EX-ALD. JAMES NORRIS DIED THURSDAY NIGHT Conducted Ottawa House for Thirty Years—Later in Automobile Business. A very well-known and much respected resident of this city passed away at his home, Clergy street, on Thursday night in the person of Ex-ald. James Norris. Deceased had been in failing health for some time, but up until a few days ago had been around as usual. The passing of Mr. Norris has created widespread sympathy. The late Mr. Norris was born at Howe Island, but came to Kingston when quite young. For some time he conducted a store and later on became proprietor of the old Ottawa House, an establishment well-known at that time. Mr. Norris was in the hotel business for about thirty years. After leaving the hotel business, Mr. Norris became the Kingston agent for Overland motor cars and he conducted his automobile business at the corner of Queen and Bagot streets where the Cook garage is now located. In 1911 Mr. Norris retired from active business. Mr. Norris represented Cataraqui ward in the city council for some years and in serving on the various committees he rendered excellent service. He was a devout Catholic in religion and a frequent communicant. He is survived by his wife, four sons, Frank, district superintendent of the Canada Steamship Lines; Captain James V., of Chicago; Arthur of the Canada Steamship Lines, and John at home; also by three daughters, Mrs. M. Barry of Prescott, Mrs. F. J. Teaky of Winnipeg, Mrs. D. L. Kennedy of Bruno, Sask., one brother, Thomas of Howe Island, and a sister, Mrs. V. R. Hunt of Rockport. The funeral will be held on Monday to St. Mary's Cathedral, and thence to St. Mary's cemetery.

TOO MANY FIGHTS ON ALL THE RADIOS And as Result Young Lady Did Not Get Line on the Big B out. A young lady of tender years, but at the same time an enthusiastic fight fan, who wished to tune in on the Dempsey-Tunney bout last evening, was granted the use of her uncle's radio. When the uncle, who had been out for the evening, returned about 10 o'clock, he asked the young lady if she had obtained the fight results. "No," she replied with a pout. "I tried every station and there was a fight going on at all of them and I couldn't tell which was the fight I wanted."

CLOSE OF SESSIONS OF THE FALL ASSIZES Case Over a Will Was Dismissed With Costs Following Hearing. The sittings of the fall assizes, which have been held here this week before Mr. Justice Logie, were concluded on Thursday afternoon. The case of Elizabeth Moore vs. Sarah A. Knight and E. B. Thompson, was dismissed with costs. David John Moore, husband of the plaintiff, made two wills before his death. The first was that all his property should go to his wife, while the second will read that his wife should have a life interest in his real estate, and that on her death it should pass to his niece, Sarah A. Knight. Mrs. Moore brought action to get a declaration that she was the personal owner of one-half of the real estate left by her husband at the time of his death. Mrs. Moore testified that some of the property had been bought with her money. His Lordship held that the money used to buy all the property came from a joint account, which both husband and wife contributed to, and that under the circumstances, he could not set aside the will of the deceased. Cunningham & Smith appeared for the plaintiff, Rigney & Hickey for Sarah A. Knight, and Day and Revel for the defendants. The claim of Mary Stone, against the city of Kingston for damages because of injuries she received when she fell on an icy pavement was by consent, dismissed without costs. Mr. Ambrose Shea acted for the plaintiff and City Solicitor T. J. Rigney for the defendants. The action of Florence Mathew, against Ans Kelly, for a declaration in connection with a will, and accounting of monies, was dismissed with costs. Mr. Ambrose Shea for the plaintiff, and Rigney & Hickey for the defendant. "Action dismissed with costs," was the decision of the court in the case of A. H. Kennedy vs. Mary I. Macdonnell.

THE TRICOLOR TEAM GOES TO MONTREAL Candidates for Places on Regular Squad Will Get Good Test. The Queen's seniors left today for Montreal where tomorrow they meet the Montreal A.A.A. team in an exhibition practice game. Coach Bill Hughes took along his regular squad and the new additions, the whole numbering about twenty-five. Coach Hughes stated that he intended to use all his players in the game tomorrow at Montreal so that every man can show just what he has in him. The local players, working for regular berths on the team, will be in their fighting all the time and the Wings Wheelers will find plenty of opposition from the Tricolor warriors. On Thursday afternoon the Queen's squad was taken over to the Royal Military College where a practice against the R.M.C. intermediates was held. Queen's showed surprisingly good strength and the rugby officials were much pleased with the showing made. The Cadets trotted out a team that should make a high mark in the Intercollegiate Union ranks this season. A sturdy fast outfit, the Red and White look to be in for a great season. On their return from Montreal, the Queen's team will immediately start making preparations for the Ottawa game here next Saturday. The Senators have been working out for weeks and are in fine fettle right now with Tubman and his gang stepping fast. Queen's late in starting practice, will have to go hard next week to catch up some lost time so as to be in readiness for the team which dethroned the Tricolor

DOMINION SQUARE FOR EVERY LARGE CENTRE That a fitting way to commemorate next year the 50th anniversary of the formation of the Dominion of Canada would be to dedicate in each of the large centres in this country a square as a memorial to Confederation, is the proposal of Naughton Cauchon, town planning expert of Ottawa. He suggests that every town and city have a "Dominion square." Montreal already has one and he urges that Connaught Square in Ottawa be enlarged and renamed in honor of Confederation.

ANOTHER VICTOR Channel swimmer No. 5 for the year is Norman Derham, an Englishman. Thirteen hours and fifty-six minutes after he slipped into the water, Derham staggered up the beach to the plaudits of watchers who have seen the feat accomplished many times before. Licenses were refused to two new London Street Railway buses, the Council having some time ago passed a resolution against the granting of any more licenses. Hinged to a new pocket hair comb is a handle that can be folded over the teeth as a cover. By reason of the annual variation of the magnetic needle, it is believed that the magnetic poles are not stationary, but have a slow motion about the geographical poles. The thirty pieces of silver mentioned in the Bible would have a face value to-day of about $22.50.

RESULTS ARE ANNOUNCED In the Inter-School Competitions at the Kingston Fair. The results of the inter-school competitions at the championship school-fair exhibit at the Kingston Industrial Exhibition, were announced today, by A. W. Strrett, district representative of the Department of Agriculture. They were as follows: School with greatest number of points—No. 1 Kingston school section, Portmout. Girl with the greatest number of points—Verna Cochrane, S.S. No. 1, Strorrington. Boy with greatest number of points—Donald Greenlees, S.S. No. 2, Strorrington. Poor Fishing. Port Hope, Sept. 24.—With the best part of the fishing season already passed, local fishermen have experienced a distinctly poor season in Lake Ontario. From the middle of August to October 1st is usually the time when the best catches are made and the best prices obtained. This year, however, the catches from the middle of August to date have been very poor in comparison with the number of pounds of fish taken other years in the same period. George Elliott, local fisherman, stated that the catch so far had not been half what he had taken other years. The will of P. J. Baskerville, Ottawa, who died September 14th, disposed of an estate valued at $285,587, most of which goes to relatives. First shots have been fired in the campaign to raise $50,000 for the Oshawa General Hospital.

BRANT IS ALL SET FOR BURGLARS NOW Brantford, Sept. 24.—As a result of the repeated thefts in the rural districts, the Brant County Council decided yesterday afternoon to buy a new revolver for High County Constable J. Biskney, to equip the home of County Constable W. Taylor with a telephone, and to provide 21 constables with high cut jackets. In addition the High Court Judge will be asked to review the list of county constables.

NEWS OFF THE WIRES IN CONDENSED FORM The ferry boat Longueuil, which ran ashore in a fog with 40 people on board, was pulled back into her channel yesterday and her passengers landed. The boat plies between Montreal and Longueuil, across the St. Lawrence river. The little town Nicolet, some 15 miles from Three Rivers, Que., was swept yesterday by a first which destroyed the homes of 16 families, and the buildings adjoining them. The committee arranging the programme for the world poultry congress that meets in Ottawa next year has completed its meetings. A lengthy programme has been drawn up and will be available to competitors and those interested, in the near future. At the inquest at Alvinston of the body of Robert McArthur, of Moss township, found dead on a lonely road with a fractured skull, the jury reported a conclusion that McArthur died from the effects of a blow delivered in some manner, but wanted more information before bringing in a formal verdict. The inquest was adjourned. The Quebec Prime Minister, Hon. L. A. Taschereau, has mailed a letter to the pulp manufacturers of the Province relative to the report made by the special commission appointed to investigate on the necessity of operating the pulp and paper mills on Sundays. This report said that the operating of the mills was not necessary, and the Prime Minister expressed the wish that all manufacturers would conform to the finding of the commission.

Grain On The Way. Port William, Ont., Sept. 24.—Four grain boats cleared today from the ports of Port William—Port Arthur with 671,000 bushels, one the Oakbay, taking only 36,000 of wheat to Montreal, while the Matthews carried oats and rye to Midland. Two boats are loading grain, including the Pringle, which has been making repairs since September 15th.

SHOES are important among the accessories of dress. Blocked kid afternoon shoes worn by Miss Blanche Sweet are shown at top; below is a chic pair of satin evening pumps.
