Yanks Beaten By Cards 4-0

Haines Pitched Great Ball for St. Louis and Got Homer With One On.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 6.—Jesse Haines' clever pitching enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to win the third game of the World Series here yesterday 4-0. The big pitcher, who held the Yankees to five hits, also drove in two runs with a home run into the right field bleachers in the fourth inning.

A heavy downpour stopped the game in the fourth inning with the Yankees at bat. The crowd in the bleachers were thoroughly soaked, the rain coming down in torrents with little warning and the field was a quagmire before workmen could start to unroll the tarpaulin. Thousands of spectators in the uncovered area were drenched. It looked like only a brief shower with skies lightening up again but the field was in a doubtful condition for the continuance of the play, even if the lessening rain stopped altogether.

However, just as the workers got the infield covered, the sun broke through the clouds. The umpires came out for an inspection of the field and immediately ordered the covering removed after which the play was continued. Detail of the play is as follows:

First Inning. Yanks—Haines was using a fast ball which he kept close to the batter. Hafey took Combs' fly after misjudging it in the sun. Haines used the resin bag. Koenig struck out swinging for a third strike. Ruth up. He was greeted with mingled cheers and boos. The Babe laughed. Hornsby took Ruth's roller and threw his own. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cardinals—Douthit sent a high fly to Meusel in right field. Southworth singled sharply to centre hitting first ball pitched. There was a big demonstration when Hornsby came to the plate. Hornsby lined out to Lazzeri and Southworth had to race to get back to the bag. Lazzeri threw out Bottomley at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning. Yanks—Meusel flied out to Southworth. Gehrig sent out a high fly to Hafey. Lazzeri struck out taking a swing for the third strike. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cardinals—Bell whiffed swinging for third strike. Hafey crashed a long lift for two bases. Lazzeri took O'Farrell's weak roller and threw him out. Hafey went to third. Combs took Thevenow's liner. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning. Yanks—Dugan shot a single over Thevenow's head. Severid tried to sacrifice. O'Farrell tried to pick Dugan off first. Severid sacrificed Haines to Bottomley. Reuther fouled out to O'Farrell. Combs got a base on balls, the fourth was pitched high. Bottomley took Koenig's grounder and beat him to the bag. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cardinals—Haines scratched a hit to first. Douthit up. Douthit got a base on balls. The crowd was in an uproar. Shawkey was now warming up for New York. Southworth sacrificed Reuther to Gehrig. Haines going to third and Douthit to second. Hornsby sent up a foul to Severid and the crowd groaned. Bottomley lined out to Combs. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning. Yanks—Ruth lashed a single into centre, hitting a slow ball. Not a cheer went up from the stands. Haines threw out Meusel at first. Ruth going to second. It was now starting to rain. The umpires gathered in the field and after looking over the situation time was called.

Ground-keepers rushed upon the field dragging tarpaulins. The batter's box was covered after which pitcher's box was put under cover. The players scurried to the dugouts while the big crowd in the exposed portions of the grand stands raised umbrellas and shielded themselves with newspapers. It was a heavy downpour and it looked as if the field would soon become impossible to continue playing on.

The sky soon cleared and Umpire Hildebrand called the players upon the field. The infield was very slippery notwithstanding the fact that it had been sprayed with dirt. Ruth won down to second as base runner and Gehrig took his position at the plate. Before time was called one ball had been pitched. Gehrig sent up foul fly to O'Farrell which he took near the first base line. Lazzeri went out from Hornsby to Bottomley. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cardinals—Bell singled over second. Hafey sacrificed Reuther to Lazzeri. O'Farrell walked. The fourth pitch was high and on the inside. Thevenow up. Ball one, low. Foul, strike one. Bell scored when Thevenow forced O'Farrell. Lazzeri to Koenig who made a wide throw to first. Haines hit a home run into the right field stands scoring Thevenow ahead of him. The crowd was in an uproar. Douthit lined out to Koenig. Three runs, two hits, one error.

Fifth Inning. Yanks—Dugan sent out a long fly to Hafey. Severid sent out a liner to Southworth. Hafey took Reuther's hot shot. The Yankees were hitting the first ball pitched. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cardinals—Southworth singled past Dugan. Shawkey was now warming up again. Hornsby singled into centre. Southworth going to third. It was the hit and run play perfectly executed. Southworth scored when Lazzeri threw out Bottomley at first. Hornsby going to second. Bell up. Reuther was taken from the box at this stage, Shawkey taking up the pitching burden. Shawkey warmed up for a moment. Koenig threw out Bell at first. Hornsby going to third. Dugan made a beautiful one-hand stop of Hafey's seeming hit and threw him out. One run, two hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning. Yanks—Combs shot a single over Thevenow's head. Koenig hit into a double play. Hornsby to Thevenow to Bottomley. Haines tried to get Ruth to bite at a slow ball. Ruth walked, the fourth pitch being low. Bell took Meusel's smash and got him at first. Bottomley saving the Cardinals' third baseman a wide throw by a good catch. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cardinals—O'Farrell lifted to Combs. Combs came in fast, and took Thevenow's hot drive. Haines went out Koenig to Reuther. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning. Yanks—Gehrig shot a long hit into centre for a single. Bell threw out Lazzeri at first Gehrig going to second. It was not a sacrifice. Dugan flied out to Douthit. Gehrig held second. Bell threw out Severid at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cardinals—Douthit fanned, the third strike being called. Lazzeri took Southworth's roller and tossed him out. Hornsby posed to Lazzeri going after a low curve. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning. Yanks—Paschal batting for Shawkey, walked. Hornsby ran over and talked to Haines. O'Farrell also went down to the box to steady the Cardinal pitcher. Combs struck out, missing a drop curve by a foot. Koenig grounded out to Bottomley. Paschal making second on the play. It was growing dark again and a shower threatened. Hornsby threw Reuther out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cardinals—Thomas went into the box for the Yankees. It started to rain again. Bottomley singled into right. Bell was trying to sacrifice. Bell hit into a double play, Koenig to Lazzeri to Gehrig. Hafey went out Dugan to Gehrig. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning. Yanks—Meusel went out from Bell to Bottomley. Haines was using blinding speed in the dark light. Gehrig got a short single to right for his second hit. Lazzeri hit into a double play. Thevenow to Hornsby to Bottomley. No runs, one hit, no errors.

PLAY IN TORONTO.

Copper Cliff and Oslers Play Saturday and Monday in Finals. Toronto, Oct. 6.—Oslers and Copper Cliff will meet in two games in Toronto, Saturday and Monday next to decide the Ontario senior baseball championship. Copper Cliff, present holders of the title, have asked that both games be played in Toronto.

The Northern representatives come to Toronto with quite a reputation as a team of heavy hitters, and capable of some fine defensive baseball. Their victory over the strong Niagara Falls team in the finals last season has stamped them as a highclass aggregation.

W. F. O'Connor, K.C., charges that his dismissal from the customs commission is based on political grounds.

Rival Pilots and Yankee Stadium Where First Two World Series Games Were Played

Here's the Yankee Stadium, where the 1926 world series opened Oct. 2nd. The first and second tilts were played at the American League stronghold and the sixth and seventh, if that many are necessary, will be there also. Inset shows the two rival managers, Miller Huggins of the Yankees and Rogers Hornsby, Cardinals.

SPORTING NOTES AND COMMENT

The Toronto Mail and Empire declares that the Canadian Intercollegiate Union will, sooner or later, have to adopt the American system of allowing players to take part in athletics, while at the university, for only four years. Evidently the writer had Queen's in mind, for it didn't seem to strike him until the day after it was announced that Harry Batstone was coming back to Queen's. If the four-year rule had been in force in the Canadian Intercollegiate Union, Queen's would not be the only ones to suffer. It seems to us that Warren Snyder has been playing a little more than four years for Varsity along with several others who could be mentioned. However, perhaps The Mail writer has no thought of Queen's in his mind, but at the same time, coming after the other announcement, it looks as though he might have his thoughts on the Kingston university.

In replying to a questionnaire from a rugby fan, Mike Rodden in the Lionel Conacher, who, he says, was the best broken field runner in the Toronto Globe picks Warren Snyder as a better all-round player than country, but not as good a man generally as Snyder. Conacher, says M.J., was too much of an individual player. He adds, too, that Harry Batstone is an ideal team player and has never hesitated to co-operate with his teammates and in this way showed the teams that he played with, Argos and Queen's, the way to the top.

"Bunny" Baird, who cavorted around with the Queen's Juniors and seconds a few seasons back, is coaching the Bloor Collegiate team in Toronto.

Those who have not yet picked up their set of tickets for the remaining rugby games in Kingston had better hop to it and get hold of them. They will not be held after five o'clock on Friday evening, and if they are not called for by that time they will be thrown open for sale to other people who are looking for a chance to get some choice seats.

THREE GOOD STARS. JOIN ARGO SQUAD

Jimmy Douglas, Archie Stewart and Armour Munroe Have Turned Out.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Jimmy Douglas, the best middle wing in senior football, rejoined the Argonauts last Monday and following the practice was unanimously elected captain. Bill Miles was also nominated, but quickly withdrew in favor of Douglas, his team-mate in many a hard-fought battle. The appointment of Douglas is a popular one with fans and players alike. He is an experienced campaigner and an ideal leader.

Archie Stewart, former star outside wing with the Balm Beach seniors, joined the Double Blue, and although it was his first appearance in uniform since 1924, he led the way for all the tacklers. Stewart in the Eastern final against Queen's University here two years ago.

Then, too, Armour Munroe, the sensational young backfielder, announced his decision to line up with the Argonaut seniors. He had planned to remain in junior ranks, but the departure of Harry Batstone to Queen's caused him to come to the rescue, and for this the Argos feel grateful indeed. Munroe will go a long way in senior football. He can catch, kick and run with the leading stars in the sport to-day.

Argos, realising that their condition in Saturday's game against the University of Toronto team was nothing to boast about, have buckled down to strenuous training and will be driven at a rapid pace during the next three days. Last year the Montreal team defeated Argos twice, and the locals are therefore not making the mistake of underrating their opponents of next Saturday.

Canadian Press unofficial returns show more than three million people voted at the recent general elections.

GREAT INTEREST IN BIRDS' VISIT

Dave Harding Will Lead a Strong Team Into Battle Against the Tricolor.

Local rugby interest is being centred in the exhibition game on Saturday between the Camp Borden Argos and the Queen's gridders and if all marks come true, local rugby fans will have plenty of good football put up for them this Saturday. It is regrettable that there was not a larger crowd out for last Saturday's Ottawa-Queen's game, one of the best games played here in years, hard-fought and fast from start to finish, but it is thought by Queen's officials that there will be no shortage in the attendance this week.

Saturday's game will be the last big test for the local collegians before they enter the Intercollegiate series against the University of Toronto seniors a week from Saturday at the Varsity Stadium in Toronto. Coach Hughes, while pleased at the progress that the boys have made since they started, by no means thinks that his team is yet ready for the Blue and White and he hopes to have a definite selection soon of the senior squad. This will mean that every Queen's player will be stepping the very fastest next Saturday in the game against Camp Borden and they will spare nothing.

The Bordenites have already shown, by their defeat of Tigers last Saturday in the senior O.R.F.U. series that they are a team to be reckoned with and it would not create a great deal of surprise to see Dave Harding and his men give the Tricolor one of the stiffest battles they have been called into this season. The Argos would like to beat Queen's, so would George P. Awey and they are stepping their fastest this week in preparation for their visit here. Local fans are urged to see to it that tickets that they have reserved for the remaining games are picked up before Friday or they will be turned over to general sale and none will be held after that time.

Insists on Ottawa Having the Cooks.

Insists on Ottawa Ottawa, Oct. 6.—A. C. Hosie, vice-president of the Saskatoon Hockey Club, was in the Capital, and while here had a conference with officials of the Ottawa Hockey Association, which has bought the contracts for Bill and Bunny Cook from the Saskatoon club. Mr. Hosie stated that the Saskatoon club is standing solidly behind the Ottawa club in seeing that the contracts with the Cook brothers are respected. He stated that the National Hockey League would, in his opinion, insist that hockey contracts be respected.

"After all, hockey contracts are probably the most valuable assets the National Hockey League, or any other professional league, has, and I am quite sure the N.H.L. will apply business principles in dealing with this question and insist that contracts must be respected, for it is in the interests of hockey, if the game is to endure, that this should be done. I have assured the Ottawa Hockey Club that Saskatoon is right with them," said Mr. Hosie.

He further stated that Saskatoon would have a club in pro. hockey this coming winter and that several Eastern amateurs had already applied for contracts with his club.

AFTER TUNNEY.

Jack Delaney Will Challenge Champion in About Three Weeks. Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 6.—The Bridgeport Telegram says that Jack Delaney of this city, light-heavyweight champion of the world, has added 29 pounds to his weight as a result of recreation and outdoor life at his camp in New Hampshire, and expects to leave there within two of three weeks to issue a challenge for a bout with Gene Tunney, new world's heavyweight champion.

New Women's Dash Record.

Duesseldorf, Germany.—A new record for the hundred meter women's dash was achieved by Frauslein Junkers of Cassel, who ran the distance in 12.3 seconds. Unfortunately for Miss Junkers, all the conditions for recognizing the record internationally were not complied with, so that her Duesseldorf achievement will have no place in athletic history.

He Had It.

"Every day you probe my wound! You don't know how you hurt me doctor," said the wounded soldier. "Well, we must try to find the bullet."

"Why didn't you say so before, I've had it in my pocket all the time."—Buen Humor, Madrid.
