APPEAL TO HOLD BOYS AND GIRLS ON FARM

The Kingston District Holstein Breeders' Association Hold a Fine Banquet.

The Kingston District Holstein Breeders' Association held a very enjoyable banquet at the Eastern Dairy School Tuesday night, at which many speakers of note in this branch of agriculture spoke. The banquet proper was a very homelike affair, and was splendidly managed by the Frontenac District Women's Institute, and was served by the Frontenac Junior Women's Institute. Col. F. S. Ferguson, of Inverary, an ex-president of the Association, presided at the head table. The attendance of men interested in the Holstein breeds was very large, and they all benefited from the speeches which were made during the evening.

Following the banquet, the chairman proposed a toast to "The King." The speaker of the evening, Mr. C. G. Houtch, of Chippewa, was then introduced. The chairman introduced him as a man who was a breeder of Holstein cattle, and one who had founded one of the greatest strains of Holsteins in the province.

Mr. Houtch congratulated the Kiwanis Club, for the interest which they had shown in presenting a fine trophy for competition by Holstein breeders, and he said that he wished other clubs would take such interest. The speaker said that he had spoken to several clubs, and that he had endeavoured to bring the attention of these to the necessity of co-operation between the farmers and the city men.

Drifting to Cities.

The speaker said that the farm boys and girls were drifting to the cities, and that the blame could be put both to the farmer and to the city fellow. He said that beautiful pictures are being painted in words, regarding the wonders of the cities, and these are constantly drawing the boys and girls from the farms. The farmers too, are losing the younger generation because they do not give them a chance to make their life on the farms. The two, the city and the farm, should co-operate, should be united for the mutual purpose of one and the other.

Mr. Houtch said that the city man and woman should realize that the man and woman of the farm are their brother and sister, and that they should work together. Mr. Houtch told several witty stories to bring out the point of his talk. He said that he would like in some way to make the city man see the same as the farmer does. There are really very few differences between the farmer and the city man. He had noticed, he said, that Kingston men realized that the farmers were their brothers, and that they were working together to further the interests of the country, in general. The farmers, too, are glad that the city is helping in this way.

The Holstein-Friesian Association the speaker pointed out, is doing much good in the United States and Canada, in the way of stimulating interest by competitions. The club is on the map for the purpose of helping the other fellow. In order to keep the club going, it is necessary that each man in the club be a prominent element.

Should Be Active.

If the man does not have an active part to play in the club, then it will not be a success. Each man must measure up to the job ahead of him, and then success is certain.

These men who breed cows are working God's greatest creation, the cow, for everywhere it turns out to the world a finished product, and duplication of this product by artificial means is impossible. The speaker said that the farmers cover up their cars and keep them inside in the winter, but they send out their cattle to the fields and to the river for water, little realizing the fact that the cow is the greatest thing on the farm.

The question of whether there was a future for the Holstein cow had been brought up many times, the speaker said. He found that "the black and white cow" had been known in the time of Caesar, and that now it is spread all over the world. There is a future if the men who are in the job will measure up to the standard of the cow herself. There are men making records for the world with Holstein cattle, he said, men who have not before taken an active interest in cattle breeding. Mr. Houtch pointed out that the Holstein is not merely a rich man's cow but many poor men are doing well with them.

Mr. Houtch gave many interesting

"Was Soon Able To Sleep Well"

The usual experience of nervous-racked people who use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

When the nerves are starved and depleted you become restless, irritable and suffer from loss of sleep. The regular use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food soon lifts you out of this condition by supplying to the system the elements of Nature from which nerve force is created. Mrs. H. N. Tardell, Harrowsmith, Ont., writes: "My nerves were in a very bad state, and I did not know what it was to have a good night's rest. I could not eat, and never felt well. After taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for a few days I was able to sleep well at night. My appetite also returned, and I felt stronger and better, and after taking three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was quite well."

figures with regard to the Holstein cow, showing that it has never been equalled and that it holds the record for butter production in Canada and the United States. The sum of $20,000 had been spent by the United States Association of Holstein Breeders, in trying to get the breeders to breed a better type of Holstein cow.

The Holstein Cow.

The Canadian association also has spent many hundreds of dollars in this work.

The Holstein cow is far superior to other breeds, the speaker said, and there is a great future if the man will measure up to her. He said that on visiting farmers, he had asked them why they desired to breed cattle, and that in a great number of cases the answer had been, "to make more money." This is quite natural, Mr. Houtch said, but the farmer must better appreciate the cow and its product.

To help the Holstein to a great future, the breeder must better appreciate the efforts of the other fellow. "As soon as another breeder makes a record some one says that he must be crooked." The breeders should help along each other in this great work, and in that way they are directly benefiting themselves by increasing the value of the herd and by bringing the breed to the public eye. Rejoice in the other fellow's achievements with his breeding.

There should be fair play in all sales, Mr. Houtch said, and not sell the culls of the herd to the young beginner and thus discourage him in the work. Herd sires, too, are very important for the success of the cattle breed. There should be no inferior bull at the head of a herd. Farmers should apply business methods and principles in their deals. They should weigh their milk to determine if the cows are worth while. The cows, too, should be tested and then the poor ones can be weeded out. Lastly, and above all, a spirit of optimism should be kept up in the business of breeding, although it may be very discouraging at times.

An invitation to attend the Canadian association at Toronto was given by Mr. Houtch to the members of the Kingston District Breeders' Association. He said that the association, on investigation, had found that the Holstein cow is surpassing all others. Agriculture is the basis of all nations and dairy cows are the basis of agriculture, the speaker said.

Presented Trophy.

The Kiwanis Trophy was then presented by Mr. Houtch to the winner, Mr. A. H. Fair of Hemlock Park Stock Farm. Mr. Fair, in receiving this trophy, said that he hoped the other breeders would put up a stronger fight for the trophy next year. He said that the Holstein breeders are grateful to the Kiwanis Club for the trophy.

President A. C. Hanley of the Kiwanis Club, pointed out that the intention of the Kiwanis Club is to create co-operation and better understanding and relationship between the farmer and the city man. Mr. Hanley also spoke for the Queen's Endowment Campaign, which is now under way. Mr. J. J. Wilmot, president of the Kingston District Holstein Breeders' Association, spoke briefly in regard to the activity of the association. Mr. R. J. Bushnell of the Kingston Industrial Exhibition, in his talk, said that the country produced one thing and the city produced another and that they must co-operate for prosperity.

Mr. A. W. Sirett, district representative of the Department of Agriculture, spoke for a short time, saying that there is far too little cow testing being done. He said that business methods should be employed in the cow testing. The department had endeavored to encourage the work among the farmers, but without any great success, but he expressed a hope that the number of farmers who use the proper method of testing will increase in the future. Mr. Sirett said that the farmers should encourage the young boys who are on the farms by giving them a start in the live stock breeding, with some of the best of the herd from which they might make a real success. The fathers do not encourage the boys enough now and so lose some of the best material from the farms.

During the evening a Scotch song was well rendered by Mr. James Grant of Cataract. A "sing-song" also proved very popular. A vote of thanks to the speaker of the evening was moved by Mr. D. V. Rogers, and seconded by Mr. Jack Sibbit, who also moved a vote of thanks to the Women's Institute, for the preparation of the banquet and to Prof. L. A. Zufelt, for the permission to use the Dairy School for the banquet.

Mr. R. S. Graham proposed a toast to the Kingston Holstein-Friesian Association, which was responded to by Col. F. S. Ferguson, Mrs. W. A. Sirett, President of the Women's Institute responded to the vote of thanks to the Women's Institute.
