The swearing in took place in front of the small wooden Anglican church which stood on the present Whig site.

Bring Main Line Closer.
The Ontario Government is to be requested to place the main transmitting lines from the Gatineau so as to serve most economically the 700,000 people resident in Eastern Ontario. Scouts Held Hike.
With a full patrol, the hike planned by the Rooks of the 1st Kingston Boy Scouts was held Wednesday evening. The patrol hiked out the Front Road for a short distance having scouting games and practise on the way. An ideal spot was selected for the short stop and a fire was started for the weiner roast, which always seems to go along with night hikes. Around the camp-fire the patrol leader had the boys revue their tenderfoot work. Night scouting was the feature of the hike and all derived a great deal of benefit from it.

Rear Another Cross.
On an island in Chats Lake, within sight of the spot that is now Arnprior, Champlain set up a huge red cedar cross, as a tribute to the Almighty for having guided him safely thus far on his journey toward the Huronia or Georgian Bay country, and as a mark to voyagers who passed that way. The Arnprior Chronicle thinks some organization with a love for Canada's intensely interesting history should erect on the island a cross that will be a replica of the one set up by the valiant Champlain.
