What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

AT THE CAPITOL

JACK LONDON'S "SEA WOLF" IS NOW APPEARING

Spectacular scenes that thrill and dramatic episodes that hold the attention from start to finish, are incorporated in the new screen version of Jack London's rugged story of adventure "The Sea Wolf" which will be on view at the Capitol theatre for two days beginning today. The collision of a giant liner with a crowded ferry-boat in San Francisco Bay, the mutiny aboard the "Wolf's" sealing schooner, and the tragic finish of the "Wolf's" career when his vessel goes down in flames, are only a few of the dramatic episodes with which the picture abounds. On the other hand, a delightful love story is blended with this atmosphere of violence. The character of "Wolf" Larsen, the brutal sea captain, who rules with an iron hand, but who is a deep student of philosophy and reader of poetry, is delineated on the screen by Ralph W. Ince with ever greater force than it was on the printed page.

32 OUT THIS MORNING

Thirty-two players attended the practice of the Queen's rugby squad at the George Richardson Memorial Stadium on Friday morning, all the candidates already reported being in attendance. Coach Hughes put the players through P. T. exercises and went over a few points of the game with the players. The rooms have been nearly completed at the stadium and the final touches are being put on. Jack Powell's training quarters have been fitted up and the general swing of the work will be started within a day or two.

A FARMERS' NIGHT AT KIWANIS CLUB

An Enjoyable Time Spent by Members and Their Farmer Friends.

The Kiwanis Club on Thursday night entertained a number of their farmer friends at dinner, including the boys who took part in the Potato Contest under the auspices of the Club. There was a very large number in attendance and the meeting was one of the liveliest held in the Kiwanis Club in some weeks. Two addresses, a piano solo by Mrs. Bugge, recitations by Miss Eve Newell, selections by Kiwanian Jimmy Sowards' band and club singing enlivened the proceedings considerably.

In opening the meeting, President Columbus Hanley welcomed the guests to the meeting and hoped that they would enjoy the evening. Club singing under the direction of Kiwanian Billy Mills was kept on the go and ended up with Kiwanians Billy Moore, Jimmy Sowards and George Bowden rendering special selections by request. They were not encored. There was plenty of liveliness and fines flew thick and fast at one stage of the meeting, especially during the roll call.

A delightful piano solo, which was greatly appreciated, was rendered by Mrs. Bugge and she was forced to respond with another selection. Miss Eve Newell greatly delighted the gathering by two recitations which scored a big hit. There were two speakers during the evening, Mr. Walter Cooke, president of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association, and Mr. F. C. Hart, director of Market Branch of the Department of Agriculture, both addresses being enjoyed.

Vegetable Growing.

Mr. Cooke, in his talk pointed out that the city man and the farmer understand each other much better to-day than a few years ago, the relations between the two having dematerialized the feeling a great deal. He explained that there were two vegetable growing districts in the vicinity of Kingston, namely, Portsmouth and Cataraqui. Between the two there was Mr. R. J. Bushell on the Bath Road.

Mr. Cooke stated that the products of the vegetable growers in these sections were sold locally and the money received from their sale was spent in Kingston. He declared that Kingston people were receiving as good quality in their vegetables from these growers, as any place. He stated that he had visited many sections but failed to see any place better supplied than Kingston.

The speaker explained the various phases of vegetable growing, the summer crops, storage crops and the growing of vegetables under glass. He spoke of the competition from the south in vegetables, which, he claimed, had a bad effect on the vegetable growing industry here. He stated that vegetable growers here were forced to compete against produce from the land tilted by Mexican labor and again he drew a comparison of the climatic conditions existing in the two countries.

Imported vegetables from the south did not call for the same duty as Canadian vegetables did and the result was that these vegetables from the south were dumped into Canada, resulting in the first place from year round production, which Canada could not have. Mr. Cooke referred to the rebate on spoiled goods that United States shippers received.

Mr. Cooke advocated a poundage duty on vegetables, declaring this to be the best means of counteracting the conditions that existed. He stated that the Canadian consumers must depend on the honesty of the American exporters and the Canadian importers and he declared further that no matter which way one looked at it, the vegetable grower in Canada was entitled to more consideration than he was receiving.

A vote of thanks was moved to the speaker by Kiwanian W. Y. Mills. Kiwanians W. Moore reminded the Kiwanians of the Toronto convention and also of a visit of the local club to Gananoque on September 27th with the idea of forming a club there.

The boosters for the day were Kiwanians Alf. Fair, J. S. Sibbitt, G. W. Bell and R. H. Fair.

Production and Consumption.

Mr. F. C. Hart, Director of Markets in the Department of Agriculture was called upon and delivered a short talk. The speaker took up the various problems of the producer and stated that production was only half of the job, the other half being in securing consumption for the production. He declared that the time was past for the farmer to produce only for his own use and markets were necessary.

He advocated group marketing for the farmers and stated that co-operative marketing was fundamental to put business on a sound basis and was not to do away with the middle man. Mr. Hart explained some of the work coming under his own department and his talk was very much enlightening and instructive.

A vote of thanks was moved to the speaker by Kiwanian Murdock Johnston. Kiwanian Fraser Armstrong congratulated the boys who had entered the Potato Growing Contest on their splendid showing at the Fair. He thanked Mr. A. W. Sirrett, Agricultural representative, for the assistance he had given.
