THE VICTORIA HOME AND SCHOOL CLUB
W. C. NOXON TO GIVE ADDRESS IN PICTON

Address by Mrs. J. K. Robertson on the Objects of the Club.

The Home and School Club of Victoria public school held a general meeting on Tuesday evening, when Mrs. J. K. Robertson gave an excellent address on the aims and objects of the club and Prof. Prince of Queen's University spoke of "present day Palestine." At the close of the meeting, the social committee served refreshments.

In addressing the club, Mrs. Robertson said:

"The duty has been put on me by our executive of explaining briefly to you why a Home and School Club exists and a little of what is required of us as members of such an organization. The key-note is co-operation between parents, teachers and trustees, and such co-operation strengthens both home and school life. You send your child to school for the first time in fear and trembling, but the club gives you an opportunity of meeting the teacher to whom you have handed over your child and of telling the teacher any temperamental peculiarities of his. The teacher can then give you a peep into her problems and make you wonder how you would manage had you to train forty or more such lively children as your own. This creates a bond of sympathy between parent and teacher which is invaluable in the education of our children.

The social side of our club aims to make the mothers of the children acquainted. From the opening of school how many mothers are besieged with names of children of whom they have never heard. Surely it creates a bond of sympathy between mother and child when the mother can say "Oh, I met Tommy's mother last night." Proud as we are of Victoria school there are yet many ways in which the club can help improve its equipment. Last year, Miss Lovick was made happy by the club purchasing several glass jars for her surgical supplies as well as a pair of forceps for handling those supplies. Another instance of the way we are able to help was the purchasing of four large wire waste paper baskets which considerably helped in the tidiness of the lavatories. Then again, the children's Christmas tree last year was the work of the club and gave pleasure to a great many. The children were given a treat of ice-cream before school closed for the summer.

These activities cannot be carried on without funds. The copper shower held at each monthly meeting does not suffice to carry on our work and so we hold a sale of home-made cooking in October and in May an Empire Day concert. You now see that there is work for everyone in the club. This evening we hope that each mother will express her willingness to help at our annual sale. At our evening meetings we try to have something to stimulate the minds of the parents. Last winter we had a lecture on 'Cambridge University,' by Professor Robertson; 'The Psychology of Children's Fears,' by Prof. Humphrey, and a lecture by Mrs. Woodworth on 'Japan.' This evening Prof. Prince has consented to give us views and a talk on 'Present Day Palestine,' while later on we have the promise of a lecture on the 'League of Nations,' by Prof. Heaton, and 'Views of South America,' by Mr. Stuart.

I would remind you, however, that we are but one of many Home and School Clubs throughout the province. In our own city, these clubs have a central council meeting once a month, to which we send three representatives besides our school principal and to this council we send our annual fee of two dollars. Throughout the province these clubs have their federation with which we are affiliated and send our annual fee of seventy-five cents a class room. We also send a representative to the conference meetings of the Federation which are held in Toronto in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Ontario Educational Association.

To sum up the general aims of the club I cannot do better than quote a clause from the constitution suggested by the Federation. The object of the Association shall be to promote co-operation between teachers, parents and school trustees; to get the largest possible returns to the community from the school for old and young alike; to support all progressive measures of the local Board of Education and of the Provincial Department of Education in regard to school improvement; to inquire into educational facilities and methods to study educational problems and in every way possible to create the best conditions for the training of boys and girls into good Canadian citizens and finally to arouse the community to its responsibility to its most precious asset—the children."

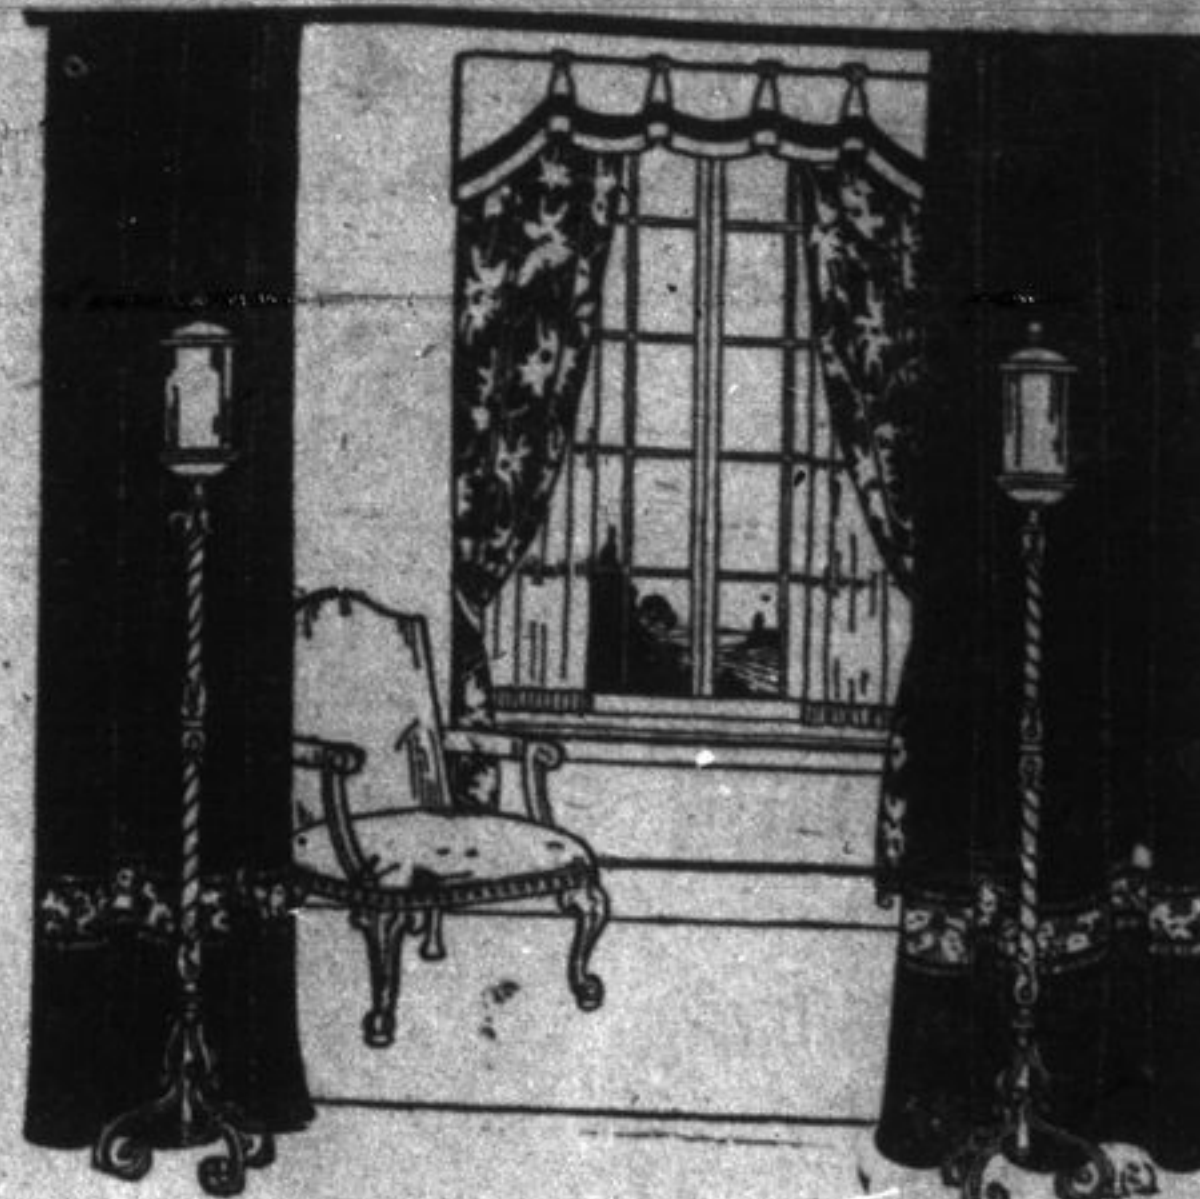

PATROL SYSTEM IS BRINGING GOOD RESULTS

Boy Scouts Are Now Receiving a Splendid Training in Corps.

The patrol system of training for the Boy Scouts is working out splendidly. Each patrol of six boys is working by itself, and making a success of every endeavor. The patrol leader in charge is also securing training that will be a splendid start in life in itself. The patrols are having special meetings of their own—separate from the regular weekly troop meeting, and at these are obtaining training that it would be impossible to get with a larger group of boys.

The Chipmunk patrol met at the home of the patrol leader Wednesday night, with a full attendance of the boys. Patrol leader Earl Norton decided that a review of all tests passed by the boys was the best thing for the first night. After the review had proceeded for an hour, it was decided to finish it at the next meeting. Plans were then made for a night "hike" for the patrol, which will be held next Wednesday night. The boys intend to have a real good time and also to derive some benefit from the Scout training.
