What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

THE FINAL ROMANCE OF THE INDIAN

"The Vanishing American" Zane Grey Story Picture at Capitol.

Their retreat into the desert fastness is marked by a trail of blood. This portion of the story of the western hemisphere's first citizens is included in "The Vanishing American," filmed by Paramount from the story by Zane Grey on the Navajo Indian reservation, 165 miles from a railroad. This epic of the American Indian, written in the sincere, direct dramatic manner that characterizes all of Zane Grey's works, is not a tragedy but in it he did not gloss over the transgressions of the white man against the red. George B. Selig who was entrusted with the directing of the picture, has followed the story faithfully, both in letter and spirit.

The bitter, courageous, determined but hopeless stand of the Indians against their white enemies, their retreat from the green fields and well watered country they had called their home for centuries into the barren desert wastes is a powerful episode of "The Vanishing American," which opens at the Capitol to-day.

"THREE BAGS FULL"

Captain Plunkett's seventh yearly springtime revue, "Three Bags Full" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Wednesday matinee of next week. This sparkling melange of music and comedy had its premiere in Vancouver in February, following immediately upon the heels of that other great Dumbells' revue, "Lucky 7," and its immediate favor was aptly described by one reviewer as "A hit on the heels of a hit." The performance is divided into three parts this time, each act designated as a "bag" full of surprises. Among the high-lights are Al Plunkett's "Huckleberry Blues," Ross Hamilton's "Romany Rose," "Red" Newman's "Bit of a Devil" and "Jock" Holland's "I've Got Ze Eye."

OBITUARY

Mrs. Robert M. Douglas.

At her home at 15 Nelson street, Kingston, there passed away early Tuesday morning, after an illness extending over three years, Jessie Mackie, the beloved wife of Mr. Robert M. Douglas. Mrs. Douglas was the youngest daughter of the late James Mackie, for many years agent at Kingston Junction for the Grand Trunk Railway. Coming to Kingston when a little girl, most of her school days were spent here. When Mr. Mackie retired from the service of the railway, the family moved to Montreal. Mrs. Douglas returned to Kingston about twenty-seven years ago as the bride of Robert M. Douglas. Her bright humor and generous hospitality soon gained for her a large circle of warm friends. She was particularly fond of young people and for many years was an active member of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. As a member of Cooke's Church she served in the Sunday School as teacher and pianist until failing health compelled her to withdraw from the work.

Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn, two sons, J. Mackie, B.Sc., of Timmins, Ont., and Hugh J., of New York City; one daughter, Miss Jean, B.A., who resides at home, and two sisters, Miss Ellison and Miss Kate Mackie, of Denver, Colorado, all of whom were with her when the end came. To the bereaved family the sympathy of their many friends is extended. After a short service at the home on Wednesday evening the remains were taken to Windsor Mills, Quebec, where interment will be made in the family plot of the Mackie family.

WEDDINGS.

Wood-Pelow.

On Wednesday evening in St. James Chapel by Rev. Father Coyle the marriage was solemnized of Florence E. youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Pelow, Clergy street west, and Harold R. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wood, Wilton; Mr. and Mrs. J. De Guire being the attendants. The bride wore a becoming coat dress of rosewood with a hat to match, and the bridesmaid was in black satin. After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents when many good wishes were extended to the young couple.

Sir John Martin Harvey In "The Corsican Brothers"

Sir John Martin-Harvey, one of the outstanding legitimate stage actors of to-day, scored another triumph in Kingston before an audience which packed the Grand Theatre on Wednesday night. Sir John's presentation was "The Corsican Brothers," a tale of gripping romance in the somewhat earlier days of France. It was a magnificent performance, which thrilled those fortunate enough to be present at the theatre last night, and Sir John's ability was lauded in immeasurable volumes.

Different and a pleasant change from the perhaps too frequent order of performances of the day, Sir Martin-Harvey's play, "The Corsican Brothers" was one to be appreciated and admired. The story of the play was founded on the love of two Corsican brothers for the same lady, Emilie de Lespore, played by Lady Martin-Harvey. The brothers, Fabian and Louis, both madly in love with their united choice, love this girl with a devoted love, such as befits the highest devotion. But she is married to a wealthy Parisian. Still clinging to their love for the girl, the brothers separate, Louis going to Paris to remain near to protect her while Fabian remains in Corsica.

From what follows there is dramatic action that requires the most skilled acting, and it was most certainly seen as played by Sir Martin-Harvey, who acted the dual role of the two brothers. Especially intensely gripping and realistic were the duel scenes, the first in which Louis fights for the honor of the lady and the second in which Fabian avenges the death of his brother. The play was largely based on a close spiritual affinity between the Corsican brothers, which enabled either to sense when the other was in danger. It was by means of this mental telepathy that Fabian learned of the death of Louis.

The tableaux in "The Corsican Brothers" were magnificent indeed, and drew much well-merited applause. So numerous were the curtain calls and so continuous the applause, that Sir John was called upon to say a few words at the close of the performance. He spoke very briefly, owing to the lateness of the hour, but expressed the thanks of the company and of himself for the reception that had been accorded the performance.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF ONTARIO DIOCESE

Address of President, Mrs. Havelock Price, Who Was Re-Elected President.

(By Staff Reporter.)

The Wednesday afternoon session of the Woman's Auxiliary opened in St. Peter's Hall, Brockville, at 2.15 o'clock. Many interested visitors joined the one hundred and thirty delegates and officers and the hall was filled. Mrs. H. P. Lowe, Kingston, has a table with attractive missionary literature which is a centre of interest at the end of each session.

Mrs. Havelock Price, Kingston, the president of the diocese, gave her address, referring to the suitability of Brockville as a meeting place for the W.A., the town being the centre of much of the activity of W.A. work in the diocese. She congratulated the branches on the splendid work done during the year. There was a general increase all along the line, more interest, more members, more systematic giving. The doers meetings and Forward Movement have been a great help. However, it is the "follow up" of the Forward Movement that is the real test. This year, the W.A. was asked for the sum of $25 to make up the pledge of $10,000 which the Dominion Board underlook for work among the Indians, Eskimo and white settlers of the west.

"You pledged yourselves to do your utmost to meet this demand, and you did it," she said. Mrs. Price referred to the loss of Miss Lewis, who has gone to England, as treasurer, and spoke of the good fortune the board had had in securing the services of Miss Winifred Burns for the arduous post of treasurer. She asked the branches to make her work as easy as possible by prompt returns.

The pledge fund is the first call on the funds of the W.A. It is a promise to pay our share towards the budget of the year, and it must be kept up. Speaking of the Dorcas work, Mrs. Price said that since the Indian schools have been taken over by the Indian Commission and have been re-built and enlarged, the responsibility of the W.A. to clothe the children has increased. This summer a new school, Souix Look-out school, with eighty additional children will be opened and a new school will also be built at Aleri Bay, B.C.

The president spoke of the pledges that must be met at all costs. "They are our promises to pay," she said. She also spoke of the great world conference of the Church of England held in London, Eng., in January, when the Bishop of Salisbury presided and the Archbishop of York was one of the speakers, and who said that to maintain the work of the church at its present efficiency 400 men and £25,000 sterling were needed.

The president, referring to the Junior session of Tuesday evening, spoke of the great work being done among the young people of the church and the need of sympathy from their elders. She spoke also of the need of publicity through the press and showed the advantage to be gained from letting others know of the work that was being done. In conclusion, the president said the things that made the wheels of life run smoothly were love, vision, understanding and consecration. Linked up with our greatest problems, woven into our life, they linked us up with divinity and cannot fail.

Reports Read.

Miss Winifred Burns, Kingston, who has taken the place of Miss Lewis as treasurer, read Miss Lewis' report which was completed when the books were closed on Dec. 31st, 1925. The total receipts for the year were $6,564.73; disbursements $5,495.57; balance on hand $1,069.16; thankoffering given 1925, $1,386.86.

Miss Edith Van Straubenzee, Kingston, read the report of the Educational Committee. The Girls and Junior branches, have undertaken to provide an outfit for the missionary's daughter, who is known as "Vera Keewatin" and who will go to school in Winnipeg. Letters of appreciation were received from her mother. $250 has been raised by the Girls and Juniors for her education. The treasurer announced that the thankoffering put on the offertory plate at the morning service was $1,359.87, a few dollars more than last year.

The voting of funds was an interesting item of the afternoon session and as usual aroused much interest. The $202.66 from the Little Helpers branches was given as follows: Oriental Kindergarten in Vancouver, $51.50; Door of Hope, Honan, China, $50; Gifu blind school, Japan, $50; Sunday School by Post, $51.35. The $15 of the Extra-Cent-a-Day Fund was given to the fund for comforts for babies in Mackenzie River. The president announced that a gift of $6 had been sent in to be voted on, so this was given for Christmas gifts for children in Mission schools.

The Life Members fees to which $30 from the Girl's branch of St. George's cathedral, Kingston, had been added, amounted to $282.50 when the $50 balance from the general fund had been taken out, and made a nucleus for a fund to provide a central room for the W.A. at Kingston. The money was voted as follows: West Coast Mission House, Columbia, $100; Klavie Hospital, Mackenzie River, $100; New Church at Kemberley, Kootenay, $82.50.

The balance from last year's thank offering, $194.93, was voted as follows: $100 toward the deficit in the up-keep of Indian schools; $100 to the Circlo Room, Nagoya, Japan; $196 each for two mission houses in Moosee, and $95 to the improvement of the Chinese Kindergarten building in Vancouver, B.C.

Kingston's invitation to the W. A. to meet in the cathedral city in 1927 was accepted.

A pleasant little ceremony took place at the end of the business when Mrs. Robert Steacy, Warburton, who had made herself a life member, was received by Mrs. Price, who pinned on her gold life membership cross.

Bishop Lucas of Mackenzie River, gave a splendid address on the work of the W. A. in that northern diocese, over 1,500 miles from a rail head. He spoke of the small branches formed there and also of the great help the W. A. and its Dorcas bales had been in the past.

St. Peter's church was filled in the evening for the missionary meeting, at which the rector, Rev. A. F. C. Whalley, presided, and the speakers were Bishop Lucas and Rev. R. N. Milman, M.A., Japan.

The following officers were elected: Honorary presidents, Mrs. Lennox Mills, Mrs. Buxton Smith; honorary vice-presidents, Mrs. H. Youlden, Miss A. Muckleston; president, Mrs. H. F. Price; 1st vice-president, Mrs. C. C. Abbott; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. W. E. Kidd; recording secretary, Mrs. F. Herzig; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Francis King; treasurer, Miss Winifred Burns; doer's secretary-treasurer, Miss Louise Kirkpatrick; Living Message secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Sibbitt; girls' and candidates' secretary, Miss Edith Van Straubenzee; secretary for junior work, Mrs. A. N. Lee; secretary literature, Mrs. H. P. Lowe; secretary-treasurer, Little Helpers, Miss E. Reynolds; treasurer, Extra-Cent-a-Day Fund, Mrs. Leech; organizing secretary, Mrs. F. D. Woodcock.
