WELCOME BACK HOME.

The British Whig joins with the hosts of friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Campbell in welcoming them back home after their extensive trip to South America.

STIRRING UP TROUBLE.

The move of Senator Borah to demand that the state department take action to compel England and France to settle the damages done to American shipping before America entered the war looks like a small piece of business, says the Water-town, N.Y. Times.

The London Post points out the blockade became really effective only after the American navy participated in it.

Mr. Dunning is it pleasing to know repudiates any suggestion of mere east and west in governmental policy, and deplores all tendency to division.

There may not have been anything legally wrong in the relationship of the firm, of which Hon. James Lyons was president.

THEY THAT GO DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS, that do business in great waters; these are the works of the Lord and his wonders in the deep.

MORE CARE IN THE SCHOOLS.

If more care were taken to see that children appearing at school with evidences of colds, were immediately sent home until they were better, we would not have these epidemics of colds such as the one that is prevalent in the city at the present time.

TRYING TO DECRY DUNNING.

At Ottawa the Conservatives are venting their spleen on the Hon. C. A. Dunning, the new minister of railways, who has shown himself to be a broad-minded Canadian, who seeks the best for his adopted land along national lines.

A very engaging prospect, this, over which their mouths have long watered! The strategic plan may appear as absurd; but no plan can thus be dismissed when it is backed by the influences at the command of the financial Fascist of Montreal.

The Manitoba paper goes on to say that the percentage of men with first-class capacity for public affairs in our public representation is very much less than it was thirty years ago; and this is doubly unfortunate because government is now, far more than it was then, a matter of administration.

Mr. Dunning is it pleasing to know repudiates any suggestion of mere east and west in governmental policy, and deplores all tendency to division.

HAS A PECULIAR LOOK.

There may not have been anything legally wrong in the relationship of the firm, of which Hon. James Lyons was president.

least, that a firm like the Lyons Fuel & Supply Co. should have had so much dealings with government contractors.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The English critic who thinks America produces no first-class literature evidently doesn't read the ads.

Up Windsor way it is believed the Government has put teeth in the Canadian customs regulations. Time will tell.

The Dome Mines Company is going into Red Lake gold fields. Good. It has the capital available for development.

A waiter may be looking for a tip from the wrong party, now that women with short hair wear dinner jackets.

Canada's favorable trade balance is being well maintained, and this condition gives Canadians good reason for rejoicing at our accomplishments.

The chain letter nuisance is no nuisance at all, when the letters reach people who are sensible enough to throw them in the wastebasket.

The mayor of Halifax has shown his sympathy with the demand for greater economy in a practical way.

The Ontario Government has issued a motion picture showing all the operations of a modern creamery.

Massey-Harris stock keeps moving up in value. Wasn't this one of the agricultural implement concerns that was being ruined by lack of adequate protection?

Premier Rhodes of Nova Scotia has failed in his proposal to abolish the legislative council of his province.

Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador at Washington, says "there is no half-way house between the reign of law and the reign of force."

Last year the railroads of the country required 159 pounds of fuel to haul 1,000 tons of freight and equipment one mile.

"Ma" Ferguson of Texas thinks her husband has not been fully vindicated yet. And so she will run for another term as governor.

Ottawa correspondents are predicting startling disclosures in the smuggling enquiry. Break loose; let the clean-up be very emphatic.

The Conservatives cannot recover equanimity as they see how the Premier can carry on government. They are peeved that Mr. Meighen was not given a chance to carry on.

Canada exports more than half its wood. Although its own consumption of its lumber production is steadily increasing, yet the value of the lumber sold abroad is more than half the total.

Lieut. Col. A. W. Gray, Leeds, is among those mentioned for minister of lands and forests in the Ferguson Government.

J. C. Kniblick writes to the New York World that he would dam up the barge canal at both ends, draw off the water and convert its bed into a motor freight highway clear across the state.

LOOKING AROUND

"Sap's running," the farmers tell us. That is one thing the House of Commons blockaders cannot stop.

Another week and Easter-time will almost be on us. We are just waiting to hear of the baseball boys starting things going on the old cricket field.

One hears that The Whig's serial story, "The Yellow Sub," which has been running for the past six weeks, has made a great hit all over the district and that the readers eagerly await the next instalment.

Talk about pasteurization of milk—there are quite a number of homes in Kingston which drink nothing but bottled water the year around.

There is a great deal of sickness throughout the city and the doctors are kept on the jump treating severe cases of grippe. The flu came a little later this year, owing to the weather conditions.

Noticing the subject of the uniform Sunday school lesson of Sunday next as a review of the Gospel of St. John, students are reminded that probably the best critical review of this gospel was written by Prof. Ernest F. Scott.

In old London, the police do not bother the rangers in Hyde Park, no matter what views they express.

Over in Russia a husband appears to be worth only one-half what a wife brings. One woman sold her husband for one bottle of vodka.

After reading James T. Sutherland's special despatches to The Whig from Fort William and Winnipeg, we can see that Kingston's champion hockey juniors are being well fathered and mothered.

La Patrie has already begun to discuss daylight saving. "Daylight saving has entered among our customs and no longer meets with opposition."

"We believe that the summer time should be adopted not later than the last Sunday in April which will fall this year on the 25th."

The failures of life sit around and complain; The gods haven't treated them white; They've lost their umbrellas whenever it rains, And they haven't their lanterns at night; Men tire of the failures who sit with their sighs The air of their own neighborhoods; There's a man who is treated with love and light; He's the Man Who Delivers the Goods. —Walt Mason.
