What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

AT THE CAPITOL.

Fairbanks' "The Black Pirate," in Rousing Tale.

In his latest screen achievement, "The Black Pirate," which opens a three-day engagement at the Capitol to-day, Douglas Fairbanks has reached the summit of his screen career, in the opinion of many screen critics. "The Black Pirate" sails suspensefully along in the traditional romantic course of the favored and vivid tales of fighting buccaners and buried treasure. The story is beautifully romantic. It tells of dark-browed and black-bearded pirates who swept the southern seas in the Seventeenth Century. One such crew of blood and gold-thirsty buccaners captures the ship on which Fairbanks, who is really a duke, and his father, are passengers. The ship is ransacked and then, with its human cargo, is blown to bits. The duke's father dies and he is the sole survivor of the group of peace-loving seafarers.

There are only two women in the piece—Billie Dove and Tempe Pigott, the latter in the role of maid to the heroine. Other featured players include Anders Randolph as pirate captain; Sam De Grasse as the villainous pirate, and Donald Crisp as a general kind of pirate.

The musical public is delighted to learn that Miss Gertrude Gronow's Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, is to be heard in Grant Hall on October 15th. Female choral singing occupies a very important part in the musical life of Wales. In every hamlet, village and town the formation of a "Ladies Chorus" may be termed a necessity. Year in and out assiduous training is maintained. Concerts are given throughout the breadth and length of the land by the most promising aggregation with resultant national fame.

Chorally and vocally Wales is unsurpassed. An hour with the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, under the efficient leadership of Miss Gertrude Gronow, will bear out the statement. The members of the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, thoroughly representative of Wales, are highly trained vocalists and musicians, graduates of the best colleges of Britain (L.R.A.M., London, R.C.M. and Guild Hall school).

The Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir has appeared in all parts of the British Isles and on the Continent, and was commended to sing before H.R.H. Prince of Wales and other Royal personages.

AIM TO CURB "BABE" RUTH

Whose Home-Run Batting Is Serious Menace to St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—Boards of strategy of the Cardinals today were in conference to devise ways and means, if any, to curb the home run activities of George Herman Ruth. As preparations went forward for the fifth and last game of the world series in St. Louis, the big bat of slugging Ruth was regarded as a distinct menace to the St. Louis aspirations for world supremacy in baseball.

The fifth game was promised fair weather with rising temperature. The perfect baseball day restored confidence in the Weatherman.

B. B. Johnson, president of the American League, went on record with a prediction that the Yankees will surely win. "They've got to win and they will," said he.

Men who let their dollars talk for them were willing to wager five to four against the chances of either Yankees or Cardinals and two and half to one against either winning the next two games. The lineup to-day.

THE AIRMEN COMING; STRONG AGGREGATION

Seven Former Well-Known Kingston Players With Team Led by Harding.

The Royal Canadian Air Force rugby team (Camp Borden) are taking their training for their bout with Queen's on Saturday very seriously. No stone is being left unturned in training the Airmen, and they are confident of taking a fall out of the highly touted Queen's twelve.

The Air Force have a colorful aggregation, who play hard fast football. The team is evenly balanced throughout, and with newly developed substitutes who received their baptism of fire against Varsity and Hamilton O.R.F.U. The Camp is strongly fortified in every position. Dave Harding and Gibb will do the booting. Both lads are travelling in top form and Dave is rearing to go against his former team mates.

Brian Carr-Harris, diminutive back field star will probably alternate quarter with Ault, the latter going to the back-field, Cameron and Moar complete the sextet. These six boys will bear watching. James an excellent all round substitute will be on hand where required. In Holland MacCauley and Coombes, the Air Force have three highly-touted outside wings.

Chevrier and Anton handle the snap position, flanked by Collins and MacCampbell at inside. Brown and Luke as middles complete a lanky and speedy line. In McKell, MacMahon, Trim Roney and Anderson, the Aviators have a first line of substitutes. The Warriors of the North probably have the most balanced team in Canada. No ranking players, no choice between regulars and substitutes.

Harding, James, Carr-Harris, Luke, MacCauley, Holland and Brown will be familiar to Kingston fans, the former two having evicted on Queen's field, while the latter five annexed their reputations at R.M.C.

The teams appear to be evenly matched in size and speed. They possess similarity of play. Undoubtedly an excellent aerial attack will be furnished the spectators, Harding has been going great guns with the boot of late, and is anxious to test his skill against Queen's best. The spark plugs of the atmosphere will carry with them the moral advantage of George Awrey's blessing.

A NEW RECORD FOR PLAYERS' EARNINGS

New York, Oct. 7.—The present world baseball series will establish a record for players' earnings, with each member of the winning team receiving $6,254, and the losers $4,168.

The players share in the receipts of the first four games only. The previous record was set in 1923 when the New York Yankees received $6,143, and the New York Giants $4,112.

Harry Batstone Out Wednesday

Backfield Star Made His First Local Appearance of the Rugby Season.

Harry Lee Batstone, the man over whom so much fuss is being made by outside papers and by rugby fans in general, made his first appearance of the season in a Queen's uniform at the rugby practice at the George Richardson Memorial Stadium on Wednesday afternoon. Needless to say the presence of the popular Harry was heartily welcomed by fellow-players and others. Harry is in pretty good shape and with a couple of days workout will be right in trim for the season.

The practice yesterday consisted of scrimmage work and the men out went through a fairly stiff drill. Owing to the fact that his attention was required at a meeting, Coach Hughes was unable to be on hand but the boys went faithfully on with their work. Another scrimmage is being held this afternoon, the last one in preparation for the Camp Borden game on Saturday. Light signals will form the drill tomorrow.

THE LAST CALL

Rugby fans in this city are reminded for the last time to pick up their series rugby tickets for remaining games, not later than five o'clock tomorrow afternoon. After that time, all tickets for these games will be turned over to old graduates of Queen's, who are anxious to secure them.

The local fans have had ample warning about this matter and if they find out later on that they cannot get the seats for the games that they want, it will be their own fault.

GEORGE PICKS QUEEN'S.

George Awrey, in a letter, states that he placed three or four bets on Queen's to win the senior Intercollegiate championship this season. This was before Harry Batstone arrived. Mr. Awrey thinks his chances of winning his bets are ideal. He will not be with the Camp Borden team in Kingston on Saturday owing to business. Harding will be in charge.

VOSS NOT TO PLAY

Carl Voss, one of Queen's University star backfield players, has decided that he will not play rugby this year. Voss' case came before the Board of Reference at the University and the decision given was that he is eligible to play this year, but the player has made up his mind to sacrifice sport for his studies this term.

The decision made by Voss does not mean that he is through with rugby for good, and it is quite possible that he will turn out with the team next year but for the present Queen's will have to get along without him. Recognized as an exceptionally brilliant player, Voss will be missed on the field.

SOUTH FRONTENAC TEACHERS MEETING

Sessions at the Court House—Miss Babcock's Interesting Report.

The annual meeting of the South Frontenac Teachers' Institute is being held in the Court House. The first session was Thursday morning. There is one session in the afternoon and two more will be held Friday. This morning the main matter for discussion was the report of the Ontario Educational Association, given by Miss Ruby Babcock, junior teacher at Harrowsmith. The president and the inspector both gave addresses of interest.

The officers are: Honorary president, S. A. Truscott, inspector of schools; president, M. G. Floyd Allen; vice-president, E. H. McKnight; secretary, Mrs. J. R. Redd; treasurer, Mrs. L. Saunders.

The president emphasized character building in the schools. He said that the parents neglect the children and it is up to the teachers to do the training.

Inspector Truscott outlined a new course of study for the school. He also gave a list of books for supplementary reading, a subject which he believes is not emphasized enough. Towards the close of the meeting a request was made from the Dental Association for the teachers to give an oral talk on mouth hygiene on Oct. 20th.

Miss Babcock, in giving the report from the association, outlined the work for discussion, giving various topics which would affect almost any teacher in the general carrying out of her work. One subject which created a great deal of general interest was the proposal of teaching nature study to the children, especially the primary class. The primary class is the basis of all work. Miss Babcock said that the teachers should tell simple little stories to the children with regard to the care of the eyes, a very important subject. The grading of the teachers according to personality, class room management and self-improvement created quite a discussion. The Bible should be used more without any denominational contention. That supervised sport creates real school spirit, was generally agreed by all.

Miss Babcock's report dealt thoroughly with the lectures at the Educational Association and was very beneficial to the teachers. Some time was spent in discussing the report.

In the afternoon there were three events of importance on the programme, a talk on "Examinations" by Mr. J. D. Cosgrove; a lecture, "Public School History," by Mr. G. M. Jones of the College of Education, Toronto, and a talk on "Devices for Primary Work," by Miss Beatrice Traves.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Held in Emmanuel Church, Wilton, Largely Attended.

Wilton, Oct. 6.—Anniversary services were held in Emmanuel Church Wilton, on Sunday last. A good sized congregation in the morning listened with much interest to the Rev. Mr. Hollingsworth of Sydney. Music was given by the choir and good congregational singing showed the thankfulness of hearts for another year's successful work. In the evening the church was full to again listen to the Rev. Mr. Hollingsworth, whose discourse will long be remembered. Mr. Hollingsworth will always find a hearty welcome should he again occupy the Wilton pulpit.

Miss Nesbitt of Odessa sang very sweetly to a new setting, "There Were Ninety and Nine." The choir again, with the congregation, added brightness to the service by their singing. Flowers were in abundance, making the church lovely. The free will offering was such as to gladden the hearts of the stewards of the church. Much regret was expressed at the absence of their pastor, Rev. Mr. McQuinn, who was filling the pulpit at anniversary services in Sydneyham on that day.

Takes No Formal Action.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 7.—Following the recommendation of President William Green, the American Federation of Labor convention resumed the regular order of business soon after the opening of the morning session today without approving the taking of formal action upon the withdrawal by the Detroit executives and by Y. M. C. A. of their invitations to labor speakers.

The Napanee Collegiate Institute will hold its annual Field Day on Friday.
