CITY AND DISTRICT

Cooke's Church Tea and Sale.
At Mrs. S. S. Corbett's, Tuesday afternoon 4-6.

Council Meets To-night.
The City Council meets to-night. There are several important matters to come before the members.

No Police Court To-day.
It was a quiet week-end at the police station and as a result there was no session of the Police Court on Monday morning.

Parties Visit Ports.
Many of the Americans in the city on Sunday took advantage of the opportunity to visit Fort Henry and other historic places in Kingston.

On Endowment Campaign.
Principal R. Bruce Taylor of Queen's University leaves to-day for Hamilton and goes later in the week to Rochester, N.Y., in connection with the endowment campaign.

Many Boats Out.
Many boats were seen in the harbor on Sunday, canoes being the most popular. One or two dinghies attempted to sail around but the breeze was not stiff enough and they soon returned.

Swimming Season Open.
A number of boys enjoyed their first swim of the season at Sandy Bottom on Sunday, and the water was reported to be quite warm. Swimming has been enjoyed along the Rideau River for some time, as the water there is much warmer than in the lake.

Crowds At Park.
Macdonald Park was a very popular place on Sunday, and during the day great crowds sauntered through the park, enjoying the cool breeze off the lake and the shelter from the sun under the trees. A large number of cars was continually parked along the water front.

American Cars Here.
Many American cars were in the city over the week-end, Monday being Decoration day and a holiday in the United States. The license plates of New York state were very familiar, while those of New Jersey, Ohio and other states were also noticed.

Gave Two Fine Sermons.
Rev. A. O. Cooke of St. Mark's Church, Barriefield, preached at St. John's church, Storrington, on Sunday morning and at St. James church, Pittsburgh, on Sunday evening. He delivered two splendid sermons on both occasions.

James Reid's Sale.
The ten days' sale of Simmons' products, which has been going on at James Reid's, ends on Thursday night. Thus far the sale has been a great success and those desiring Simmons' products for their summer homes have a splendid opportunity for securing their needs in this line.

To Try for Position.
Applicants for the position of district inspector of post offices, vacated by the inspector, J. Campbell Strange, are being received from permanent postal employees in the district, and a written examination will be held shortly. There are a few applications from Kingston.

Regis Courts Repaired.
The tennis courts at the Regis Tennis Club have been put into wonderful condition. The excess sand on the courts has been removed and the ground given a thorough soaking and then rolled. The result is that the courts are now in first-class condition for play.

Many Played Tennis.
The Kingston Tennis Club courts were well filled up on Saturday afternoon by players anxious to get into form before the regular season on the new courts starts. The Regis courts were busy over the week-end also, many being on hand to play.

Pumped Out Steamer.
The firemen were called on Sunday morning to pump out the steamer Champion at the foot of Brock street. The sea-cocks had been left open Saturday night and the water poured in. The sea-cocks were eventually closed and in less than an hour all was well.

Has Gone to Windsor.
Mr. Thomas G. Bishop, chairman of the management committee of the Board of Education, left last night for Windsor to attend a meeting of the costs committee of the Urban School Trustees' Association of Ontario. The rotary systems in use in the schools of Windsor and Detroit are to be investigated.

Hunting for Relatives.
In our advertising columns to-day appears a notice from Mrs. Minerva Vaughn. She is seeking relatives in Kingston. She tells The Whig that her parents both died when she was a child, but that she remembers hearing her father talk of relatives in Kingston. Her father was Fred W. Martin, a yacht designer.

Steamer Kingston Here.
A large crowd of people were at the wharf to see the steamer Kingston arrive here Sunday afternoon. The steamer had a large number of passengers and the young lads around the wharf had a wonderful time scrambling for pennies thrown to them by the passengers on deck, who were greatly amused by their actions.

Real Public Spirit.
Headed by Prof. John Margilllyray, president of the Kingston Horticultural Society, a number of members of that organization spaded up the grounds around the public library building on Saturday evening, preparing them for flower beds. This is truly showing a public spirit that is to be warmly commended. The Horticultural Society has become a very live organization in the public service.

Queen's Makes Donation.
The library of Queen's University is this week sending a box of some 200 books to the library of the town of Olds, Alta., as a gift. The gift is in response to a letter from Olds, asking how they could increase the stock of books in their library. The box is made up mostly of books donated by members of the University staff.

Taken Seriously Ill.
Mr. Charles Phillips, 11 Cowdy Street, well known caretaker of Frontenac school, suffered a weak attack while performing his duties at the school about eleven o'clock Monday morning. Dr. G. W. Mylks was summoned and after examining the gentleman, had him removed to his home. He was reported to be very ill on Monday afternoon.

Spoke In Toronto.
Mr. A. H. Carr, Director of Extension Courses at Queen's University, was in Toronto last week addressing the graduating class of the Toronto Normal School. Mr. Carr spoke of the courses offered by Queen's, and the graduates were quite interested, realizing that those who intend to stay in the profession must ever be working toward a higher academic standing.

Sharbot Lake Floating Bridge.
It is understood that the matter of the repair of the Sharbot Lake floating bridge which is at present in a dangerous condition, will be discussed at the meeting of County Council, which opens at the Court House Tuesday. The props of this bridge were originally on a ledge of rock, but they have slipped. Warden C. J. Graham has inspected the bridge and signs are placed on it that it can only be used at the traveller's own risk.

Fishing Cases Tried.
Magistrate Bradshaw heard four cases under the Game and Fisheries Act at Verons, on Saturday. Three men were charged with dipping for pickerel at night, but as no direct evidence could be brought against them the cases were dismissed. Another man pleaded guilty to fishing at night by means of artificial light, and a fine was imposed. A Pittsburgh township man pleaded guilty on Saturday to having nets in the water without a license and paid the fine which was imposed.

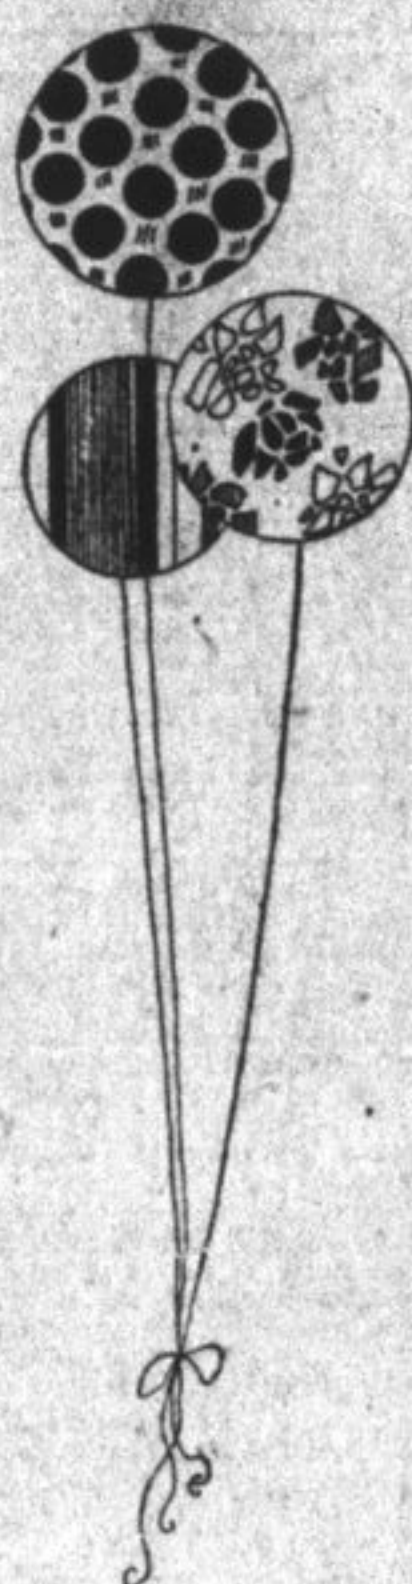

Funeral of James Vair.
The funeral of the late James Vair took place this afternoon from the residence of his father, R. J. Vair, Glenburnie, to Cataract Cemetery, at 2.30 o'clock, standard time. The funeral was very largely attended, persons from all around the surrounding district being in attendance to pay their last respects to a popular and beloved young man. The service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Stephen, of St. Andrew's church, Kingston, and Rev. Mr. Adamson, of Inverary. The pall-bearers were two brothers, Sheriff Bert Vair and George Vair, J. Baxter, Roy Day, Jack Day and Ben Robertson.

Splendid Results.
The first public canvass in aid of crippled children by Renfrew Rotary club has been carried out. The efforts of the thirty-two Rotarians met with such success that they were able to announce that Renfrew people, by their contributions, had gone "over the top," and instead of $2,500, the objective of the drive, some $3,244.40 had been raised. Some 714 individuals contributed $2,977.65. The Rotarians, numbering thirty-two men, gave $915.00; Rotarians' wives $218.75, or a total of $1,136.76 from the Rotary club, making the grand total including $928.28 collected last fall, of $4,142.65.

TWO CARS COLLIDE AND OCCUPANTS FIGHT
Free-for-All on the Glenburnie Road on Sunday Evening.

A collision between two cars on the Glenburnie Road Sunday evening resulted in an argument which led to a free-for-all fight among the young men who were passengers. There were no witnesses to the accident, except the occupants of the cars, but when two local men, driving in a car, neared the scene of the accident they noticed a number of young men in the middle of the road arguing and as they came closer the arbitrators decided to stage a "scrap," to settle the affair. Fists were flying freely when the fight was stopped, after some of the young men secured brushes on their faces. Neither of the automobiles was damaged badly.
