THE GREATEST YEAR IN KIWANIS HISTORY

Strength and Stability Rather Than Numerical Growth Form Standard.

Montreal, June 8.—Pleading for a "zeal and a zest which will offer no compromise with indifference or inactivity," John H. Moss, president of Kiwanis International, at the opening of the tenth annual convention in the Forum last night, issued a call to Kiwanians to "redouble your efforts in behalf of your organization," to the end that Kiwanis may realize the inviting future that is held out to it. The past and present, he said, are enshrined in a halo of satisfaction, and the year just ended for Kiwanis was the greatest year the organization has ever had, when measured in terms of "strength and stability," rather than numerical growth. The future, he prophesied, has possibilities "as limitless as the germinations of spring, the growing of summer and the fullness of fall" and is brightened "by the golden gleam of greater achievements."

Already it has become apparent that the friendly rivalry to capture the convention for 1927 is to be a highlight of the whole proceedings, with Indianapolis, Indiana, and Memphis, Tennessee, having their publicity forces consolidated and launched onto the offensive. Early indications point to the Hoosier city winning the campaign, but it will only be after a hectic fight.

Provincial Air Pilot Seeks Missing Prospectors

Toronto, June 8.—Captain H. B. Tully, pilot of the provincial air forest patrol service, arrived at Parry Sound last night and will take off from that town to-day in an effort to discover some trace of W. J. Wetherhead and E. D. Solomon the two prospectors who have been lost in the woods northeast of Haliburton since May 24th.

Twenty thousand additional French troops are called for to subdue the Druse tribes.

Norman Kenyon Leavens, Toronto, eight years of age, was struck by a motor car and killed.

War time regulations respecting the consumption of food are to be re-introduced in France.

BARON HAD REFUSED TO DIVORCE HIS WIFE

After Promising to Do So—Prince Orloff Explains the Duel.

Vienna, June 8.—Prince Cyril Vladimir Orloff, wounded in a duel with Baron Klinger, on the latter's estate in Lower Austria, told the newspaper men yesterday that the baron had retracted a promise to divorce his beautiful wife so she and Orloff could wed. The promise was made in the presence of the baroness, the prince asserted.

He also declared that the baroness had contracted a suicide pact with him, to be carried into effect if they could not marry. She shot herself after the duel.

It was after Baron Klinger had retracted his promise, the prince asserted, that he sought the former out at his castle at Raab. The baroness said her husband had gone hunting. When the prince finally overtook him in the heart of the woods, he asserts, the baron grew insulting, and the prince, fearing he would be shot, fired first.

His bullet struck the baron in the chest, wounding him badly. The baron replied with his sporting gun, shattering the prince's right arm, which was later amputated.
