AMUSEMENTS What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

AT THE CAPITAL

John Martin-Harvey Ou Screen At Capitol. .

Sir John Martin-Harvey, who plays his famous role of Sidney Carton in "The Only Way," a stage play based on the great Dickens' classic, "A Tale Of Two Cities," says he enjoyed the work very much. "It was so new and different, Stage acting is one long sustained effort," he explained. "This is all done in little cameos of work. I love it." In addition to Sir John Martin-Harvey, many of the stage actors long connected with him and familiar to Kingston audiences will be recognized in leading parts on the screen. Great care was taken in filming the story. "The Only Way" is recommended by competent critics and photoplay experts to the attention of the picture goer. will be shown at the Capitol theatre for three days, starting today.

Presbytery. The Kingston Presbytery of th Presbyterian Church met at Picton Tuesday afternoon. This meeting was largely attended by both clergy and the lay members of the church. The business transacted was chiefly of a routine nature.

A notable feature of the meeting was Rev. Dr. W. S. MacTavish's report which he gave at the recent Assembly at Montreal.

Dr. McTavish stated that most astonishing progress had been made in every department of the church and a most outstanding feature was the fact that the church had increased in its membership by over 50,000 in last year in Canada. The largest previously reported membership being 20,000. This gratifying report was well received by the assembly.
