

JOSEPH CRAMER MAKING CHEESE FOR MORE THAN HALF A CENTURY

"Frontenac Cheese King" Has Been With the Glenvale Factory for Forty-three Years—Has Won Many Valuable Prizes for His Products.

Joseph Cramer, cheesemaker at Glenvale, has established a record of service in the making of cheese which it is doubtful can be equalled in the Dominion of Canada. This year he will complete a period of fifty-two years as a cheesemaker.

Mr. Cramer, who is known all over the province as the "Frontenac Cheese King," has been making cheese in the Glenvale factory for stated that great improvements have been made in the manufacture of this staple article of food. He can well remember when there was no cheddar cheese, and that instead of there being a boiler, which supplied the steam for the different vats, each vat was equipped with a heating apparatus which was attached to the end of the vat.

As a cheesemaker, Mr. Cramer has few equals. In the year 1901, he was awarded a certificate of merit for the excellent cheese which he showed on that occasion. He has also won many prizes during these years. He has always made the best article possible, with the result that the patrons who furnish the milk get a better price for the finished article.

When speaking about the Frontenac Cheese Board, Mr. Cramer stated that he could well remember when the first meeting was held in the old Whig office, on King street, about forty years ago. Although not certain, he thinks that there are very few men living who were present at that gathering.

During the war, when it was impossible to get rennet, Mr. Cramer manufactured it, with the result that several cheese factories were able to get this much-needed article. Had he desired to do so, he could have made a very large profit, but he believed that he was doing his "bit" in making this much-needed fluid.

Two of Mr. Cramer's sons are engaged in the business. C. D. Cramer is the owner of Elginburg factory, while Fenwick is the maker at the Moscow factory. Another son, who is attending Queen's University, makes cheese in the Glenvale factory during the summer vacation. One of Mr. Cramer's daughters is a trained nurse, while another is employed in a commercial concern in Toronto.

forty-three years. He was also engaged three years at Odessa, three years at the Hope cheese factory, Port Hope, and three years at Wade's factory, which was located near Cobourg.

Recently, a representative of The British Whig had an interview with Mr. Cramer, and the latter related many interesting things which have taken place during the half century in which he has been associated with the cheese business. Mr. Cramer

LITTLE GIRL WILL BE PROPERLY CARED FOR

A Sad Case of Neglect Was Unfolded in the Juvenile Court.

A home without a mother, and love, is sure to be shipwrecked.

This story has to do with a home in Kingston in which there was a mother, but no father. The head of the family passed away some time ago, and the family left was composed of the mother and twelve-year-old daughter. The mother secured employment, and her work kept her away from home each day from seven o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock at night. Thus the little girl was left to shift for herself; it was up to the child to prepare her own breakfast, dinner and supper—in fact she was left alone to fight the battle of life. And under such circumstances was it to be wondered at that she went astray? With no person to guide her, the girl soon became wayward, but, thanks to the good work of some Kingston ladies who became interested in her case, she has now been provided with a good home, and will be properly cared for.

The case came before Magistrate Farrell at a session of the Juvenile Court held on Wednesday morning, when arrangements were made to place the girl in a home. One-half the cost of the girl's maintenance will be provided by the Orphans' Home, while the mother of the girl will be called upon to pay the other half.

The police matron has been acting in the case since the girl was taken into custody, and has secured the home for her, and as there was no place for the girl to be detained while the case was before the court, the matron also had her cared for in a home.

SIR THOMAS SKINNER PASSES IN LONDON

Succeeded Lord Strathcona as Governor of Hudson's Bay Company.

Montreal, May 12.—Sir Thomas Skinner, Bart, died in London yesterday, according to cable advices received here during the day at the head offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. At the last meeting of the shareholders of the C.P.R., last Wednesday, Sir Thomas was re-elected a director. He was a member of the London advisory board of the Bank of Montreal.

For many years past Sir Thomas Skinner was closely associated with the financial and industrial life of Canada, taking an interest in this country at the time when the C.P.R. was in its early stages, and when men of financial reputation were needed abroad. Through his interest in the affairs of the C.P.R., he took part in the movements for colonization of the Canadian west, and was appointed by Queen Victoria to be a member of the colonization board established with the aim of assisting colonization in Canada. He maintained his interest at all times in matters Canadian, and was especially well known to the Canadian colony in London, as well as to leaders in financial matters in this country.

Sir Thomas Skinner succeeded the late Lord Strathcona as governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, a position he held until 1915. He was created a baronet in 1912. He was a frequent visitor to Canada.
