The Editor Hears

That now the ball, looked forward to for months by the younger set and thoroughly enjoyed by their elders, is over, and the next event will be the closing of the schools and the exodus to the country for the summer. Camps are being prepared and cottages made ready for occupation; plans for summer trips are being arranged and people with motors are wondering which roads lead to the greatest beauty spots. Summer is the time to lay up a store of health for the winter and the best way to do this is to live in the open as much as possible, to keep fairly good hours and to eat and drink enough and no more. A diet of ice cream, sodas and sundaes does not conduce to health, cooling and delicious as these dainties may be on occasions. Not too much meat and not to many iced drinks in the hot weather; plenty of vegetable and fruit, milk and eggs, will send the family back to town, in good health, and therefore pleased with their holiday.

That this week the Women's Institutes of the district of Frontenac will hold their annual meeting in the Eastern Dairy School. There are thirteen Institutes in this district, one of the largest districts as far as numbers are concerned in Eastern Ontario. To those who follow with interest the splendid and far-reaching work of the Women's Institutes it is a matter of congratulation that our county has such a number of women who work untriflingly "For Home and Country." Kingstonians should give the members of the Institutes a hearty welcome when they come to Kingston.

That the Kingston Girl Guides go into camp at Camp Ontario, on Eagle Lake, near Tichborne, on Saturday. Miss Ferns Halliday and Miss Jessie Dyde, both Queen's graduates, will be there to welcome the Kingston Guides, and Mrs. I. G. Bogart, the district commissioner, who has been in British Columbia, will return to town in time to pay them a visit while in camp.

That the writers who stress the need for less objectionable and unnecessary noise are friends of the community. The motor is a great convenience, and a great means of pleasure, but it is neither when it is left with its engine turned on under your window when you are trying to sleep. The sounding of klaxons is necessary at times, but not to draw attention to your presence before a friend's door in the middle of the night. Other people in the street, who have no interest in you, may want to go to sleep, or if asleep do not want to waken, perhaps to stay awake all night when they have important work to do the next day. Don't be selfish. Try to remember the world is not made entirely for the man with the motor.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

PARHAM.

The first meeting of the new Institute year was held at the home of Mrs. David Goodfellow on Friday evening, June 18th. After the singing of the ode and roll call, which was responded to by twenty-one members, the secretary brought to the notice of the members the idea of taking a sewing course this summer. It was unanimously decided to apply for the course during the early part of August.

Places of meeting were arranged for for the next six months and a course of work mapped out. Booklets containing names of officers, places of meetings, topics for programme committees and members were decided upon. The following committees were formed: Educational, Mrs. R. J. Snyder, Mrs. J. A. Goodfellow, Mrs. Dr. Scott; cemetery, Mrs. T. Howes, Mrs. W. D. Black, Mrs. N. R. Howes; sick, Mrs. T. Bertram, Mrs. James York, Mrs. W. Simonet.

Following the lunch served by the hostess, assisted by Miss D. Young, and the singing of the national anthem, the members dispersed to meet at the hall, where they were the guests of the Agricultural Society.

Plans for Field Day were discussed and the hearty co-operation of the Institute and also the Athletic Club will mean a very successful and pleasant day for the society. The Institute will serve hot dogs and coffee at the dance which is being held in connection with Field Day on the same evening, July 1st.

July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Howes, with Mrs. Everton Cronk and Mrs. G. R. Howes assisting the hostess.

SYDENHAM.

A number of ladies motored to Kepler on Wednesday last to attend the monthly meeting of the Women's Institute held on the pleasant lawn at the home of Mrs. William Horn- ing. The president occupied the chair. The meeting began by singing the opening Ode. The officers elected at the previous meeting were: President, Mrs. Ross McRory; vice-presidents, Mrs. Ross Wartman and Mrs. Jenkins; secretary and treasurer, Miss V. Wartman; district director, Mrs. F. A. Grant.

The directors appointed are Mrs. G. Rutledge, Mrs. W. Hornings, Mrs. H. Brawley, Mrs. F. Wood, Mrs. P. Roberts, Mrs. F. Elston, Mrs. G. McNaughton, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. J. McCallum, and current events, Mrs. H. Boyce.

After the adjournment a substantial lunch was enjoyed; followed by a vote of thanks to Mrs. Horning for her kind hospitality.

The usual arrangements have been made for the bus to take any who care to go to district annual meeting in Kingston, on the 24th.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.
