TO WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Wilson's Experience a Guide to Women Passing through the Change of Life

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot speak too highly of it as I was the Change of Life and was all run-down and had no appetite. I was very weak and sick, and the pains in my back were so bad I could hardly move. I got very sad at times and thought I had not a friend on earth. I did not care if I lived or died. I was very nervous, too, and did not go out very much. A friend advised me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I did. I am a farmer's wife, and always worked hard until lately, and was in bed for two months. I began to feel like a new woman after the first bottle, and I recommend it with great success, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about your medicine, as I cannot speak too highly of them."—Mrs. EMMA WILSON, 471 Wilson Street, Hamilton, Ontario. Sold by druggists everywhere.

"ENGLAND REVISITED"

One experienced a delightful evening in reading "England Revisited," a pamphlet of 69 pages by Prof. W. G. Jordan of Queen's Theological College, Kingston. Dr. Jordan gives his impressions of his native land which he revisited once again last summer, after being a resident of Canada thirty-seven years. He deals with a variety of subjects, including the spirit of Hyde Park, the prospect of prohibition, the film and radio (showing that the American movie industry had crushed that of England), the Cardiff Conference, rural England, two old towns—Burham and Whitby.

It is his article on his native town of Whitby that reference is chiefly made in this brief review. One can imagine the deep feeling Dr. Jordan must have felt in recalling his boyhood days in this celebrated, old English town. He says: "Shipping days may decline because of the increasing size of vessels; smuggling may no longer be attractive and profitable; fishing may not be as productive and the jet trade may languish, but nothing can rob the old town of stories and traditions reaching back more than twelve centuries." Dr. Jordan saw little change in the outward appearance of Whitby since he left it fifty years ago. One would have to stay some time and go in and out among the people to observe deeper changes in their life, but Dr. Jordan thinks it is pretty much the same as half a century ago. He recalls the Sunday afternoons long ago when he listened to the Cornish fishermen in their boats "singing grand old hymns with strong voices and real religious fervor; the three-decked pulpit with the parish clerk, "a venerable figure who made responses and gave the announcements;" the October cheese fair when the grocers' shelves were laden with that tasty food; retiring late on Christmas Eve to lie awake to hear the wailing "Christians Awake." These reminiscences of the eminent theologian of the Kingston university remind one of some Dickens' recollections. They go back to the streets in Old England.

Every chapter in the little volume has its charm. For Dr. Jordan is a keen observer of events and can discuss English politics almost as well as he can theology. National Council of Women. Ottawa, March 27.—Mrs. J. A. Wilson of Ottawa was the unanimous choice of the executive of the National Council of Women for the presidency of the National Council when nominations for officers were received. The final appointments of national officers and conveners of standing committees will take place at the annual meeting which will be held in Vancouver June 9th. The nominations are as follows: President, Mrs. J. A. Wilson, Ottawa. Vice-presidents, Dr. Stowe Gullen, Toronto; Mrs. W. Dennis, Halifax; Mrs. H. Carpenter, Hamilton; Mrs. W. Cummings, Toronto; Miss Carmichael, New Glasgow, N.S.; Mrs. Atherton Smithy, St. John, N.G.; Prof. Derick, Montreal. Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Horace Parsons, Toronto. Recording secretary, Mrs. C. H. Thorburn, Ottawa. Treasurer, Mrs. Sydney C. Tweed, Waterloo, Ont.

THE PACIFIC COAST. Half across the world to westward, there's a harbor, that I know. Where the ships that load with lumber and the China liners go. Where the wind blows cool at sunset from the snow-crowned peaks that gleam. Out across the straits at twilight like the landfall of a dream. There's a sound of foreign voices—there are wafts of strange perfume.—And a two-stringed fiddle playing somewhere in an upstairs room. There's a rosy tide lap-lapping on an old worm-eaten quay. And a scarlet sunset flaming down behind the China sea. And I darest, if I went there, I should find it all the same. Still the same old sunset splendor setting all the sky aflame. Still the smell of burning forests upon the evening air. Little things my heart remembers, nowhere else on earth but there. Still the harbor-gulls a-calling, calling all the night and day. And the wind across the water comes in just the same old way.

Mrs. A. Wheeler, Gananoque, is home again from the Kingston General hospital.

CONSTANT CURLING, WAVING DRIES LIFE FROM HAIR

Girls just must curl and wave bobbed hair to appear their prettiest. But constant curling and waving burn and dry the tuster, vitality and very life from the hair.

To offset these bad effects, just get a 35-cent bottle of delightful, refreshing "Danderine" at any drug store or toilet counter and just see for yourself how quickly it revives dry, brittle, lifeless, and fading hair. "Danderine" is a dependable tonic and will do wonders for any girl's hair. It nourishes, stimulates and strengthens each single hair, bringing back that youthful gleam, glist and vigorous luxuriance. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears. "Danderine" is pleasant and easy to use.

The Editor Hears

That the vogue for gay stockings is very noticeable on the Kingston streets. Nude and white, bright orange and in some cases green or mauve to match a frock of the wearer, have appeared now that the gossamer worn while the pavements are laid aside. Just how girls can feel comfortable in silk stockings while they are still swathed to the chin in furs, men and older women cannot understand. Black stockings are being worn by the ultra smart for they are the latest fad and may be much seen before the season is over. However, colored stockings are in all the shops so it is safe to say they will be worn during the summer especially, as the summer frocks will be very gay, and will require stockings to match them.

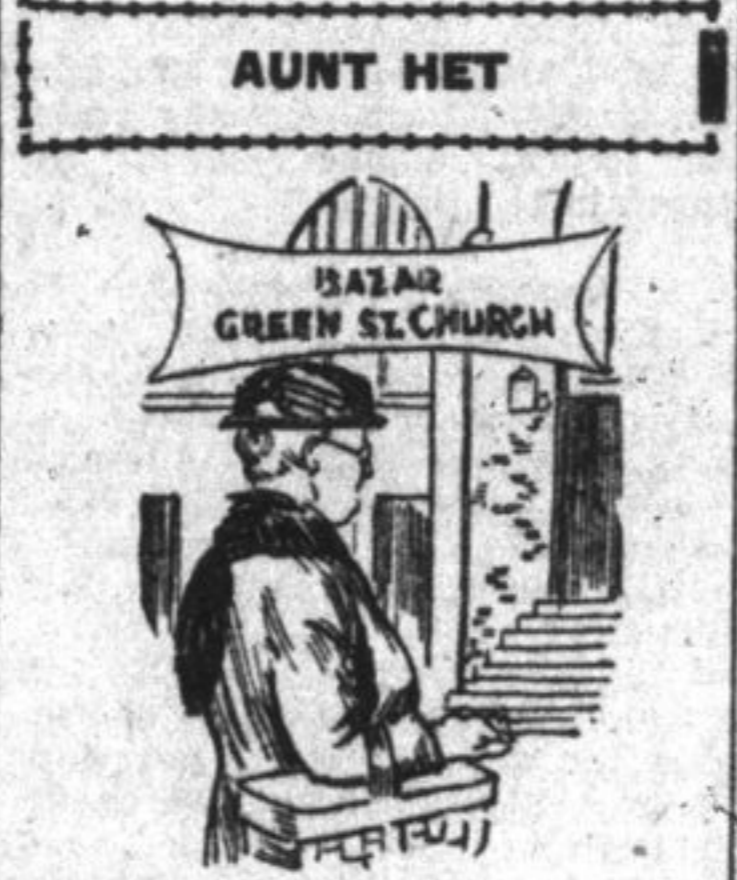

That Deseronto has a newly-formed humane society which is quite energetic and will do good work. The Kingston Humane Society inspector, who is now devoting his full time to the work of caring for dumb creatures, finds plenty to do and is constantly attending to calls sent in from the city and country.

That the contralto soloist in the oratorio "St. Paul," (Mendelssohn), which will be sung in Kingston next week, will be a Kingston girl, Miss Myrtle Stagg, a member of the chorus who has a delightfully sympathetic voice with deep chest tone. Her number is sure to be enjoyed.

That the ribbon tam is a new and popular head gear for girls. It is pretty and becoming and it is to be had in all the bright colors, including rose which is so much worn this season in all the dainty dress accessories.

That flappers would win no prizes in the Tibetan beauty contests, so says Mrs. Louis M. King in her book, "We Tibetans." She is Tibetan-born. Her maiden name was Rin-Chen Lha-

Mo. "Westerners are not good looking, according to our standards," says the Tibetan woman. "Your noses are too big, and often stick out like kettle spouts; your ears are too large, like the pig's ears; your eyes blue, like children's marbles; your eye sockets are too deep and eyebrows too prominent, too Simlan."

"I know it's sinful to be proud, but when I get to thinkin' about my pie crusts I just can't help bein' a little stuck up."

Praise for Miss Teigmann. Miss Mignon Teigmann was one of the artists at a concert in Peterboro recently, and The Examiner has this to say of her playing: "Miss Teigmann's playing was marked by a finished ease and a beautiful, rounded, sustained tone. The artist's powers of memorization, her free bowing and facile fingering, with a quality of effortless playing in different passages, were demonstrated to perfection in the programme which included some exacting numbers. Miss Teigmann's violin, a beautiful instrument, is one of a number made by her father, Prof. O. F. Teigmann of Kingston, and has a very fine tone."

Sir John Harschel thought it probable that the sun was inhabited by strange organisms which were the source of light.

This Lassie Has Her Colds "Rubbed Away"

The mother of this attractive little girl, Mrs. E. E. Emmans, of 215 Seventh Ave., N. E., Fortage La Prairie, Minn., is one of the many Canadian mothers who are enthusiastic about the vaporizing salve, Vicks Vaporub, for treating children's colds. Mrs. Emmans writes: "My little girl had croup at night pretty badly and Vicks did her a lot of good. I have also used it with very satisfactory results for head and chest colds. Vicks is just "rubbed on" for sore throat, tonsillitis, bronchitis, croup or deep chest colds. When so applied, Vicks has a double direct action: internally medicated vapors are inhaled while, at the same time, externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin."
