

10 corns removed after three Radox footbaths

The great value of Radox footbaths in removing corns is not only that Radox enables the corn to be lifted out root and all, but also that the treatment is absolutely painless; no cutting, no caustics, no bluing plasters, no risk whatever of blood poisoning—just a footbath in hot antiseptic oxygenated water and the corn may be lifted out. Read this letter:

"I had five corns (not callouses) on each foot, and after using Radox Bath Salts as directed for three nights in succession, I was able to walk in perfect comfort. I managed to get the last of my corns right out after the third bath in Radox. Have still got some of the first packets. Can honestly say I had spent dollars on different 'patents,' but nothing but Radox had the desired effect."

When you put your feet into a footbath containing Radox, the salts soften the hard outer layers of the corn and the dead skin (of the corn) combines with the Radox Bath Salts to form a protein salt of the actual corn itself. This dissolves in the water and so loosens the corn that it can be lifted out bodily.
