What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

AT THE CAPITOL

Syd. Chaplin in "Oh! What A Nurse!" Is Coming Next.

It is the Syd Chaplin of "Charley's Aunt" and "The Man on the Box"; the Syd Chaplin of the ludicrous female disguises and winks and nods and uproarious gags, who appears in "Oh! What A Nurse!"

Syd starts as a newspaper reporter, but it isn't long before we find him disguised as a bootleg queen and as a trained nurse. We see him through the most wildly imaginative series of laugh situations that have been evolved by a screen comedian. And the more we see of him the better we like him.

"Oh! What A Nurse!" which opens at the Capitol theatre for a run of three days, today is a gorgeous, gay and rollicking story, with Syd Chaplin always in the thick of the ridiculous mixups with bootleggers, a runaway heiress and a scheming match-maker.

HOTEL DIEU NURSES' GRADUATION NIGHT

Inspiring Address by Rev. Father J. G. Koster—The Prizes Presented.

The commencement exercises of the St. Joseph's Training School for Nurses, were held in the auditorium of the Hospital Wednesday evening. The inclement weather being responsible for the discarding of arrangements made to have the annual event held on the lawn of the hospital. The hall was filled to capacity and artistically decorated with flowers by the Sisters and nurses. Mayor T. B. Angrove presided and the graduating nurses of 1926, Sister Jordan, Misses Carmel Fowler, Irene McDonald, Anne Norris, Hilda Boucher, Cecile Madraw, Mary Jeroy, Alice Hilton, Irene Dowling and Marey Poloy occupied the platform. The speakers were Rev. Fathers Lesage, Koster, Nicholson, Dr. D. A. Casey, Mayor Angrove, W. M. Nickle and Mayor W. J. Wilson, Gananoque. The taking of the Florence Nightingale pledge was led by Sister Furniss, superintendent of nurses.

Mayor Angrove in the opening address expressed his pleasure at having the honor to preside on the occasion and he heartily congratulated the graduating nurses on their achievements in nursing. He spoke of the work of the nurse and of how it was necessary to give their services openly to those in need, creating satisfaction in the duties performed. His Worship reminded the nurses of the assignment that was before them and of the great responsibilities connected with it. In closing he mentioned the wonderful achievements of the Hotel Dieu Hospital in general and complimented the Sisters and others on the assistance rendered to the nurses during their three years of training.

Rev. Father Lesage, chaplain of the Hotel Dieu Hospital, in presenting the diplomas reminded the audience of the sacrifices a nurse must make in training and remarked on the wonderful service rendered by the graduating nurses of this year. Animated by a true spirit of Christian charity they had reached their goal, he said, and this same spirit should be an inspiration for all nurses in training.

Father Koster's Address.

A very inspiring and interesting address was given by Rev. Father J. G. Koster, C.C.C.R. Father Koster congratulated the nurses on their success during the past three years and stated that they were heroines in their profession. A reward difficult to attain was the one most appreciated, and their training was long and difficult, making the objective all the more desirable. The efforts of the nurses graduating ended with the presentation of their diplomas and they were receiving a just reward, as the diploma were the result of persevering efforts and sacrifice. "A nurse," said the speaker, "must possess many virtues to attain a high standard in her profession and must give service, sympathy and inspiration to those under her care. Nurses should be clean and neat in everything, willing to sacrifice and give the sympathy, love and attention of a mother to their patients and resolve to do better things when opportunity offers. You have received the laurel crown of victory in nursing, Father Koster stated in closing, and I wish you the same success in life's graduation."

"Nursing is a noble profession and requires untiring zeal," said Rev. Father Nicholson in addressing the nurses. He advised them not to cease their studying but to continue their efforts and increase their knowledge at every opportunity offered. He mentioned the noble work of the nursing Sister and of how their work inspired the nurses under the care, as it did Florence Nightingale in her glorious work. He then presented the gold medal, donated by His Grace Most Rev. M. J. Spratt, for the highest standing, to Miss Irene Dowling of Napanee.

Prizes Presented.

The silver medal for the second highest standing donated by Rev. Dr. D. A. Casey, was presented to Miss Mary Foley of Peterboro by the donor of the prize. Father Casey made reference to the advancement of the Hotel Dieu Hospital from a small house to the wonderful and beneficial institution which exists of the present day. He mentioned how the Sisters were extending their work and of Sister Haselwood of the Hotel Dieu Hospital who left the city a short time ago to establish another institution in Wisconsin. He congratulated the Sisters on their work and complimented Miss Foley on her efficiency.

Mr. W. M. Nickle presented the silver medal for general proficiency, donated by Hon. W. F. Nickle, to Miss Mary Jeroy of Gananoque. He expressed the regret of Hon. W. F. Nickle at not being able to be present on the occasion and stated that he considered it a privilege and a pleasure to be able to represent him and present the prize to the winner. He compared the work of a nurse to the weather of the day, stating that in their work nurses experience both pleasure and sorrow, changeable as the weather. He read a telegram from Hon. W. F. Nickle, wishing Miss Jeroy the greatest success attainable and congratulating her on her graduation.

Mayor W. J. Wilson of Gananoque presented the prize for highest marks in infant feeding, donated by Dr. H. E. Day, to Miss Alice Hilton of Kingston. Mayor Wilson referred to both the Kingston hospitals and of how they were deserving of the greatest of praise, which they re-

ENJOYED A MEETING IN DOXSEE'S CHURCH

Members of the Women's Institutes Heard Mrs. Lowe's Address.

Bloomfield, June 1.—About thirty members of the Bloomfield Women's Institute journeyed to Doxsee's Church, on the invitation of that Institute, to hear Mrs. Lowe, who has been sent by the Department into this section of the country. Mrs. Lowe spoke of the various kinds of work taken up in different parts of the country, the importance of a well balanced programme, the junior work, etc., ending with a little address on self-control. Reports were given of the work accomplished during the year by the Gilbert's Mills Institute, Glenora and Bloomfield. Mrs. Munroe, the district secretary, gave a little talk urging a good attendance, June 12th, at Picton when Mr. Putman, head of all the Institutes will be present. A delicious lunch was served and a half hour spent in renewing acquaintances.

Fifty head of young stock, all pure bred and T.B. tested, owned by farmers in this vicinity, passed through Bloomfield on route for the Old Pearl farm, where 175 acres of wire grass pasture has been rented for the season. Cattle belonging to B. R. Leavens, William Gough, Clarence Mallory, G. W. Fraleigh were in this lot.

The council of the township of Hollowell met at the town hall, Bloomfield, Monday, May 31st, as a court of revision of the assessment roll. Owing to a new equalization of the county of Prince Edward this year, it was found necessary to increase the assessment of the township by about fifty per cent. and this necessarily caused a great deal of extra work and worry for the assessors. There were fourteen appeals considered and on five of the appeals, the assessment as made by the assessor was confirmed, but on the balance a total of $2,600 was allowed, as it was considered by the court that they were assessed somewhat above property of equal value in the same locality. The total assessment as confirmed by the court of revision now stands at $2,537,140 and the population of the township, according to the assessor's returns, is 2,419.

At the Cheese Board in Picton on Friday, Bloomfield sold 200 cheese

Addition to Tourist Hotel—Rev. I. C. Wickware, the New Pastor.

Northbrook, June 2.—The home and full contents of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Benn was swept by fire about 3 a.m., June 1st. The eleven occupants were awakened by dense smoke barely escaping with their lives. Mr. Benn returned last for Clare a six-year-old boy and found him helpless on the floor of his bedroom. Much sympathy is expressed in their inestimable loss as there was no insurance on the contents.

H. Saul is building a spacious addition to his Tourist Hotel. Mr. S. G. Both has gone to Winchester and is much missed off the Ore Chimney office staff. Ervin Shier and Mr. Philpot are in Deshugh on business.

Many are planning on attending the Free Methodist Convention at Cloyne over the week-end. Many express delight that Rev. I. C. Wickware has been appointed pastor for this district, though we are sorry to part with Rev. E. Gaffey.

Daniel Wagar is in the district on business. Many choice fish are being caught by the tourists in the lakes north and the season looks promising. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson are moving to Napanee. Charles Rutten and men are fast spreading gravel and improving the road north of us. A number attended revival service in the United Church at Cloyne, Sunday, when the Misses Anderson and Northrop, of Rochester, gave a stirring message. Miss Hazel Parks, of Toronto, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Gordon Wood. Rev. N. Bosko was presented with a very fine Bible by Northbrook as an appreciation of his interest in the vicinity.
