That the work of the Kingston branch of the Canadian Red Cross that comes nearest home is the work of the hospital committees. Mowat Sanatorium, where well over a hundred patients suffering from tuberculosis are under treatment, derives untold benefit from the kindly offices of the ladies who visit the patients weekly.

No difference is made between those who have served overseas and those who have not. To be sick and lonely and far away from friends, to be in need of the little comforts that mean so much to us all when we are ill, is enough to call out the sympathy that takes a practical form in the hands of the Red Cross workers. Patients who cannot provide these extras have them provided for them, and those who are actually in need of clothing, those

How many, many times this could be avoided with care, it is hard to say, but experts in such matters all say that a very large percentage of the fires that occur are avoidable. WHEN the world started expecting more of women, the old-time "sanitary pad" had to go. Doctors urge a new way. Millions employ it. You wear sheer frocks without a second thought, any time, anywhere. You meet every day unhandicapped.

It is called "KOTEX" . . . five times as absorbent as the ordinary cotton pad!

Thoroughly deodorizes . . . thus ending ALL fear of offending.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You ask for it without hesitation simply by saying "KOTEX" at any drug or department store. Costs only a few cents. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

who need appliances not provided from the hospital, know they do not apply in vain to the Red Cross. Lately a man for whom the Government and his municipality are paying had to have his teeth extracted, and even in this emergency the Red Cross was called in and are paying for a new set of teeth for him. The soldiers' families who are in need are helped and anyone who saw the splendid Christmas gifts provided for the men and women patients of the hospitals would realize that in giving money to the Red Cross they are giving it to those who have not forgotten One who said: "Inasmuch as ye have done unto the least of these, My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful.

Mulsified Cocoon Oil Shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as it does not injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil.

The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified Cocoon Oil Shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.
