STRICTLY GEORGIAN COLONIAL

VAUX CHADWICK,
BRYAN CHADWICK,
REGISTERED ARCHITECTS-TORONTO

(By Vaux and Bryan Chadwick, Architects.)

The dimensions of this desirable house are 30' x 35' and the approximate cost slightly over ten thousand dollars.

The entrance front faces toward the side of the lot and in the space between the house and the next property, is to be laid out a somewhat formal terrace garden. Here, the flagstone pavement, bordered by flower beds and enclosed with a balustrade, will be a distinctive and dignified approach.

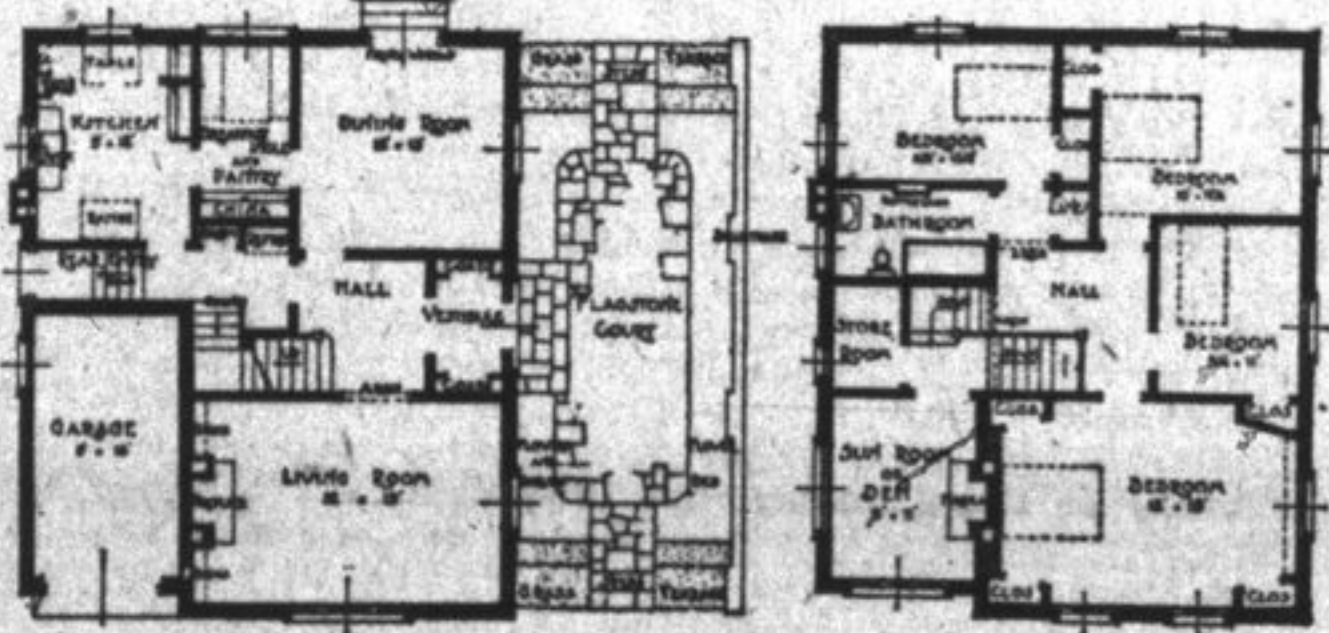

While planned for a fifty foot, inside lot, on the north side of the street, much depends on the type and proximity of the building on the next lot to the right. For this reason a north-east corner property would be particularly advantageous.

Comfort and convenience are considerably added to by having the garage embodied in the house. In addition to providing for it being heated by the same unit, it eliminates what is very often an unsightly driveway and enables the owner to utilize this space for lawn and garden.

Quite an unusual feature of the floor plans is that the den or sunroom is on the same level as the stair landing and is therefore afforded the privacy of an upstairs room, but not being actually on the bedroom floor, provides an ideal second living room. Readers desiring further information regarding the plans and specifications of this house should communicate with the architect direct. NEWS OF THE FARM

The West Is Smiling—Spraying More Effective on Potatoes Than Dusting—Poultry in Britain.

Warm weather has at last arrived, haying is well under way in most parts of Western Ontario, and crops in general are doing well. Corn, which has been very backward, is showing the effect of the heat and is growing rapidly.
Hay is a much better crop in Western Ontario than it was last year, although it is not extremely heavy. In the east it is turning out well, but is not equal to last years. On the average the hay yield of the province should be equal to requirements.
Live stock conditions remain uniformly good.

The West Is Smiling.
Western farmers generally consider crop prospects better this year than for several years past, says a report from Winnipeg. There has been little insect damage, rains have been fairly general and well spaced in time, growth has been healthy and rapid, and wheat is already heading out in early fields. With strong growth and early ripening, the danger from rust damage is considerably reduced.
High winds, heat, and some hail are reported to have done injury to crops in isolated districts, but the general condition continues excellent.
Inquiries are already being received by prairie stockmen, principally from Ontario, for feeder cattle for late summer and early fall delivery.

A Remarkable Swing.
"The western provinces of Canada are passing through the same experience as the middle western United States did 40 years ago," Dairy Commissioner L. A. Gibson, of Manitoba, said at a meeting recently held in Winnipeg. "At that time Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa occupied relatively the same position in the United States that Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta do now in Canada. They were the great grain producing areas. To-day they are the leading dairy sections."
In 1912 Manitoba brought into the province over 50 carloads of Ontario and Quebec butter. The next year it imported only 35 carloads, and in 1914 only 20. By 1915 production had grown to the point where local demand was satisfied by local supplies, and a surplus of 50 carloads was available for export. Ten years later the surplus was 325 carloads, valued at $2,500,000.

Spray or Dust?
Spraying is more effective on potatoes than dust, according to the results of four years' tests conducted at the N.Y. State experimental station. Lime-copper dust, of practically the same chemical composition as the regular Bordeaux spray, was not as effective, even when applied twice as often as the spray. Sprayed vines gave higher yields per acre, and a larger percentage of marketable potatoes. Sprays gave much better protection against blight, and were effective against leaf hoppers, which were practically unaffected by the dust.

Poultry in Britain.
As the British poultry breeder has much more confidence in the official records made at laying contests than in home records under periodic inspection, and as, further, it is comparatively easy in a small country to enter birds in a laying contest quite near home. Great Britain is not adopting the Canadian plan of R. O. P. and registration, as was reported early in the year. Such a plan was submitted to the National Poultry Parliament by the Ministry of Agriculture, but was referred back for further consideration, and will be adopted only in somewhat modified form.

The Seedless Fameuse.
This is the first heavy Fameuse (Snow) year in Quebec since 1923, and Quebec growers are hoping that the branch which produced the seedless apples which created a sensation three years ago will again bear fruit. Some time after the 1923 crop had been picked a grower near Abbotsford, Que., found in his bins an apple of Fameuse type, slightly elongated, which had neither core nor seeds. By careful picking over his fruit he selected about a bushel of such apples, and exhibited them at several shows, including that of the American society of horticultural science at Boston. It was generally felt that the commercial possibilities of a coreless apple of Snow quality were very great—but no one could tell on what branch it had been borne. A sharp lookout is being kept this year.

Two-Cycle Motor.
Fred Duesenberg, automobile expert, predicts the two-cycle engine eventually will be applied to both racing and everyday cars. Principal among the many advantages of a two-cycle car will be a 25 per cent. increase in speed, says Duesenberg.

THIRTY YEARS WEDDED.
Presentation Made to Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Empey Hill.
Empey Hill, July 9.—On Wednesday evening, July 7th, about forty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Barnes, it being the occasion of their thirtieth wedding anniversary. After a time spent in social intercourse a complimentary address was read by Mrs. Clarence Pinney. It was signed by Mrs. Wilbert Winters, Mrs. Wm. Pinney and Mrs. J. N. Mowers. Then the four grand children, who were present, Beatrice, Irene, Geraldine and Teddy Mowers, Harold Winters and MacGillivray McMath, presented them with gifts of silver. Mr. Barnes, on behalf of his bride of 30 years ago, and himself, thanked the friends who had remembered them so well. Refreshments were served, and after singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and again wishing them the best of luck, the happy gathering broke up. All were sorry that two of the bride's children, Mrs. W. J. Gibson, Ganaoques, and Mr. Frank Mowers, Upland, Cal., were unable to be present.

TO CELEBRATE ON MONDAY.
Rev. J. Pattenham Preached to Orangemen on Sunday.
Perth, Road, June 5.—On Sunday afternoon the Orangemen and also the ladies of the L.O.L. Order gathered at the United Church and listened to a fine sermon from Rev. J. Pattenham, who also is an 'old member. He pointed out the great good the L.O.L. was doing, and the power they were with the remark that "all Protestants should be Orangemen or Orangewomen." The lodge is looking forward to attending the celebration at Tichborne on Monday.

The quarterly board meets on Tuesday next. Mrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Sands were afternoon callers of W. Raymond on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. William Raymond and daughter, Evelyn, spent Saturday and Sunday at Delbert Ames', Westbrook. Misses Conklin, Southern California, are the guests of Mrs. R. Harris.
