

Sitting Pretty! A golden-haired lad depicting the comfort of the new all-steel Canadian Pacific Railway cars.

A Dog Team at Banff.—Several teams of huskies are now in training for the Dog Derby to be held during the Banff Carnival.

Mr. John Leslie, C.P.R. comptroller, was appointed vice-president and comptroller of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company recently.

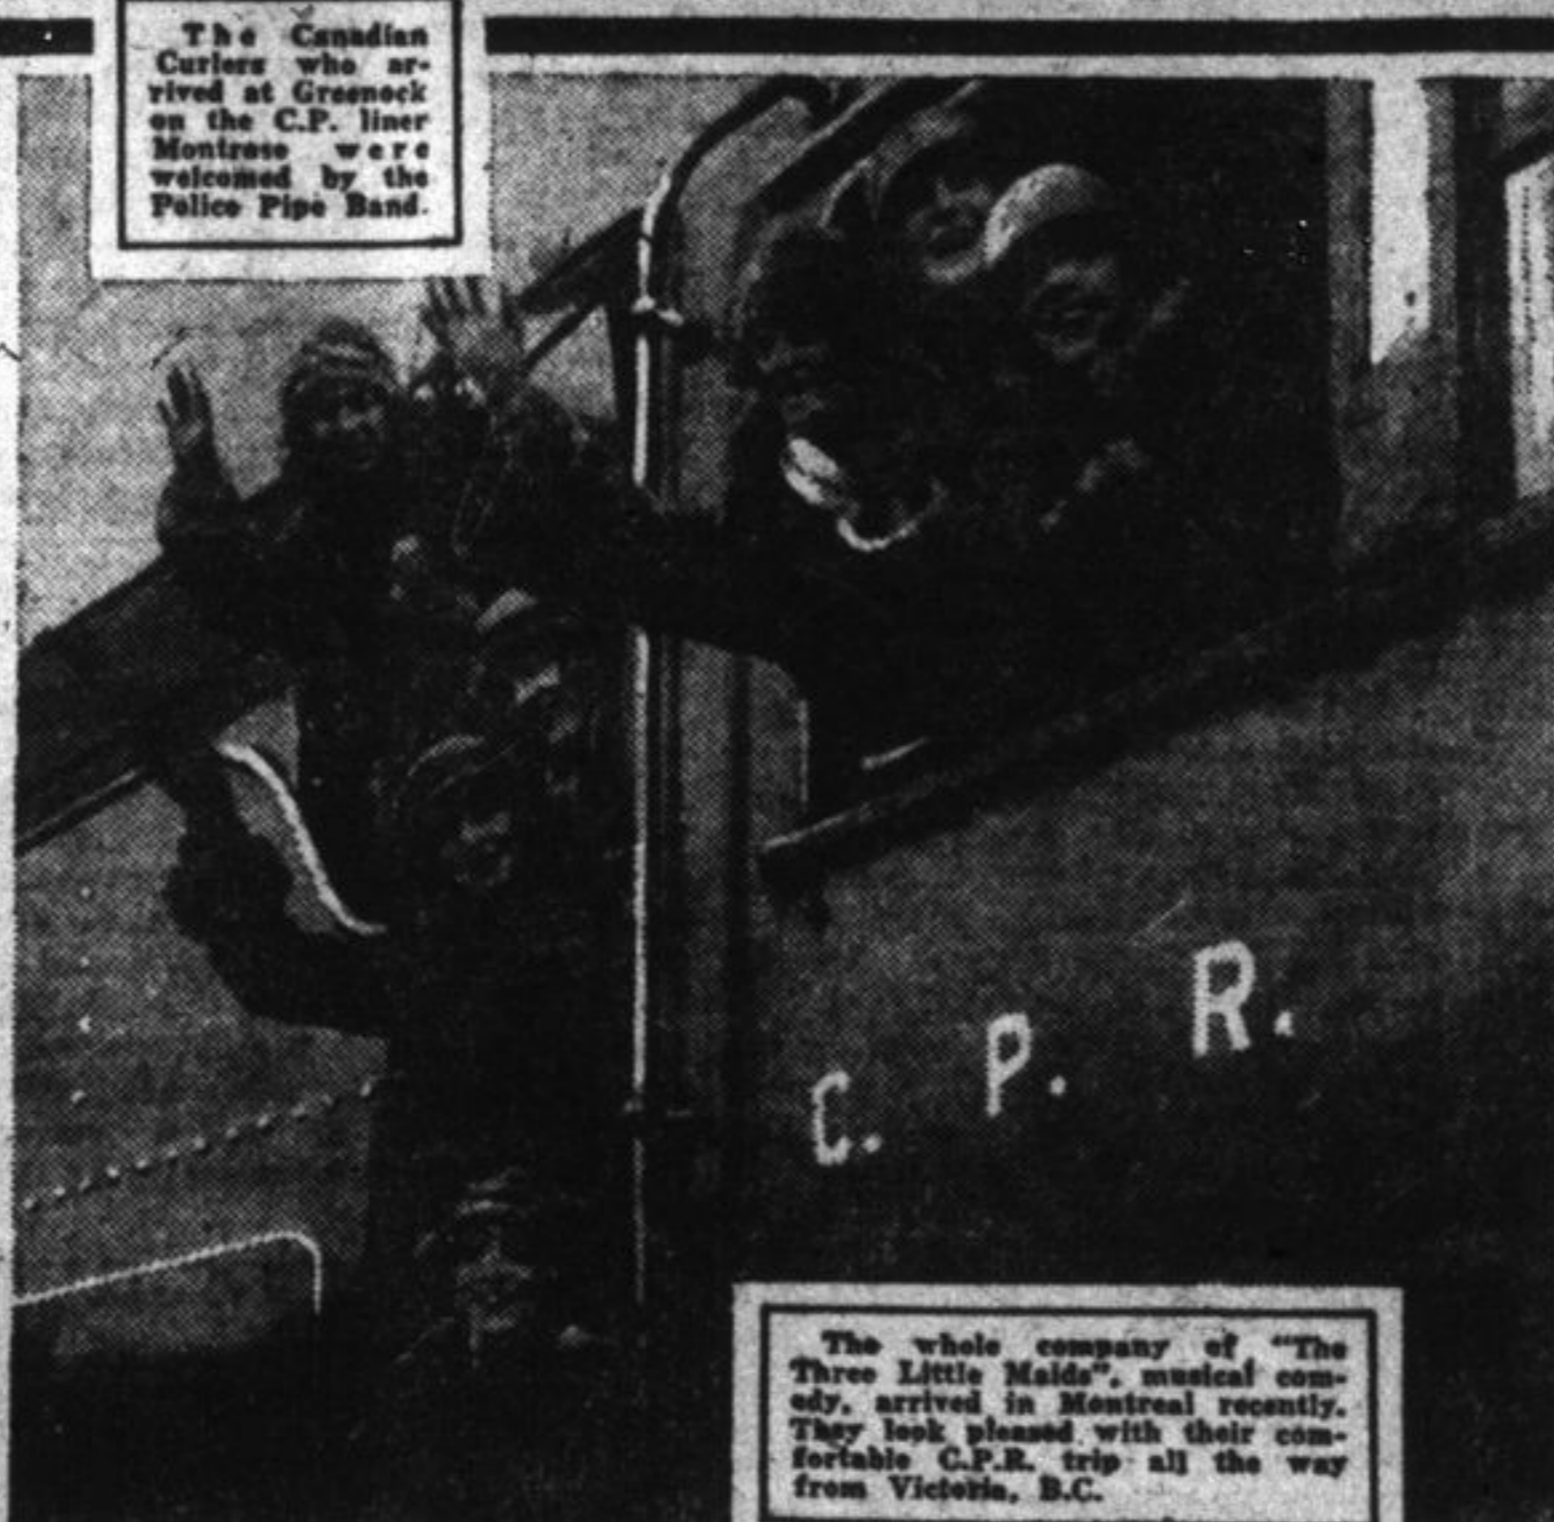

Photographed Unwares.—A young lady on skis at Kent House, Montmorency, near Quebec.

Burial of Dowager Duchess of Argyll at the Isle of Inch, west of Scotland. This is the Cathedral.

The Canadian Curlers who arrived at Gravenack in the C.P.R. liner Montrose, were welcomed by the Police Pipe Band.

The whole company of "The Three Little Maids", musical comedy, arrived in Montreal recently. They look pleased with their comfortable C.P.R. trip all the way from Victoria, B.C.

Women Study Flying.—Commandant Allen, chief of the Women's Police of London, taking flying instructions.

A Poet in Person.—This is Bliss Carman, one of Canada's foremost poets. He says there is "real happiness in good poetry." Photographed at the Windsor Station, Montreal.

R. McEldine, M.A.A.B., Montreal, winning the 100 yard Canadian snobush championship at Quebec. He also won the 250 yard World Championship.

Old sleighs are still to be seen on the streets of Montreal taking passengers through the city. Here they are on Dominion Square at the St. James Cathedral.

Two thousand snowshoers from forty-seven clubs in all parts of Canada and the United States, took part in the races at Quebec recently. This is the Lewiston, Maine, contingent of women snowshoers.

Captain W. Hibbins, R.N.R. Commander of the Canadian Pacific liner Montreal, on the deck of the vessel as she sailed out of New York harbor for the first West Indies Cruise this winter.

A. H. Dovenish, who has been appointed manager of the Canadian Pacific Hotel at Winnipeg.

Paris Police were received at Scotland Yard, London, with a band of police pipers playing a processional march to the winners.

Robert Randall Bruce in a Red Man's tunic. The new Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia as he looked when made a chief of the Stoney Indians.

A group of champion skaters arrived at the C. P. R. Windsor station in Montreal recently. From left to right they are: Charles Thomsberg, the Finnish champion; Miss Elsie Knudsen, New York; O'Neill Farrell, Chicago; Lolla Brooks, Toronto, World's Champion Women skater; Lois Littlejohn, Chicago.

Yes, Sir! She's Some Baby. The little blonde girl liked the service on the C.P.R. dinner cars very much. The waiter assumed she was a friend of a friend, hence the crowd.

A Lion in the Old Country. Captain Alfred, the famous lion tamer, took a young lion for a walk. The latter recognized a friend in an auto, hence the crowd.