The Editor Hears

That the power of suggestion is great. We have heard that before you will say, but did you hear of the Ottawa lady who met a friend at a tea, who was wearing a large and beautiful artificial rose and went home and had an attack of rose fever? She declared loudly that her friend's rose was responsible. Well perhaps it was, but not from its pollen. Half the troubles in the world come from imagination.

That the Prince of Wales and the Queen of Spain are expected to send exhibits to the world's poultry congress in Ottawa in August, 1927.

That one of the interesting features of the annual meeting of the National Council of Women to be held in Vancouver, B.C., will be a Canadian handicraft exhibit. The Kingston council was asked to send an exhibit from its affiliated societies, but as the meeting, which Mrs. Frederick Etherington, the president of the Local Council, will attend, opens on June 9th, it was thought the notice was too short. It is hoped that if such an exhibition is held later, the Women's Institute, which is one of the affiliated societies, will send some of the handiwork of their members.

That the I.O.D.E. of Toronto are completing their arrangement for their annual Rose Day, of June 1st, the birthday of the late Queen Alexandra, the city will be divided into forty-six sections.

That the Navy League of Canada has done a splendid work and will continue to carry it on if well supported by the public. To care for the dependents of the sailors, to care for the sailors themselves in various ways and to train young boys to believe in the traditions of the British Navy and to become worthy citizens of Canada and the Empire are some of the objects for which the Navy League exists.

That the British Columbia provincial Council of Women has declared itself strongly opposed to women and girls appearing on the streets in bathing dresses without a cloak.

HAPPINESS.

(Matt. 13: 44.) What real likeness can be given. In the whole domain of earth. To the kingdom known as heaven. That begins with Spirit birth. It is like the precious treasure That a man found in a field—Treasures prove that natural pleasure To his mind and heart did yield. And to make it his possession He sold everything he had, And bought it—a true contentment That his very soul was glad. So life in its fullest measure Must be sought for earnestly To yield its divinest treasure In time and eternity. And in order to obtain it, Let all else be counted loss; Faith and grace will e'er maintain it. Through the virtue of the cross, Spirit-filled and more abundant Life the Saviour came to give. And His treasure-rich, redundant, He to trusting souls doth give. After Rev. Dr. Irwin in Sydenham Street United Church, 8 p.m. May 26th, 1926. —W. W. WREDSH.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

St. John's, Pittsburgh, Ladies Meet. The monthly meeting of St. John's Church, Pittsburgh, Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society, was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs.

AUNT HET

"I ain't never done nothin' sneakin' except once when nobody was here I set with my feet on the table."

John Abrams, with a good number of members as well as some visitors present. Mrs. England, the president, had charge of the meeting, and after the usual opening exercises, several items of business were talked of and plans made for a number of social functions at a later date. The missionary topic for the month was "Womanhood." Short readings were given and prayers were offered that woman might stand firm and fulfill the duties God intended she might in this world of speed. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Misses Bertha and Hazel Abrams, and a social half hour was spent over the tea cups.

Illustrated Lecture.

On Thursday evening, Rev. D. M. Rose, Kangra, India, who is on furlough in Canada, gave an illustrated lecture in St. George's Hall, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary. The meeting, which was arranged by Mrs. P. H. Huyck, the deansery secretary, was well attended and the lecture was most interesting. Mr. Rose, who went out to this Canadian mission in the Punjab in 1915, has studied the eastern religions and his slides, beautifully colored ones, showed the wonderful scenery of Northern India, the snow peaks of the Himalayas, the people of the country and the temples and village gods. Archdeacon Dobbs was in the chair and introduced the speaker.
