

LATEST LOCAL

SPORTING

GENERAL REVIEWS

NEWS

TIMELY COMMENTS

KINGSTON CLUB TO CARRY ON IN C.O.A.B.L. AGAIN THIS SUMMER

At Enthusiastic Meeting of Executive Wednesday Night Decided to Place Strong Team in the Field—Stanley Hall Appointed Treasurer in Succession to W. L. Kennedy—Strong Teams to Be Brought in for Exhibition Games.

That the Kingston Baseball Club senior baseball, it is naturally expected that there should be financial support from the citizens to help things along. Those in charge of the subscription lists will be starting in on their work in a short time.

Local fans need have no fear of there not being baseball of the best calibre. There is the greatest interest in the team by the executive and they are right behind the team to step out and provide a class of ball even faster than last season when they won the Central Ontario championship and dined the Oslers in the Ontario playoffs.

At the meeting last night, Bert Booth, the assistant manager of the club, who represented Kingston at the Central Ontario League annual meeting at Belleville last Saturday, gave his report, the details of which have been published before and which are quite generally known.

It was decided that the ways and means committee should take up the matter of initial finance to start the club off and as was done in previous years, a subscription list will be made out and a canvass made for subscribers to help the Kingston team make a start. Citizens will need no urging to give their co-operation and it is expected that there will be a generous response. After all, it is the city's team and if Kingston is to have

IN LONG RACE

Montreal Marathoner to Compete for Boston Honors.

Popular Montreal marathoner who'll compete in the famous Boston A.A. race to be held shortly. Though only twenty-one, O'Donnell has displayed marked ability as a long-distance runner and hopes to make a good showing in the Beantown classic. He's a sergeant in No. 3 Company Grenadier Guards.

TROUBLE AHEAD IN HOCKEY AFFAIRS

No Regard for Territorial Rights in the West by York Pro. Club.

Duluth, Minn., April 14.—Colonel John Hammond, associate of Tex Rickard in promoting a second New York team for the national Professional Hockey League, disregarded warnings of a hockey war with the Western Professional Hockey League here to-day when he started dickering for the services of a group of players in the Central Amateur Hockey Association.

Hammond, with Conny Smythe of Toronto University fame, attended the final game of the championship series between Minneapolis and Duluth. They held numerous conferences with players of both teams, including Billy Boyd, "Ghale" McKinnon, Mickey McGuire and Ching Johnson of the Millers and Herbie Lewis and Lee Lafrance of the Hornets.

BASEBALL SCORES

National League. New York 9, Brooklyn 5. Pittsburgh 10, St. Louis 3. Philadelphia 10, Boston 1. Chicago 9, Cincinnati 2.

American League. Boston 8, New York 7. Washington 3, Philadelphia 1. Cleveland-Detroit, postponed. St. Louis-Chicago, postponed.

International League. Toronto 8, Reading 2. Baltimore 7, Rochester 5. Newark 7, Buffalo 6. Jersey City 5, Syracuse 4.

Morens Down Again. Montreal, April 14.—Howie Morens, centre player for the Canadiens in the National Hockey League, who has been suffering from ear trouble for some time, underwent an operation at a local hospital Tuesday.

What on earth will artists of the next decade do to make magazine covers interesting?

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
RHEUMATISM
BRIGHT'S DISEASE
DIABETES
SACRAC
1907 THE PHARMACY

SPORTING NOTES AND COMMENT

At the starting of the meeting of the Kingston Baseball Club executive last night, things did not look so cheering, but the members of the executive took hold of the problems that were before them and overcome the difficulties. Prospects for a real good season are 100 per cent, better now than they were a very short time ago.

If the players can hang on to themselves as much enthusiasm as the members of the executive have, there won't be anything to kick about. President Steacy and his helpers are anxious to do everything they can to make the club a success again this season.

Everybody wants to know who will be playing for the senior team this summer. This is no time to be naming who will be playing, but suffice to say, Kingston will be well represented.

The Mercantile League executive meets to-night to make further arrangements for the coming season. There is no end of energy to the men behind the Mercantile League and they deserve to have their efforts well rewarded.

It may be a little cold for hard ball but the softballers can start any time they like now. It won't take long to get warmed up playing that game.

And what about that Ladies' Softball League that flouted before us last summer? No action yet.

HITS AND JABS

By Joe Williams.

Boys will be boys but it takes the mixed ingredients of Houdini, Sherlock Holmes and Pussfoot Johnson to find out what the girl friend wants to be these days.

Style posters, chronicling latest crimes in feminine foolishness, show the little dippy-dappies wearing suspenders recruited to full war strength, with nautical limitations.

Parlor slogan for 1926 will be: "You keep us in suspenders and we'll keep you in suspense."

Anybody with slightly used glass eye can see that what the cuddling Cinderellas are wearing for skirts these days can be held in place by power of suggestion or old stamp deftly removed from 1902 seed catalogue.

Suspenders aren't only masculine heritage the girl friend has confiscated. She's wearing tuxedo coats, smoking pipes and having her hair chiseled in the round-house manner.

This all dates back to early squawking days of suffrage when Mama Pankhurst and sweet child Emma Goldman climbed up on exclusive soap cases and demanded equal rights and two bases on all hits into the crowd.

Outraged wife from Powder-puff, Miss, reports husband got up in middle of night and went through her newly imported Parisian trousers, absconding with $4.56, winnings from penny ante game.

This proves that what is sauce for goose is applesauce for gander, and that rags when worn for virtue's sake are not at all attractive to editors or confessional magazines.

As Mr. Wilson said back in the war days, "Thank Allah for Gillette, he kept us out of femininity."

They dress like us, smoke like us and walk like us... We don't know whether they are coming down to our level or up to it.

Suzanne says "those Americans can't make a Red Grange out of me".... Well, will you listen to peroxide lady?

Or it may be that Suzanne means she does not intend to deliver ice in Wheaton this summer.

Jimmy Slattery, tired of being messed around by heavyweights, says he'll play only as a middleweight from now on... At the rate he has been slumping it won't be long until he is eligible for flyweights.

Mr. O'Goofly isn't as informed about financial matters as he ought to be... For instance, he thinks bank clearings are something the janitor sweeps out.

It's getting monotonous the way Hagen keeps on beating Bobby Jones... It might pep the act up a bit if Bobby challenged him to a pinochle tournament.

Miller Huggins predicts a three-cornered race this season... Ah, the eternal triangle finally arrives in baseball.

Kid Socks is a London flyweight fighter; at least they say he is... It may be that he is only a verb.

Another spring training season is ended and the number of second Cobbs and Johnsons developed can be squeezed into the left ear of one of Singer's midguts.

Raw-raw Humor. Razzle: Does Alice neck? Dazzle: Does she! She's a graffe at it.

Having started as a bakery boy,

NOW—
The Old Reliable
PEG TOP
Quality maintained for 40 Years
5 for 25 cents
The Pocket Pack for Your Convenience

announced that he has definitely decided to liquidate immediately all his interests in an automobile agency here and to devote his entire time again to a career in the ring.

"I am only 31 and healthy and am still confident," he said, "I still have a future in pugilism."

The Argentine heavyweight attributed his poor showing in his recent bout with Erminio Spalla, whom he defeated on points in a disappointing exhibition, to overweight and lack of training. He asserted he is now training hard and expects to scale down to 210 pounds within 60 days, after which he plans to sail to England.

Peaceability. "Have you any plans for peace?" "No," answered Senator Sorghum. "I'm going to be personally peaceable; and so, perhaps, set a little of an example."—Washington Star.

Don't Ask Him. Dick: Where did you go on your motor tour? Dennis: Gosh! Don't ask me. I was driving the car.—London Answer.

An electrically heated sandbag has been invented to do the work of pressing hats over molds, formerly requiring a heavy iron. Males are imperfect, but they don't think bridge an excuse for conversation.

John McCormack enjoys the Credenza model

Twins!

The new Orthophonic Victrola is John McCormack's "other self." Startling—but true.

This remarkable new musical instrument is the "other self" not alone of one great artist—but of all. The Orthophonic Victrola gives you in music, exactly what great artists like John McCormack give you. And it gives you everything in orchestral music, not part; everything from the sonorous boom of the bass drum to the piping treble of the piccolo. The thousands who have heard it—artists and music lovers—go into raptures about its performance. Schumann-Heink said of it: "Marvelous!" "Real band music!" exclaimed Sousa, the March King; "Magnificent!" commented Journef—and could hardly restrain himself from rushing to the recording laboratory to make a record for this new marvel. That is real enthusiasm! Now do you wonder why everyone wants to own this new instrument? Have you heard it? "His Master's Voice" Dealers are demonstrating every day.

Orthophonic Victrola

The Credenza is priced at $385.00. With electric motor $43. additional.

Victor Talking Machine Company

of Canada, Limited

CARLARIS GETS HIS GARLAND

It's a straight putt that has no turning
JAEGER pure wool sweaters and golf hose are part of the game.
JAEGER
Pure Wool

Here is Carlaris, sensational three-year-old, just after his victory in the Coffroth handicap at The Juma, where he won $70,700 for his owner by coming in eight lengths ahead of a good field. Photo shows him receiving the victor's wreath after the finish. Below is Jockey Willie Munden, who rode him to victory, and who was a bellhop in a Montreal hotel a few years ago.