Mrs. Parks Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health

Toronto, Ontario.—"My daughter is 16 now and has been an invalid ever since she was six months old and has been compelled to remain out of school the greater part of the time. We have tried different kinds of medicine, but none helped her much. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was run-down, and it had helped me so much that I thought it might help her at this time. She has gained ever since she began taking it. She attends school every day now and goes skating, and does other outdoor sports. I recommend this medicine to any one who is run-down and nervous and weak."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for young women's troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere. C.

leen Wingard, and the following ladies presided in the tea room: Mrs. Campbell Laidlaw, Mrs. Andrew Haydon, Mrs. N. B. MacRostie, Mrs. C. H. Bland, Mrs. W. A. Dobson and Miss M. Clifford.

As 1926 is the golden jubilee of the W.C.T.U., a special effort is being put forth to increase the membership, and a week or so ago the members and prospective members received an envelope with a golden daisy attached and a date fixed upon which it should be brought, with some money inside, to the home of Mrs. C. S. Anglin, Wellington street. Friday was the day set, and in spite of the April snow storm, a good many women arrived with their well filled envelopes and enjoyed an excellent programme arranged by Miss Ida Garbutt. They were received by the hostess and the president, Mrs. A. E. Knapp, and also met by Mrs. W. T. G. Brown and Mrs. John Wright who take much interest in the work of the society. Mrs. Elmer Smith received the envelopes in a basket tied with a big white bow, and Mrs. J. A. Miller took the names of new members. The tea table decked with tulips was presided over by Mrs. G. A. Bate-man and Mrs. G. MacCallum assisted by Mrs. R. H. Ward and Mrs. C.

Nash, Mrs. W. A. Kaitting, Mrs. Bannister and Mrs. Wilson. The effect of the daisy chain the W.C.T.U. wishes to form was carried out in the dainty cakes decorated with daisies. The programme consisted of two piano numbers by Miss Eleanor Ham, several songs by Mrs. John Evans, who also sang the Society's song, "Some Glad Day," in which all the members joined in the chorus. Miss Lottie Sanders and Mrs. E. A. Goodwin sang and Mrs. Kilgour recited.

One of the most successful euchre parties and dances of the season was held at the Catholic Assembly Hall by the Home and School Club of St. Vincent's Academy Friday evening. About fifty tables were in play at euchre and nine games were played the prize winners being as follows: Ladies first prize, Mrs. Holden; second, Miss Margaret Babcock; consolation, Miss Bedore; gentlemen's first, Mr. Grooms; second, Mr. A. Gilmore; consolation, Mr. W. Dorsee; door prize, Mrs. Tauger. Mr. B. Abernethy, who kindly donated the tickets, also gave a special booster prize for the winners of the first prizes. At the conclusion of the card games, refreshments were served by the ladies and dancing followed. A very large number was present for the dancing and the music was rendered by McGrath's orchestra. Mrs. Marcoux was the convener of the committee and she was capably assisted by Mrs. Grooms, Mrs. Milne, Mrs. McQuaide, Mrs. Tauger, Mrs. Paus, Mrs. Mortlock and Mrs. C. Murphy.

Curling and Waving Dries Life from Hair

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast. Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Danderine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears. A 35-cent bottle of refreshing "Danderine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

WEDDINGS. Calvin-Moore's. St. George's Cathedral was beautifully decorated with spring flowers in shades of pink and mauve on Saturday morning when the marriage was solemnized of Isobel Allan, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Francis Moore, and Mr. Collamer Chipman Calvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Calvin, Toronto, Rev. W. E. Kidd, M.A., M.C., officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory white satin with long sleeves and a flared skirt. The long train was lined with pale pink georgette, edged with lace and embroidered with pearls. The bridal veil was of embroidered tulle caught to her hair with orange blossoms, and the bridal bouquet was of roses showered with lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Grace Moore, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor, and wore coral georgette and a hat of the same shade in silk straw with cerise velvet ribbon. Miss Hilda Calvin, Toronto, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and was frocked in orchid georgette in a similar design. Both attendants carried sweet peas and roses. Mr. H. A. Calvin, jr., acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Sherman Hill and Mr. Hew Duff.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride when Mr. and Mrs. Calvin received congratulations with Mr. and Mrs. Moore, who was gowned in grey georgette and wore a corsage bouquet of lily-of-the-valley and sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Calvin, the parents of the bridegroom, were present the latter wearing a lovely grey georgette gown with a corsage bouquet of violets.

The bride's going away costume was a navy blue foulard suit and a small bois de rose hat. Upon their return from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Calvin will reside in Toronto.

Richardson-Martin. On Saturday morning at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Johnson, Earl street, the marriage was quietly solemnized by the Rev. W. E. Kidd, M.A., M.C. of St. George's Cathedral, of Enid Ruth, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William C. Martin, Kingston, and Mr. Henry Eggleston Richardson. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Richardson left for Virginia, the bride travelling in a smart tailored suit of navy blue with hat to match, an Isabella fox fur completing the costume.

The Editor Hears

That on April 19th, 1926, after weeks of springlike weather and with the harbor clear of ice, a heavy snow storm caused a great deal of discomfort and several cold days following, was the means of starving and freezing many of the birds that had come from the south. This year the snow storm came on April 16th but as a snow fall has been a weekly occurrence this year, no one took much notice of it except the birds. But happily the weather has moderated and few of our little feathered friends will suffer.

That the late spring has kept back the vegetables and only those grown under glass have appeared on the market. The tulips, however, harder than rhubarb, are showing green spikes that shield their blossoms from the frost.

That at the funeral of Miss Vera Vanliven, a Girl Guide whose loss from the ranks of the Kingston Guides will be much missed, Mrs. I. G. Bogart, divisional commissioner, and Mrs. F. W. Partridge were present with eight cadet girls who, with their arms full of flowers, were drawn up along the walk. The Guides were Vera Saunders, Rhoda Hayward, Margaret Stafford, Edith Turner, Helen Deacon, Frances Dart, Daisy Gibbs and Maud Thomas.
