REV. DR. C. BALDWIN APPOINTED SECRETARY

Of Bay of Quinte Conference—Reports at Thursday Afternoon Conference Session.

The matter of electing a secretary, who would act in a more or less permanent position, in view of the action taken by the Conference at the morning session, was the first item of business taken up when the Bay of Quinte Conference resumed in Sydenham street church on Thursday afternoon.
 Mr. Elmer Davis moved and Dr. F. E. Malott, Belleville, seconded a motion that a committee be named to survey the conference for a suitable nominee for the position of secretary, and suggest a suitable honorarium. The motion was out of order but Prof. Jolliffe and Dr. M. Taylor moved that the method of election adopted at the morning session be reconsidered. Mr. Davis again introduced his motion and it was passed.
 It was then moved that an assistant secretary be appointed to assist the secretary during the meeting of conference and that the committee named to nominate a secretary also name the assistant secretary. Later motions were to the effect that this committee also name the treasurer, the statistical secretary and the press representative.
 The committee named by the president was as follows: Dr. Malott, Rev. G. A. Sisco, of Renfrew; Mr. Elmer Davis, Rev. S. C. Moore, of Colborne; Rev. R. M. Hamilton, of Brookville; Rev. W. R. Tanton, of Napanee; Mr. H. W. Ackerman, of Belleville; Prof. R. O. Jolliffe and Mr. A. Hume, of Campbellford.

The committee reported later in the afternoon and named Rev. Dr. C. D. Baldwin, of Kingston, as the secretary, with an honorarium of $200 a year; Rev. A. J. Wilson, of Napanee, assistant secretary; Rev. R. A. Whittam, of Oshawa, as conference treasurer; Rev. James Taylor, of Braeside, as statistical secretary, and Rev. S. F. Dixon, of Rednersville, as press correspondent.

The report was discussed, but the only changes made were the substitution of the name of Rev. R. T. Richards, of Peterboro, for that of Rev. R. A. Whittam as conference treasurer; the raising of the honorarium of the statistical secretary from $25 to $50; and the granting of an honorarium of $50 to the conference treasurer.
 Rev. R. T. Richards, conference secretary for the past year, presented the report of the Conference Expense Fund. This report he explained was not complete as there were bills outstanding but the balance on hand at present was $330.42. The amount estimated for the present conference was $1,000 and Rev. Mr. Richards said that he had been assured that this money would be forthcoming from the various presbyteries.

The report of this committee showed that the railway expenses for the delegates to this session of conference would approximate $2,600. If the Presbyteries of Lindsay and Belleville could meet their allocations, the Conference treasurer believed that the travelling expenses of delegates could be met. The committee's report recommended that delegates coming by train should be paid full return fare, while those coming in automobiles should be paid fare and a third.
 A number of the delegates took exception to what they termed being discriminated against, and a motion was finally carried that all delegates should be paid return fare if the Presbyteries of Belleville and Lindsay could meet their obligations.

After the report of the nominating committee Rev. Mr. Baldwin was called on to assume his new position as secretary. Dr. Baldwin at this juncture spoke his appreciation of the honor done him and expressed a willingness to continue to service the church in the future as he had in the past. Rev. C. C. Washington, of Courville, moved a resolution of appreciation of the work of the retiring secretary, Rev. M. C. MacKinnon, and it was seconded by Rev. C. E. Dyer, of Greenbank.
 Rev. Mr. MacKinnon declared that the work had been a pleasure and spoke particularly of his happy relations with the retiring president, Rev. Mr. Barrett, as being a striking demonstration of how well the former Presbyterians and former Methodists had already learned to work together.

Rev. Mr. Tucker and Mr. G. A. Kingston moved that the report of the committee appointed to deal with the matter of a memorial service for the ministers of the conference who had died during the year, be accepted. The report stated that nine ministers had died during the year and recommended that a short memorial service be held at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon, and a summary of the obituaries of these deceased ministers be presented by Dr. Alfred Brown, and that the president of the conference be in charge of the service.
 Evening Session.
 The Thursday evening session of the Bay of Quinte Conference was given over entirely to a survey of the missionary movement in the United Church and this question was presented from all angles by Rev. C. E. Manning, D.D., who is in close contact with home mission work; Mrs. H. A. Lavell, the president of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, and Rev. J. H. MacVicar, who has served many years as a missionary in China.
 The president of conference, Rev. George Brown presided and Dr. Mc-

Fadyen, who is in charge of mission work for the conference, introduced the speakers. Dr. Manning, a former pastor of Sydenham street church, spoke first and he reminded his hearers that the first preachers of the gospel were home missionaries and that when Jesus ordered his apostles to go into all the world and preach the gospel that he stipulated that they were to begin at Jerusalem.
 Dr. Manning said that he had been informed that the Bible was distributed in Canada in 110 dialects and that there were sixty nationalities in this country. As Canada developed and her population increased the speaker saw arising a problem in this mixed people and he felt that there was no institution that could do as much to ensure harmony among all these different nationalities as the Christian church. Also he felt that no branch of the Christian church in Canada could make as large a contribution as the United Church.
 The speaker told a number of instances of how home mission work had redeemed to a life of usefulness boys of foreign parentage who had started on the downward path. The missionary work among the Indians on the Pacific coast had started through a book written by Alexander Mackenzie, the first white man to cross the Rockies, who had described in a vivid way the pitiful condition of these people, said the speaker. Now, Dr. Manning said, the Indian Industrial Schools which had been set up in the West were doing a great work in training the young Indians to become useful citizens.

A Splendid Spirit.
 The fusion of the Women's Missionary Societies of the three uniting churches was described in a very interesting way by Mrs. Lavell. There had been many problems to meet but Mrs. Lavell had nothing but praise for the spirit in which every member of the joint union committee had worked. The committee had already been able in several instances to put into effect what Mrs. Lavell described as the underlying principle of union, conservation.
 She told of the amalgamation of the five missionary magazines and of the gradual bringing of the treasurer under one head. The joint committee had adopted the policy that they must have the money before any appropriations should be made. In concluding Mrs. Lavell spoke of the Missionary Society as a spiritual force in the church and declared that in many instances the Women's Missionary Society was of the greatest assistance to the pastor.

A Land of Make-believe.
 That China has been to a great extent a land of make-believe but that it is now realizing that it must get down to the realities of life, was the message brought by Dr. J. H. MacVicar, who has had a wide experience in China.
 He spoke of the Chinese as the raw material with which the Christian missionaries had to work and he declared it to be the very finest of raw material. The Chinese were very industrious, he said, and many of them had a mental development which would more than equal that of any statesman in Europe. They were trustworthy and peaceful but in the past had played too much at make-believe.
 China had the largest standing army in the world yet the people were very peaceful, stated Dr. MacVicar. He said that the "Yellow Peril" of which the newspapers talked, as he saw it, would not be a military one but an industrial one. The recent happenings in China had tested the indigenous Christian churches and had found them not wanting, said the speaker. He pleaded with the people of the United Church to have courage to press forward with their maintenance and extension fund and to turn the make-believe of China into reality.

Granted Alimony.
 Judgment for two hundred dollars a year to be paid plaintiff by the defendant was handed down in the alimony case of Catherine Lee, plaintiff, vs William Lee defendant, by Chief Justice Meredith at the Supreme Court sittings on Thursday afternoon. Evidence in the case had been taken previously and judgment had been reserved in the case until Thursday afternoon.
 Medical service will be supplied by the Canadian Government to Eskimos in the Canadian Arctic, it was stated in the House of Commons.
