AT THE CAPITOL

Riot of Thrills Brings in "For Heaven's Sake!"

Laughter and fun have no monopoly on Harold Lloyd's current comedy gem, "For Heaven's Sake!" which is delighting audiences at the Capitol this week. The picture, to be sure, was primarily designed to make folks smile, grin, giggle, guffaw, chuckle and laugh out loud. In this it succeeds admirably, for no one can watch the bespectacled comedian trying to uplift a bunch of harboiled gangsters in the slums of the city, without wanting to exhort and roar with glee.

However, there is no law against mixing action with mirth, and Lloyd and his staff have not overlooked the opportunity to balance the funny gags with a choice assortment of robust thrills. In fact, at times, the excitement threatens to overwhelm the hilarity.

There is, for example, a sensational automobile smash-up in which a nine thousand dollar machine is totally wrecked by a speeding train. It's a scene of explosive action and thrill, and is guaranteed to make the most blasé film sit up and gasp.

But for nerve-racking suspense and hair-raising punch, the wild, riotous bus ride makes a stirring ending.

Jobyna Ralston makes a charming and wistful leading lady, and Paul Wexel, James Mason and Noah Young are others who are prominent in the supporting cast.

RIDEAU SCHOOL TO BE READY FOR THE FALL

Good Progress Is Being Made in the Various Lines of Work.

The new Rideau school will be ready for occupation in plenty of time for the fall term opening, according to present indications. The finishing work is progressing rapidly, and the contractor has started filling in around the building, preparatory to grading.

The carpenters are at work, while the plastering is practically complete. The painters are priming the inside ceilings, and the radiation is installed, and the pipes are ready for covering. STEAMER INDIA SOLD FOR LUMBER TRADE

Vessel Will Likely Leave Port for the Soo Next Week.

The steamer India, which for the last two years, has been laid up at the La Salle Causeway, has been purchased by Ramsay Brothers, of Sault Ste.
