The Editor Hears

That even the queens have come to it for we read that Queen Marie of Jugo-Slavia has bobbed her hair. But the young and beautiful consort of King Alexander appears to suffer some embarrassment with her clipped tresses when receiving visitors or when giving official receptions. On such occasions she wears a colored silk handkerchief as a headdress, which effectively conceals her shortened locks. It is said the queen had her hair bobbed without her husband's knowledge, and that when he discovered it he gave vent to his royal wrath. He asked how any queen could with dignity wear a crown with her hair amputated and her neck shaved. The queen is said to have insisted that the masculine style of hair dressing was not only in fashion, but was comfortable and convenient. All Belgrade society women are now following her example.

That the motor camp at Lake Ontario Park is one of the best in Ontario and motorists who have passed along the fine roads of the Northern States to the sea can remember many motor camps that lack the attraction of the camp at Kingston. Where are there finer shade trees? Where is there as beautiful a view or a better bathing beach? And think of it! Ice cream and ginger ale off the ice can be had next door.

To-day a letter was received by the editor saying that a party of former Kingstonsians, who are motoring through Canada, from the United States, say that the Canadian camps are better than those in the States and that Kingston has the best camp they have come across.

That from fifty to one hundred tourists visit the museum at Macdonald Park daily. The ladies who are on hand to receive the small admission fee and to tell the visitors about the tower and its contents will feel like glad assistance. If you feel like taking charge one afternoon a week let the ladies at the tower know and they will tell the vice-president who will arrange with you.

That throughout the county the gardens planted by the members of the Women's Institutes are doing well and the result will be seen at the Horticultural competition for which prizes are given at the Kingston Industrial Exhibition.

That any day in the Kingston shops you meet tourists buying the linen either plain or embroidered for which our city is famous among the visitors to the Thousand Islands.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

MOSCOW. The August meeting of the Institute was held at "Camp Kilarney," Varty Lake, the summer home of Mrs. W. Jackson. A large number of members and several visitors being present. After the usual business meeting which was interspersed with community singing, tables were laid in the pretty grove and a splendid supper enjoyed. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Jackson for her hospitality, her guests joining in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Home-made Wines.

The fruit should be gathered in fine weather and when it has arrived at a proper state of maturity. Remove the stalks and unripe or damaged portions. It is next placed in a tub and well bruised. Raisins are commonly permitted to soak about 24 hours previously to bruising them. The bruised fruit is then put into a vat or vessel with a guard or strainer placed over the top-hole to keep back the husks and seeds of the fruit when the juice is drawn off. The water is now added, and the whole macerated for thirty or forty hours, more or less, during which time it is frequently stirred up with a suitable wooden stirrer. The liquid portion is next drawn off, and the residuary pulp placed in porous bags and undergoes the operation of pressing to expel the fluid it contains. The sugar, tartar, etc., are now added to the mixed liquid and the whole is well stirred. Skim off the froth that arises and after three or four days of this treatment it is run into casks, which should be quite filled and left open at the bung-hole. In about a week the flavoring ingredients are well stirred in. The longer it is now left the better the wine. The juice of many of the strong-flavored fruits, such as black currants, etc., is improved by being boiled before being made into wine, but with the delicate fruits, such as raspberries, etc., this is not the case.

1.—General recipe for the preparation of home-made wine from fruits: Ripe fruit, 4 pounds; clear soft water, 1 gallon; sugar, 3 pounds; cream of tartar, dissolved in boiling water, 1-4 ounces; flavoring, as required. Makes a good family wine.

2.—The same as the above recipe only use 1 pound more each of fruit and sugar. This makes a superior wine.

3.—For still stronger wine make same as fruit recipe and add 2 pounds each of fruit and sugar; 1-2 pounds of raisins may be substituted for each pound of sugar above. In the above way may be made the following wines: Gooseberry wine, currant wine (red, white or black) mixed fruit wine (currants and gooseberries, or black, red and white currants, ripe blackheart cherries and raspberries, equal parts). This is a good family wine. Cherry wine, elder wine, huckleberry wine, grape wine, etc.

Watch Your Diet. Never eat a heavy meal when you are angry or unusually tired, as you are liable to pay for it with a headache or a severe attack of indigestion.

Enough Calories. For a luncheon, Welsh rarebit on toast and a salad of green vegetables are quite ideal.

Trifling with a corn razor is dangerous business

To remove a corn at home use this safe way

To cut your own hair would be an awkward job. But paring your own corns is both awkward and dangerous.

When corn-paring is needed, see a good chiropodist. But to remove a corn at home, use Blue-jay. Recognized for 26 years as

GARDEN HEDGES.

There are few flowers that tower above the stately hollyhocks. Or wear such dainty frills of pink, silk petticoats and smocks.

Nor can the nodding four-o'clock Present a statelier spire Than salvia, stiff and straight, that flaunts A head of flaming fire.

The California poppies vie With many-colored phlox; Blue butterflies of larkspur hide Behind the giant stocks.

But take me to the hedge-rows deep, The hidden, lowly spots, Where bloom the heart's-ease, softly shrined Among forget-me-nots.

—Ada Borden Stevens.

Woman Chief is "Flying Cop." London—Commandant Mary Allen, co-founder of the women's police service in London, has become known as Europe's "flying cop" since she is one of the most travelled police officials in the world. When possible she makes her trips by aeroplane. Commandant Allen, who is credited with knowing more women crooks of all countries than any other woman in the police business, visited the United States two years ago, and has been pretty much on the go ever since.

She thinks nothing of flying to Paris, Berlin or other points in one day, on some important case in which a woman is involved, and back to London the next. The setting up of a women's international police commission was due primarily to efforts of Commandant Allen.

Women's Danger

Of offending under the oldest hygienic handicap now edict. New way provides true protection—discards like tissue

WITH the old-time "sanitary pad" women realize their constant danger of offense, plus the embarrassment of disposal. And thus spend unhappy days.

"KOTEX," a new and remarkable way, is now used by 8 in 10 better class women. It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads!

You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheerest frocks without a second's doubt or fear. It deodorizes, too. And thus stops ALL danger of offending.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment. You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX"

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Package of twelve costs only a few cents.
