Painful Sprains, Bruises Restored By Nerviline

There is soothing power in Nerviline that has made it famous for nearly fifty years past. It sinks in deeply, it penetrates quickly, it takes away the pain from a sprain and brings grateful relief to bruised, aching muscles.

Women Find Great comfort in this new hygienic pad that discards easily as tissue—no laundry

ON many important counts, women are desiring the old-time "sanitary pad."

There is a new way. A way that multiplies protection. A way, too, that solves the old problem and embarrassment of disposal.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends ALL fear of offending.

As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment. You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk!

WOMAN SUFFERED TERRIBLY

Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Case

LEA DELORME ST. ADOLPHE, MANITOBA "I was very weak and had great pains during my periods so that I could not sweep the floor. The pains were in the right side and extended to the left and then downwards. It seemed as if the body was heavy and upside down. It is for these troubles I took the Vegetable Compound. I saw about it in a paper and one woman prevailed on me to take it. It has helped me in every way, the pains are less, and I have more appetite. It is a pleasure to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to other women."

of this month. Easter lilies and spring flowers were in the drawing-room, and in the tea room the table presided over by Miss Eva Martin, was centred with white hyacinths and tall pink tulips in a crystal vase.

Found Great Relief Toronto, Ont.—"I am at the Change of Life with hot flashes, dizziness, weakness and nervousness. I had head noises and was short of breath. I was this way about six months when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers. I have taken eight bottles so far and found great relief."—Mrs. R. J. SALMON, 112 Lawlor Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Carr Also Helped Muncie, Indiana—"I had inflammation and the doctor said I was in a very bad condition. My hips and back felt like knives cutting me. I suffered terribly and could not get around to do my work. I had indigestion and very bad headaches and could not sleep as I was so nervous. I took local treatments and they did me no good. I had always heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and I thought it would be like all the others, but I found out after I took half a bottle as I have proved it wonderful. I am taking it yet and I can do all my work. I am feeling fine now, and it is your good medicines that have done it. I tell every woman of the good I get from taking the Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and from using the Sensitive Wash. I don't intend to be without them."—Mrs. P. W. CARR, 726 West Jackson Street, Muncie, Indiana.

Such letters prove the great merit of the Vegetable Compound. These women know by experience the benefit they have received. Their letters show a sincere desire to help other women suffering from like ailments.

The Editor Hears

That the song sparrow, who has arrived early to choose a good house keeping site and has selected the garden of "Amundale" as a suitable spot, is the most courageous and optimistic of birds. He sits on a branch and sings the lovely song that tells his hearers that in spite of cold, snow and ice, April is here and that we will surely have real spring, with soft airs, a free harbor, tiny blossoms pushing their way up through the dead leaves in response to warm sunshine. It does not seem as if all these things could happen within a month, but they will, for we have a God who has said that as long as the earth remaineth seedtime and harvest shall not cease.

That the medical profession will be strongly represented in the play being put on this week by Queen's Faculty Players. One doctor came across the sea to us after the war who is nearly as clever an actor as he is a surgeon, and he has inspired in his fellow medics a well-founded belief in their dramatic power.

That the various women's missionary societies are holding annual meetings which show on all sides an increase in membership and gifts, which means an increase in interest. The education of the women of the church is largely responsible for this increase. Such a book as "The Clash of Color," read widely of recent years by women, shows the world's need for the civilization that is coming rapidly to be a Christian civilization.

That Mr. Frank Yeigh, who told the story of the condition of the children in the Near East so well in Kingston, that a Kingston kitchen has been established in Salonica, Greece, has recently been in Saskatoon speaking there of the need to feed and clothe these fellow-Christians of ours. All such time as they are placed in a position to care for themselves. The work is going on apace, and already over 100,000 refugees have been settled in Macedonia, but we, living in our sparsely populated country, can hardly realize the hundreds more who are still trying to eke out an existence in a country that would hardly be missed, in area, out of Canada. The Kingston kitchen is doing good work and feeding many hungry women and children, but it must be kept up and the committee feel sure that the people of Kingston will not let the building that, in this distant corner of Europe, stands for the hospitality of the city of Kingston, Ontario, be a place from which starving people will have to turn away from—still starving.

That after forty years of waiting at last a church for deaf mutes has been opened in Toronto, and at Easter those who could neither hear nor see joined their fellows in the worship of the Risen Christ. Mrs. J. R. Byrne, a deaconess, who has given much of her time to the deaf, was interpreter. The church is opened under the direction of the United Church.

That the annual meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held on Tuesday night in the Roman Catholic Assembly Hall and splendid reports were received from the different branches of the League in Kingston. It was reported that there had been an increase in the membership of one hundred and forty during the year, now bringing the paid-up membership to three hundred and fifty. Reports were also received from the Home and School representatives, the St. Mary's report being read by Mrs. C. J. Corrigan and St. Vincent's Academy by Mrs. B. Milne. The educational committee report was presented by Miss S. Swan and the social service committee report by Mrs. W. J. Logue.

That the financial report showed a balance of $800 at the beginning of the last term, but since that time there had been many expenditures, leaving at the present time a balance of $21.21. Arrangements for a three-day bazaar to be held were discussed at the meeting and the election of officers took place, resulting in the following ladies being elected for the next term: President, Mrs. C. J. Corrigan; first vice-president, Mrs. M. Mangan; second vice-president, Miss B. Bedore; third vice-president, Mrs. F. Pilley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. Bohan; recording secretary, Mrs. Kathleen Murray; treasurer, Miss Sarah Swan; councillors, Mrs. W. J. Logue, Mrs. A. Ainslie, Mrs. W. James, Miss A. Higerty and Mrs. James Rigney.

A splendid tribute was paid to the retiring president, Miss Agnes Doolan, on the work that had been accomplished in the league under her presidency and the appreciation of the league was expressed. Miss Doolan replied, thanking the ladies for the hearty co-operation shown during her term, of office and wishing the new president every success.

While design this season's great interest in the silk scarf. Reason of the tendency toward more ornate motifs, color has become equally important, inasmuch as the scarf is an accessory wanted in shades to set off the rest of the costume. The vari-colored scarf flaunts a pattern of moderate tendency, or bold design, often rather than a small intricate pattern. Hand blocked effects, in all the vivid shades of red, green, purple and orange are in demand for such purposes, and all the pastel coloring for others.

In some cases the designs are essentially tailored, suggesting themselves as suitable to accompany the two-piece suit or the tailored jumper frock. A broken plaid blocked in black on color is one example of this. Again there are striking conventionalized florals, chiefly in border treatments, and the small design of Persian genre is also a factor.

An innovation is a short scarf, which came into the limelight at the tennis courts in the south of France, something like the Deauville kerchief. It is used in an odd fashion, like a kerchief at the back and loosely folded in front, in Apache style. These kerchiefs often have a central motif on a plain ground surrounded by a printed border. Others have a broken plaid design in the centre, with plain border.

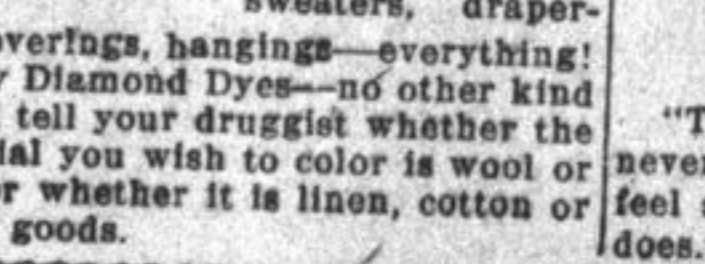

New scarfs of the "dressy" order reflect the detail of frocks which add a hem of tulle or net to the scalloped skirt. Scarf lengths of the flowery chiffon have at each end an additional quarter of a yard of net or of chiffon in a plain color which repeats a tint in the design. Rose color added to the ends of a scarf of chiffon printed with clusters of roses accentuates effectively the shade of the flowers in the pattern. Black material as a background for flowers in natural tints is particularly decorative and the combinations of bright colors with this is most effective. Scarfs of gauze traced with graceful designs in metal thread will be worn with the light summer evening gowns and will form a striking contrast to the solid black of so many of the new models in sheer fabrics.

Miss Stevenson is in Ottawa and is a member of the Order of Nurses in Eastern Ontario, is in Kingston this week and will go on to Belleville for the meeting of the Graduate Nurses' Association. On Tuesday afternoon she met the Kingston V.O.N. committee in the Welfare Station and talked to them of the work of the V.O.N. in Ontario in general and of the work in Kingston in particular.

In spite of the other branches of health work, the V.O.N. is as much needed as ever, and the call for new branches to be formed shows the public want this kind of nursing service. Miss Stevenson had been in Napanee recently and there the ladies of the committee are most active and the town council had recently granted $500 for the V.O.N. work. Cornwall was another place she mentioned as she read some splendid and yet amusing essays written by the children of the Cornwall public schools on V.O.N. work in their city. The prize essay showed in one way a great grasp of the aims of the Order, the cure of the sick in the homes, the educational and preventative advantages of having such an organization in the community. But the little girl, who was only thirteen and had quite evidently done the work for herself, got badly mixed as to dates, and said the Order was formed during the Crimean war when Florence Nightingale went to Lady Aberdeen to get her to help in nursing the soldiers.

Miss Stevenson is a great believer in publicity, especially publicity through the press, and told her interested hearers of a drive for $10,000 put on by the Ottawa V.O.N. Ottawa, a city of many hospitals, still feels the need of the V.O.N. and the result of the drive, put on with much publicity given in the columns of the Ottawa daily papers, resulted in over $11,000, over a thousand more than the objective. "You cannot afford to save on publicity," said Miss Stevenson. "Everyone reads the papers, and if you will prosper you must advertise."

Plans were made for the annual tag day which will be held in May.
