

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Bartor

The Magic Fork.

"So that's it!" cried Daddy Gander as he and the Twins looked into the Green Wizard's gazing ball and saw a surprising sight.

What they saw was the House-That-Jack-Built, riding along on a cloud up in the sky, with dough sticking out of the windows. The house had dough sticking out of the windows, I mean, not the sky.

"What do you mean by saying, 'So that's it!'" asked Nancy. "What's it?"

The Green Wizard looked at Daddy Gander and Daddy Gander looked at the Green Wizard and they both nodded wisely at each other, and then Daddy Gander said, "The bread sponge. That's what's it. It's all the fault of the bread sponge."

"We don't know what you mean, sir," said Nick in a puzzled voice. "We don't know what you are talking about."

"Why," said Daddy, "don't you see? When Mrs. John, Jack's mother, went outside the house to hang up her tea-towels to air on the clothes line, she began to talk to her neighbor, Mrs. Spratt, over the back fence, about the best way to make apple-butter, and she forgot all about her bread sponge."

"Well, it began to rise and it kept on rising until it raised the lid off the pan. Then it kept on rising faster and faster until it filled the kitchen and began to poke out of the windows."

"The next thing it did was to raise the little house up in the air and float away completely."

"Yes, sir! That's right," said the Green Wizard. "And there it is, up there in the sky with no more intention of coming back than last Christmas."

"Oh, dear!" said Nancy. "Then what will poor Jack do?"

"There is only one way I know of, said the Green Wizard.

"What is that?" asked Nick quickly.

"To get the magic fork," nodded the Wizard wisely.

"The magic fork!" cried everybody in surprise.

"Yes—the magic fork," said the Green Wizard. "If you find it you can poke it into the bread sponge, and let the air out. Then when the air gets out of the bread sponge, it will do like a balloon, the house will settle right down to the ground again."

"But, can we get the magic fork?" cried the Twins quickly.

"There's the rub," said the Green Wizard. "I'm not sure just where it is. But it is usually to be found with the magic teapot."

"I see you don't seem to know any more about the magic teapot than you do about the magic fork. So I'll tell you about it. Whoever has the magic teapot has only to say:

"Go do your best.
Go do your worst.
Or teapot, dear, I'll die of thirst!"

"And instantly the teapot returns with any kind of refreshment one needs. Milk or water or lemonade or even ice cream soda. Anything at all. It is the same with the fork. Whoever possesses it says:

"Oh, magic fork, I'd like a treat.
Please see what you can find to eat."

"Instantly the fork goes on a hunting trip. Whatever it touches sticks to its sharp points and it has been known to bring home a whole course dinner."

"Well, well, well!" said Daddy Gander. "There are more reasons than one why I should like to find the magic fork and the magic teapot, Twins. Let's be off at once."

A HERO

Lawrence Grass of Canmore, Alberta, is the hero of the annual meeting of the Alpine Club of Canada in the Tonquin Valley, Jasper National Park. Descending a lofty mountain another climber broke his ankle. Grass shouldered him and carried him all the way down, risking death every foot of the way.

HOPE FOR BUSHELL'S ELECTION

McLean People Think He is Worthy of Support.

McLean, Aug. 31.—A slight frost did a little damage to corn last week. Service was held Sunday evening by Rev. Mr. Harper and a large company attended. Wella Smith, Christina Raycroft and Edward Brown took in the excursion to the West. Some of the farmers speak highly of Mr. Bushell. When he does so much for farmers at the fair and excursions to Ottawa, why wouldn't he be a great help to farmers in Parliament. Here's wishing him success in the coming election.

Miss Jean McLeod, our new teacher, arrived on Monday to take over the school. Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown and family spent Sunday at Elgin Wagar's, Petworth. Mrs. W. Cousins received word that her brother, S. J. Rawley, had left for England to join his wife Mrs. Rawley, whose mother is very ill. Mr. and Mrs. E. Hinton, Rev. Mr. Harper, Mrs. H. Asselstine, M. Wood, Mrs. John Keller and daughter Nadine, Cecil Woodcock at Russel Woods' on Sunday. Miss Madeline Brown, Kingston, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. Cousins.
