eagle)

Human nature being what it is, the elders put all the blame for these mad young times and customs upon the children. Unexpected though extraordinarily sagacious, is the support of the youngsters brought up by Bishop Hughes, presiding at the New Jersey Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. He made an obvious reply to the too severe critics of bobbed hair and the gray-headed rebukers of the balloon trousers. He mentioned bangs, rats, bustles, Grecian bend, tight trousers and Dandereat whiskers to back his stand that the children may be giddy, but that they are only following the footsteps of fathers and mothers who view with alarm the Charleston garter and the coonskin coats of their offspring.

The new generation is always the enthusiastic partisan of change. So it was in the day of the hoopskirt, and so it will be for whatever 1926 has in store for us. The fright of parents over childlike waywardness dates back to the beginning of time. It is a sign of defeat, an acknowledgment that youth will have its way. The tragedy of it all is the misunderstanding engendered by the contempt of the son and daughter for a father and a mother who forget that they were once young, too, and that they were once contemptuous of uncomprehending parents.

The sum total of the generation is always the same. The addition of years makes Tories of us all. The increase in age also makes us blind and forgetful. The Church has been criticizing the frivolities of our Perriots and Columbins from the year one, and the elders have been blaming all the evils of society upon a heedless horde of children. The ironic part of it all is that the gay young things of today, will tomorrow be raising the same hullabaloo about whither are we drifting. To view with alarm is the part of the elders. But it is refreshing that at least one high church dignitary can remember the days of his youth and appreciate the fact that essentially there is no difference between the youth of parent and child.

The United Church, Picton, is opposed to Rev. J. J. Miller undertaking the work of judge of the Prince Edward County Juvenile Court. The pastor said he did not wish his name considered if any froction was likely to arise.

Thomas Gale, Sudbury, is dead. He was a former teller in the Merchants' Bank, Napawan.
