

CATHOLICS OBSERVE A NEW FEAST DAY

In Honor of the Kingship of Christ—Service in St. Mary's.

For the first time in the history of the Catholic Church there was celebrated yesterday what has been designated as the Feast of Christ the King, in honor of the kingship of Christ. The feast was instituted by Pope Pius XI and throughout the world yesterday special services were held for the first time to celebrate this feast day.

At St. Mary's Cathedral yesterday, solemn pontifical high mass was celebrated at 10.30 o'clock by His Grace Archbishop M. J. Spratt, assisted by Rev. Father Hyland as high priest, Rev. Father Coyle as deacon, Rev. Father Martin as sub-deacon and Rev. Father Leacy as master of ceremonies. The sermon proper to the occasion was preached by Rev. Father Murray of St. Mary's College, Brockville. Father Murray spoke of the observance of the Feast of Christ

THE CAUSE OF CANCER

Dr. Robert G. Jackson, of Toronto, has been teaching this for years, also that most other diseases are due to the same folly. Dr. Jackson, once a wreck from this faulty-food cause, has brought himself back to a youthful vitality superior to that of most youths by living upon natural foods, nuts, fruits, vegetables, Roman Meal, milk. You may do the same. Dr. Jackson is dietetic editor, "Archives of Therapeutics," New York, a physician's journal, advisor to "Defensive-Diet League," a physician's association. Send for his free leaflet, "How to Keep Well," to Robert G. Jackson, M.D., 321 Vine Ave., Toronto, Ont.

At this mass there were special musical arrangements, with Prof. Lucien Nourry presiding at the organ. Bateman's Festival Mass was sung by the choir, Mr. Charles Cross and Prof. Nourry taking the solo parts in the "Credo," and Mr. H. Haines being the soloist in the "Gloria." Mr. T. F. Golley, at the offertory, sang splendidly, "Adorate." At the beginning of the mass the organist played "Fanfar," by Falkner, and at the conclusion he played Handel's "Alleluia Chorus."

All Saints' Day. To-day the feast of All Saints was celebrated throughout the world and special masses were celebrated in St. Mary's Cathedral. At 9 o'clock solemn pontifical mass was celebrated by His Grace Archbishop Spratt, assisted by Rev. Father Gorman as high priest, Rev. Father Hyland as deacon, Rev. Father Shannon as sub-deacon and Rev. Father Leacy as master of ceremonies. The Second Tone Mass (Dumont) was rendered by the choir this morning, Mr. T. F. Golley being the soloist in the "Credo." At the offertory Prof. Nourry played the Festival Prelude by Wallace. At the beginning of the mass he rendered "Chant Sans Paroles" by Tchaikowsky, and at the conclusion played "March Sordide" by Guitman.

To-day being All Saints' Day and a holy day of obligation, there were no sessions in the separate schools or Regiopolis College. The Canadian Freeman office was also closed for the day. Tuesday the Feast of All Souls is being observed.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Bartor

The Sooties. "The Sooties are very, very busy these days," said Johnny Sweep as he guided his broom toward a house-top, the Twins still holding on tight with both hands.

"Why?" asked Nancy. "Don't you know?" cried Johnny Sweep. "The Sooties and the Swifts, too! They're all as busy as bees carrying notes."

"Carrying notes!" cried Nancy. "What kind of notes? And who are the Swifts?" Johnny Sweep laughed merrily. His voice trailed off through the wintry air with such a funny tinkling sound that Farmer Brown said to Mrs. Brown, "It's going to snow! I know because the wind sounds so queer. Just as though it had heard a good joke and was smiling about it out loud."

And he put more wood on the fire and poked up the ashes in the fireplace and sparks flew up the chimney.

The sparks went up the chimney and told the news. "It's going to snow!" they said to the Sooties.

And some of the Sooties flew out of the chimney to see. They didn't see any snow, but they saw Johnny Sweep away off in the distance riding on his broom and behind him two children holding on for dear life.

Johnny Sweep was laughing and laughing. "Who are the Swifts?" Nancy repeated. "Why they are the chimney birds. And the notes are the notes the children in the houses write to Santa Claus at the North Pole. How did you think the notes got to Santa Claus at the North Pole. How did you think the notes got to Santa Claus after they were written?"

"We didn't exactly know," said Nancy. As they passed Farmer Brown's house and saw all the funny little Sooties waving to them from the chimney top, the Twins and Johnny Sweep waved back.

"Aren't you going to stop?" asked Nick. "Not here," said Johnny Sweep. "There are no little boys here. Or no little girls. At this time of year I haven't time to visit. Everybody is working hard and I must help. You have no idea what a task it is to run this North Pole postal route."

"May we help?" asked Nancy. "Ha, ha, ha! Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Johnny Sweep. "Did you think that I just appeared today by accident. No, sirree! I came on purpose to get you. This chimney business is some affair. And that's not all! The little mischief fairies sit on the chimneys and try to stop the Swifts and Sooties as they go out carrying notes to the North Pole. They try to blow the notes away."

"That's pretty mean," cried Nancy. "Yes, isn't it," said Johnny Sweep, giving his broom a jerk to hurry it up. "Somebody has to play policeman all the time to keep those old nuisance fairies away. Here we are now at the first place. I do believe I see a nuisance fairy sitting on the chimney now, although they usually wait until night."
