What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

AT THE CAPITOL

Pop all the Way in "Dancing Mothers"
Here's a situation that is really emotionally thrilling and dramatic. A lovely young mother sees her husband come home each night long after midnight. A flapper daughter wanders in at about the same time. Frankly, she is worried; not so much about the man she married, but about the little girl, who seems to have entirely forgotten her. One evening, at a night club, while dancing with her youthful escort, the daughter starts a flirtation with a bachelor whose reputation is not of the best. On sensing her fiancé's disapproval, she just flirts all the more. Time passes, and with it a growing friendship ensues between the girl and the other man. Finally, in desperation, her fiancé appeals to the mother. In a last effort to save her child, she determines to meet this man and see what he's really like. This is the plot of "Dancing Mothers," which comes to the Capitol today for the first half of the week. Conway Tearle is the worldly bachelor. Alice Joyce, the "dancing mother," and Clara Bow, the headstrong daughter.

MAY LOSE AN EYE.

Unfortunate Accident Met With by a Moberly Lad.

Lloyd Smith, a young lad living at Moberly may lose his eye as the result of an accident, which occurred at his home over the week-end. The young lad was playing with a stick and stuck it in his eye. He received attention from Dr. Goodfellow who had him removed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, where Dr. T. T. Samis is in charge of the case. It was stated on Monday afternoon that little hope was held out for the saving of the sight of the injured member.

Part of the wall of a Chinese rug factory had to be taken down before an immense rug could be removed. It covered 230 square feet of floor space.

WEDDINGS.

Small-Casals.

One of the smartest and prettiest of June weddings was solemnized Monday morning, 10 o'clock, in St. Luke's Church, when Vyetta Pearl, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Casals, became the bride of Samuel W. Small, B.Sc., of Detroit. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. de Pencier Wright, assisted by Canon Austin Smith.

The graceful young bride entered the church, which was beautifully decorated, on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mr. Bert Couper, organist. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white satin, trimmed with pearls and chancily lace. The bridal veil was a cap effect, held to the hair by a wreath of peais and orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of shell pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Little Miss Eileen Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Morrison, Union street, made a dainty flower girl, dressed in pink georgette and Irish lace. She carried a basket of roses and sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Miss Valerie Henderson of Deseronto, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and looked very sweet in a French gown of printed georgette, over peach satin, and carried sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Mr. Clarence Small, of Wallace, attended his brother.

Mr. James Small, Wallacetown, brother of the groom, wore a handsome gown of black satin, with touches of gold. Mrs. E. J. Casals, mother of the bride, wore black satin and lace, and carried roses.

A dainty buffet breakfast was served at the bride's home. A pleasing feature was the presence of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Henderson, of Trenton, also Rev. Canon Smith, who officiated at the marriage of the bride and groom.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents, also substantial cheques from Mr. W. H. Henderson, Deseronto; Mr. James Small, Wallacetown, and Mr. Melvin Small, Detroit; also Mrs. J. A. Donaldson, Trenton and one from her father, E. J. Casals.

The bride's going away frock was of blonde georgette, with hat, coat and shoes to match.

Many good wishes will follow this young Kingston girl, and her husband, who left by motor amid showers of confetti, for a two week's honeymoon, through western Ontario, via Niagara Falls, to Detroit, where they will make their home.

Equal Representation.

The hockey public of Ontario would no doubt be better satisfied with pro hockey. They would be assured of seeing a better caliber of the Winter pastime. Hockey clubs would also be protected against mid-season raids by the pros which has wrecked many a team. It is proposed to give every club in the new minor league equal representation on the executive. This is something that has not existed in the Ontario Hockey Association and clubs have been forced to abide by the decision of a few executive members.

Percy Thompson, of Hamilton, has a scheme to organize an international minor league in event that a Southern Ontario League does not materialize. He includes Newark, N.J., Buffalo, Hamilton, London, Windsor, Niagara Falls, Detroit and Toronto.

CATARAQUI TEAM GRATEFUL.

The Cataragui Baseball Club is deeply grateful to Mr. Jack Elder and the Hemlock Park Dairy for assistance given to a recent lawn social for the team. Mr. Elder "Smile" for the lawn social as a prize and the Hemlock Park Dairy for ice cream donated.

HORSES WIN BOTH.

The Dark Horses defeated the Beavers by the score of 8 to 6 in a juvenile league game at the Cricket Field Saturday afternoon after five innings of classy ball playing. The Beavers entered a protest after the game, stating that five innings was not a game.

The Dark Horses won from St. Mary's by a score of 13 to 3 in the midjet league game. The winners had a very easy time as St. Mary's could not equal the Horses' heavy batting and snappy fielding.

Golf Sweepstakes Competition.

There was a larger number than usual of entrants in the Saturday Sweepstakes competition held at the Cataragui Golf and Country Club. Mr. C. E. Taylor won first prize with the low net score of 62. Mr. F. C. Moxley was second with 71. Mr. F. H. Day tied with Mr. H. W. Davis in third place.

SPORT

PRO. HOCKEY LOOKS GOOD IN THE WEST

London, Windsor, Hamilton, Stratford and Niagara Falls to Form New Loop.

London, Ont., June 21.—That London will have professional hockey next winter now appears a certainty. At a meeting of the board of directors of the London Arena Company, held very recently, it was unanimously decided to consider pro hockey for the coming year and the directors will consider any proposal that the officials of the new minor professional league have to submit.

The minor professional hockey league which will replace senior O. H. A. hockey in the leading Ontario cities will be organized next Sunday, London, Windsor, Hamilton, Stratford and Niagara Falls will be represented and definite plans for next winter will be outlined. Brantford may be included in the pro circuit if they have artificial ice at their disposal.

N.H.L. Expect to Help.

Professional hockey will be welcomed in London and also in practically every city formerly represented in the senior O.H.A. A working agreement between the National Hockey League and the new minor professional circuit is sure to be placed into effect. The owners of the National Hockey League signified their willingness to assist an organization of this kind some weeks ago and during the past few days members of the National League have been seeking information regarding the new circuit.

RECEPTION HELD AT NOTRE DAME CONVENT

And an Alumnae Association Organized—The Guests Had Delightful Time.

From three o'clock until six o'clock on Sunday afternoon the Sisters of the Convent of Notre Dame were "At Home" to their former graduates and pupils to whom a delightful reception was tendered. A large number responded to the invitation extended by the Rev. Mother Superior and her assistants.

Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by Rev. Fr. Brady at three o'clock in the beautiful chapel, the devotional hymns being sung by the pupils' choir under the direction of Mother St. John. The altar was as usual tastefully decorated.

After the benediction, the acts of consecration to the Sacred Heart of Jesus and to the Blessed Virgin were read, this feature recalling very vividly to many present their old, happy school days.

The guests were then invited to the spacious music hall where two lovely numbers, instrumental selections for three violins and pianos, and a sacred chorus "Quid Retribuam" were given by the pupils.

Rev. Mother St. Alexander, Superior, spoke to those present for a short time and at the close of her remarks on a motion of Miss A. Hagerly, seconded by Mrs. F. J. O'Connor, and carried unanimously, it was decided that the "Association of the Alumnae of the Convent of Notre Dame, Kingston," should be organized. Mrs. F. J. O'Connor was asked to take the chair and having asked for nominations the following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. F. J. O'Connor; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. E. Ryan; 2nd Vice-President, Miss M. Brophy; 3rd Vice-President, Miss K. O'Connor; Secretary, Mrs. F. Maybee; Treasurer, Miss J. Brown; Executive, Mrs. Millan, Mrs. Keenan, Mrs. Jas. Martin, Miss F. Sullivan, Miss McMahon, Miss O. H. Ardagh, Miss A. Hagerly.

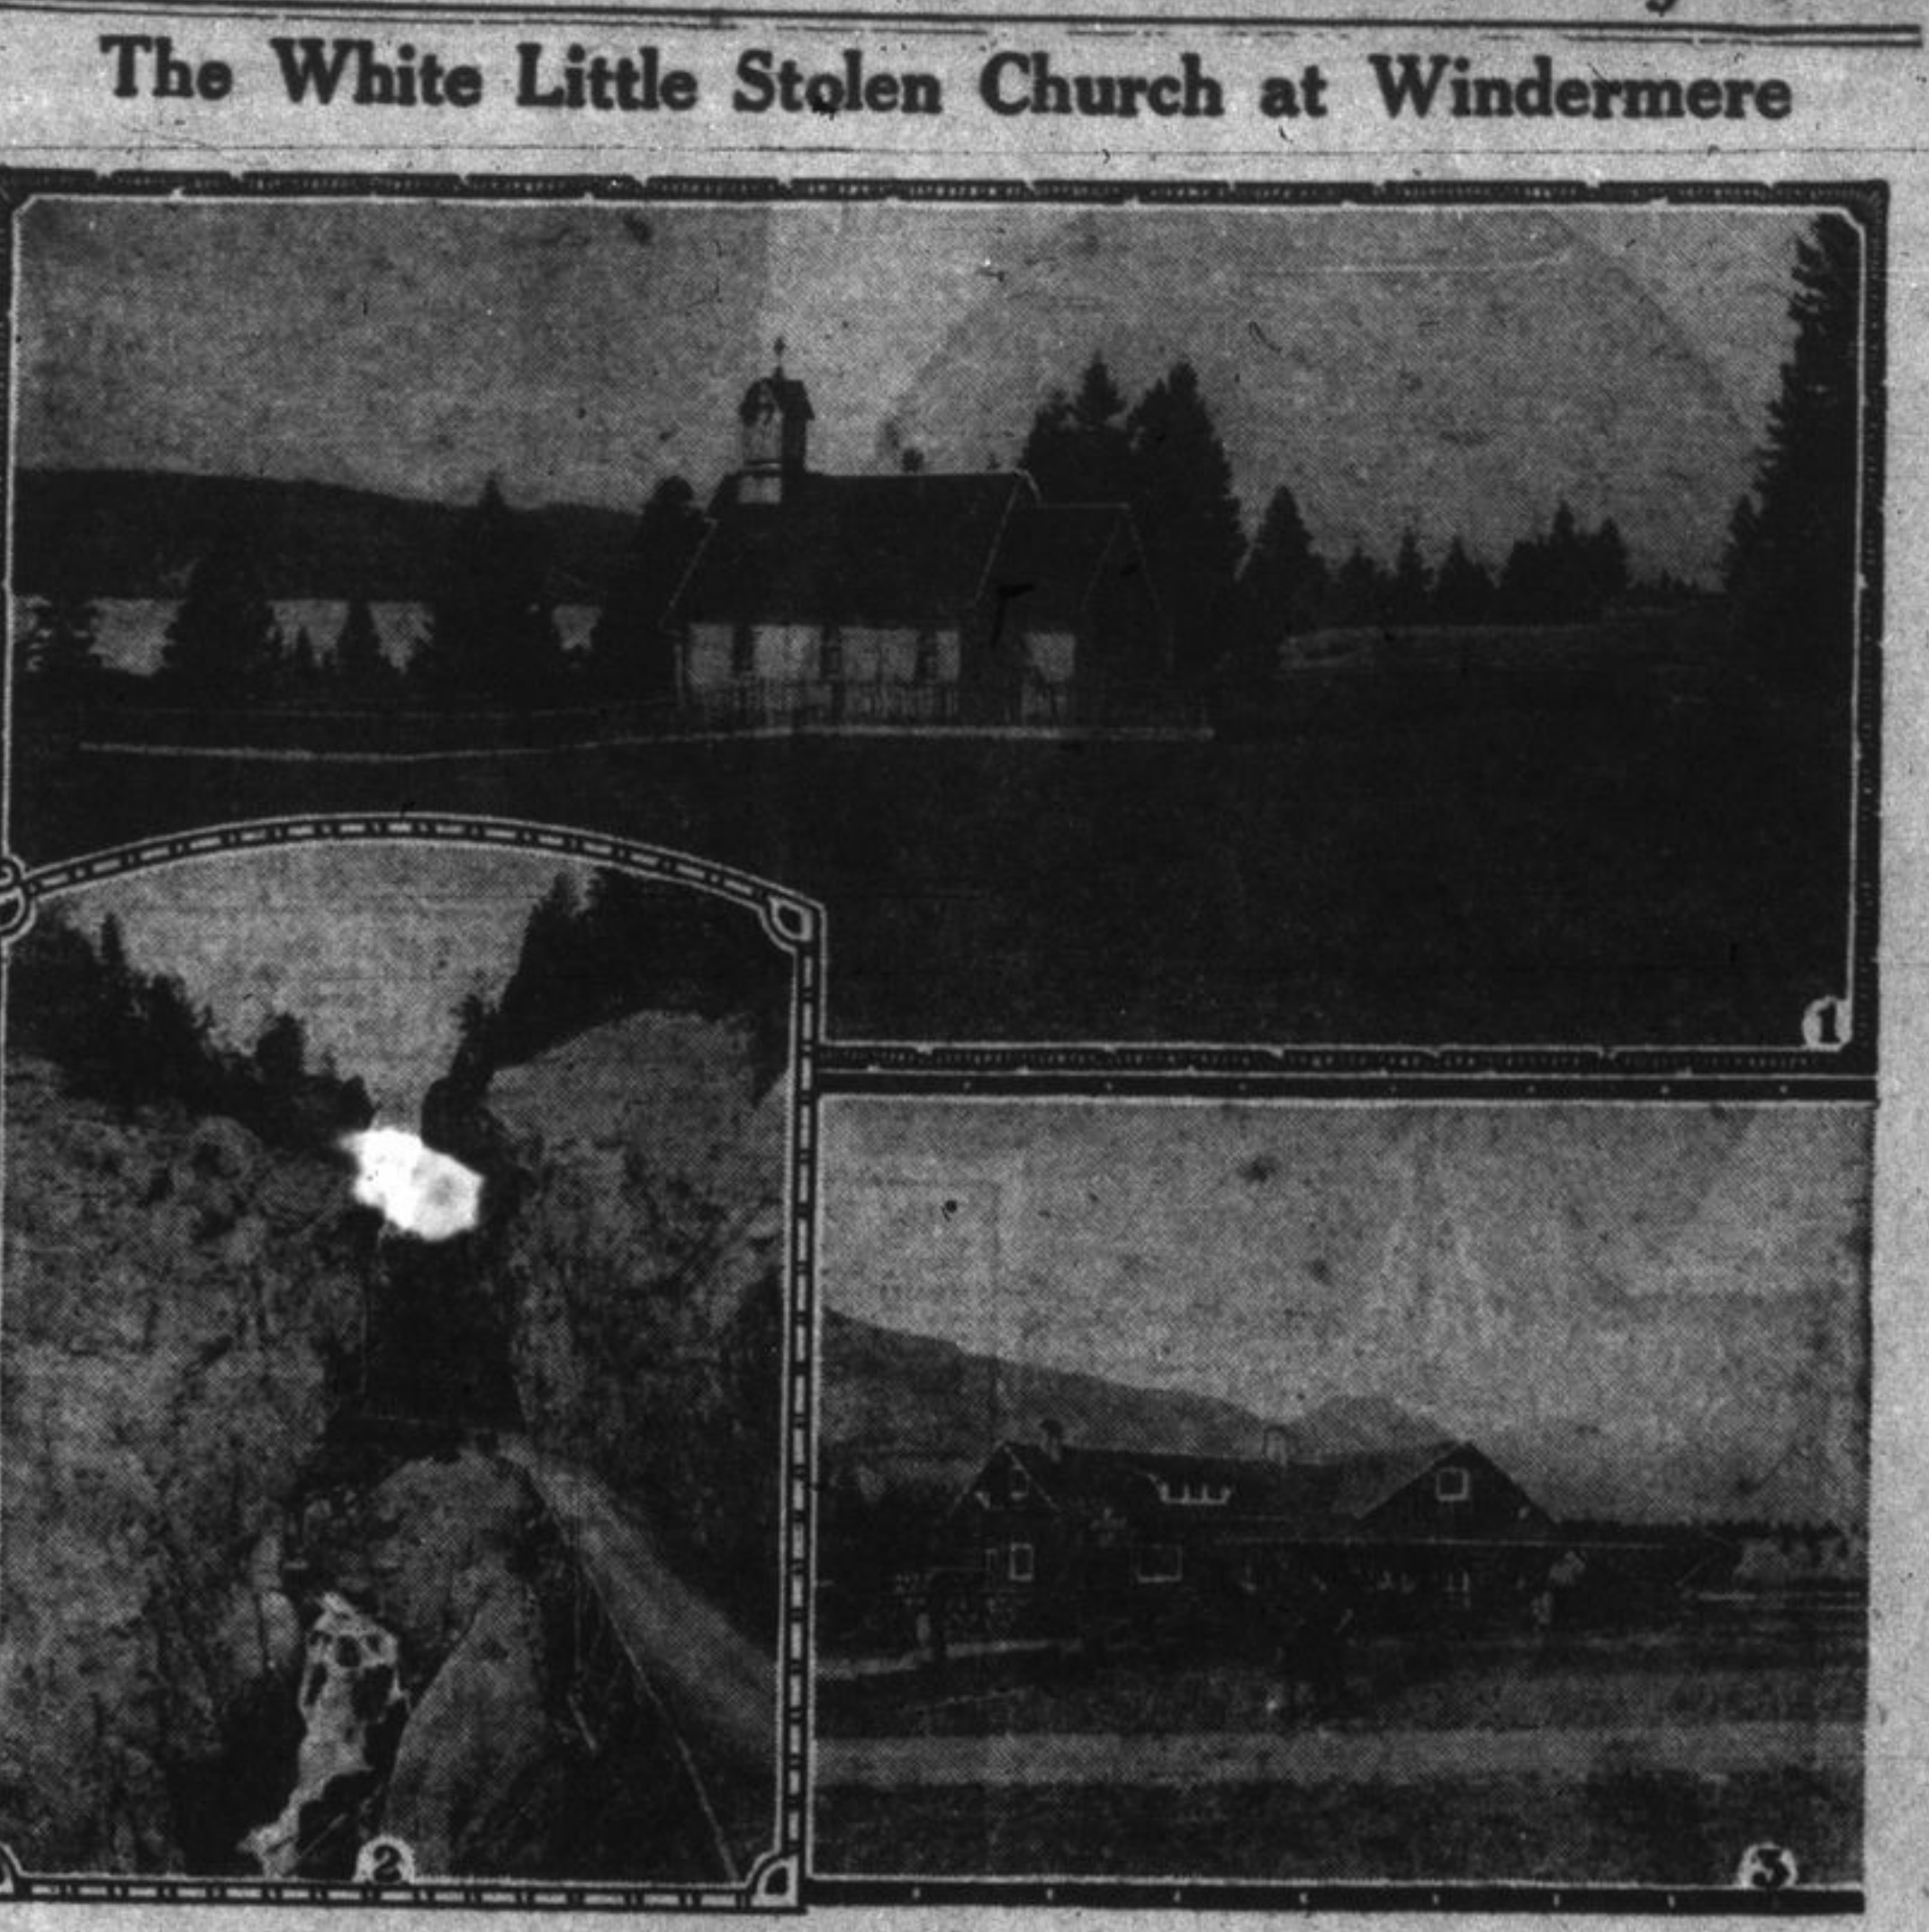

On behalf of the ladies present, Mrs. F. J. O'Connor extended to the Mother Superior and the Sisters very sincere thanks for the delightful reception.

The entire building was open to the guests and all enjoyed very much visiting the class rooms, studio and dormitories, cosy private rooms and other pleasant parts of the convent.

Dainty refreshments were served in the pretty garden, the senior pupils assisting with the serving.

1. The church. 2. The Sinclair's Canyon on Windsor Highway. 3. Bungalow camp at Windermere.

One can tell at a glance that the little church at Lake Windermere, British Columbia, has had a past—and proud of it, too! Nestled among great pine-clad ranges of mountains, on the shores of a silver lake, it is proud of its beautiful site, but prouder still of the way in which it came to be called the "Stolen Church."

How it earned this very unique name is recalled in a recent number of "The Mentor," by Mary Graham Bonner. It is a strange story of simple, devout people who so loved their church that they stole it, and carried it away for over a hundred miles.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway moved its divisional point from Donald to Golden, the inhabitants of Donald packed up and moved, too. Some of them went to Golden, but a few followed the former construction engineer of Donald up the Columbia River to a place he insisted was Heaven. It was pretty near it, anyway, this Lake Windermere with its shimmering waters reflecting the magnificent mountains. Here he settled, and built their dwellings, but in spite of the great beauty of their new home, they could not be completely happy. They missed their little church on the windy hill back at Donald. Plans had been made for the construction of a new worshiping place at Windermere, but they knew that no other church could fill the place of the old one, so dear to them, now sleeping and forsaken, in the deserted village of Donald.

Up spoke the engineer, the leader of the little colony. He knew what they could do. They would steal it. Move it away at night. Nobody wanted the little church but them; the people of Golden did not love it as they loved it.

So the church was stolen: unshingled, bound up and carried away one night—to Golden by train, thence on the river boat to Windermere. The steeple and the bell, however, had to be left behind, and by the time they had returned for them, the people of Golden had wind of the affair, and they were nowhere to be seen.

Bishop at New Westminster, too, heard of the theft of the Donald Church, and was moved to righteousness indignation. He wrote a letter to Windermere's commanding communicants to return the church, or suffer the consequences of the episcopal wrath.

But at Windermere, they were far too busy, every one of them, and too happy, to pay much attention to His Grace's admonition.

Windermere has grown since the Canadian Pacific Railway ran a line through from Golden and built a bungalow camp nearby, and the automobilists pass by in their thousands from Banff and Spokane, and the communion roll of this primitive little church has swelled considerably. It has a steeple now and a bell, too; but until this day, it still proudly bears the name of the "Stolen Church."

DISCOVER MEAGLES ANTI-TOXIN

An anti-toxin for measles that, it is believed, will fill a long-felt want in the medical profession has been discovered by two Detroit scientists, Dr. N. S. Ferry (left) and Prof. L. W. Fischer (right). The discovery comes after extended experiments in a Detroit drug company's research laboratories.
