Royal Military College Teams Triumphed Over the Tricolor

Intermediates Won Yesterday's Game by 6-2 and Captured the Round by 14-6—Cadet Juniors Trounced Queen's III, 11-4 and Won the Round by 23 Points—Tremaine Gave Wonderful Exhibition in Intermediate Game and Was Largely Responsible for R.M.C. Victory.

The Royal Military College Juniors and Intermediates repeated their stunt of last Saturday and again defeated Queen's on Wednesday afternoon at the George Richardson Memorial Stadium. The Juniors won by the score of 11-4 and the Intermediates by 6-2. The junior victory gave R.M.C. an advantage of 25-5 or a 23 point margin on the round. R.M.C. Intermediates won last Saturday by 8-6 and with yesterday's score won the round by 14-6.

Intermediate Game.

There was dash and plenty of it throughout the R.M.C. I-Queen's II game and the football passed out was indeed fast and exciting. Getting their touch in the first quarter that gave them a jump of five points along with their two-point lead, the Cadets then held all attempts to break through and when Queen's failed to make the necessary ten yards R.M.C. were put in possession and Tremaine kicked clear on the first down to R.M.C.'s 45-yard line. Wright was able to kick from there on the first down to Tremaine, who was roused.

Queen's showed plenty of life from then on and were very much in the hunt. Another Wright to Tremaine punt that, left the latter roused, gave Queen's a second point and then they fought hard. End runs, smashes through the line and everything was tried and the Cadets began to show signs of weakness. On the backfield Tremaine tried to steady his men but they were slipping.

The last quarter, however, saw them bolster up again and though Queen's had a bit of an advantage, the Cadets managed to pull through when they were required to do so. Tremaine kept his team out of danger by booting away at the least sign of danger and it was his clever work and headwork that put the Tricolor out of the running. There was no further scoring in the last period and while Queen's prayed for the break that didn't come, they made a creditable showing from the second half on and made a real game of it.

R.M.C.—Flying wing, Darling; halves, Molson, Tremaine, Ross; quarter, Peary; snap, Mather; insides, Wood, Walker; middles, Oslar, Odium; outsides, Fair, Smith; subs., McLeod, Campbell, Francis, Massey, O'Brien, Parker, McLaren, Savage. Queen's—Flying wing, Gourlay; halves, Clarke, Reist, Metcalfe; quarter, Macpherson; snap, Stringer; insides, Inksetter, Basserman; middles, Stevenson, Gaynor; outsides, Minnes, Martin; subs., "Beno" Wright, Hamilton, Morris, Burgess, Wilson, Farlinger, Burbank, Houston, Sutton. Officials—DeL. Panet, C. D. T. Mundell, H. Emond.

The Junior Game.

R.M.C. Juniors put it over Queen's Juniors again and won by the score of 11-4, the Queen's team getting a pretty field goal by Williams for three of their points. The Queen's team were far stronger in the line but the Cadets broke up all attempts at extended plays and were better on the backfield.

R.M.C. secured all their points in the first quarter on two touches and a deadline kick and it was not until the last quarter that Queen's were able to tally. The Queen's team put up a much better showing than they did on Saturday.

R.M.C.—Flying wing, Clarke; halves, Smith, Crombe, Cushing; quarter, Kingmill; snap, Gaisford; insides, Eberts, Sparlings; middles, Hudson, Stanfield; outsides, Scott, Rolph; subs., Wotherpoon, Higgins, Jacquays, Oslar, Gordon, Sise, Dunne, Gobeil. Queen's—Flying wing, Kindie; halves, Broadbent, Williams, Sharpe; quarter, Hare; snap, McCutcheon; insides, Nichol, Hulse; middles, Cooper, Newman; outsides, Susman, Stewart; subs., Elliot, Cox, Purdon, Young, Folwell, Ryan, Alexander, Burgess. Officials—DeL. Panet, C. D. T. Mundell, E. M. Harvey.

WINS OVER NURMI Dr. Pletzer, Famous German Runner, Sets Record to Beat Him.

Dr. Pletzer, Germany, is the latest sensation in the track game. Recently he set a new record of 3 minutes and 51 seconds in the 1,500-meter race at a meet held in Charlottenburg, Germany.

The race was a sprint all the way, with the great Swedish runner, Wide, finishing second, eight feet behind the winner, while the famous Nurmi was third, a yard behind Wide.

Golf Becoming More Popular in Canada

Golf is becoming more popular each year, and in no country is it making more rapid strides than in Canada. It is doubtful if there is another city the size of Hamilton on the continent that can boast of four courses. More than $27,340,000 is invested in land and club houses, and the Dominion has more golf courses in proportion to population than the United States, according to figures compiled by the department of the Interior.

"Canada has one golf course for every 19,393 people," says a bulletin of the department, "while the United States has one for every 25,793 people. There are 464 golf courses in the Dominion, representing an average estimate investment of $50,000 each.

Anything May Happen In the Rugby Finish

The Toronto Mail says: With Ottawa as good as "in" from from an interprovincial angle the intercollegiate and Ontario union scrambles are occupying the attention of the football enthusiasts. Anything is likely to happen in these loops. There is a possibility of a triangular deadlock between Varsity, McGill and Queen's, but the chances are that the Triangle will trounce the Red and White at Montreal on Saturday and that Varsity and Queen's will fight it out at the Limestone City on the 13th. The date is rather ominous: it will be an unlucky one for the loser in any event. In the Ontario union all that is needed to bring about a most interesting situation is for Varsity to win from Camp Borden again on Saturday at the stadium. If Pearson's tribe and the Algonquin into a side spin again Balmly Beach will have a fight on their hands.

No matter which team wins in the Ontario union—Varsity or Balmly Beach, the representatives of the daddy of all football loops should make it decidedly feverish for the

SPORTING NOTES AND COMMENT

Sir Arthur Currie's references to intercollegiate football while he was in this city for the Toronto-McGill game last Saturday are causing a good deal of speculation in college gridiron circles. The President of "Old McGill" has always been known as a stickler for sport in its cleaner and better phases, and it was quite natural that he should declare that McGill places the spirit of the game before the game itself. Sir Arthur says: "When we fall at football it will not be due to lack of material, but it may be due to lack of ready-made players. The ready-made player is not the kind we encourage to register, and we will not allow a man to compete unless he is clear academically. And this is not by ready-made rules to suit ourselves, but by the spirit of the rule. We will not tolerate any breaking of the spirit of a rule." That attitude is borne out by the retention of Frank Shaugnessy as coach throughout the lean years at McGill. At many universities, especially across the border, retention of a coach's services depends almost entirely on results obtained in games won. "Shag" knew full well what was required at McGill, and his teams "played the game," win or lose.—Mail.

Teddy Reeve, the big middle wing of the Balmly Beach team, will spend an interesting Thanksgiving Day. In the morning he will take his regular place on the wing line against Hamilton at U. of T. Stadium. Immediately following the game he will be rushed to Hamilton, don a lacrosse uniform, and play on the defense for Brampton Excelsiors, O.A. L.A. senior champions, against Hamilton Tigers, intermediate titheholders. Reeve's plans bring to mind the feat of Harry Batstone, who some years ago played football on a Saturday afternoon for Argonauts at the U. of T. Stadium, and at the end of the first quarter was hustled away to the Island to play baseball for the Hillcrest. Lionel Conacher often played lacrosse and baseball on the same afternoon in regular league fixtures.—Globe.

With Tigers out of the running, the next game of interest to Hamiltonians will be the Varsity-Queen's clash at Kingston on Saturday of next week. There are so many Varsity and Queen's graduates residing here, not to mention fans who never saw the inside of a college, who like to see the game, that it may be that a special train will be run. Some of champions of the other unions. O. R.E.U. stock is in the ascendancy. There was a time when the critics were inclined to scoff at the pretensions of the winners of this organization when dominion championship honors were under consideration, but not any more. Balmly Beach gave Queen's a good argument last fall and the east-enders are a stronger team this season than on that occasion. In "Tip" Foster they have probably the best young backfield uncovered this fall in the opinion of well posted footballers. This youthful husky can do anything that any other half back can do and a great deal more than some of the alleged stars who are featured in the headlines. He is good enough right now to be rated as eligible for a course in medicine and what better recommendation could any player have?

PROFESSIONAL TENNIS.

Game Being Eagerly Taken Up in Money Ranks.

The professional in tennis on the Continent of America has been conspicuous by his reticence. Except for a half-dozen coaches whose names are known because of the instructions they have given to leading amateurs and their connections with the larger clubs, the tennis professional has plied his trade in obscurity, unhonored and unsung, and a bit envious of the fame and fortune that have been shown upon the golf professional. In Europe the situation is different. There the tennis instructor is much more in the public eye, and the tedium of his work is relieved by the opportunity to play in professional tournaments, whereby he is able to improve his own playing ability. The departure of George Agutter of New York to take part in European tournaments and to gather data for the formation of a professional tennis organization in the United States will be a cause for much rejoicing among tennis professionals. There is no reason why there should not be professional and open tournaments in tennis, as in golf. Aside from improving the lot of the professional, they would attract more men into the professional ranks to take up the work of giving instruction, and thus amateur tennis would be benefited. An organization formed by responsible coaches would undoubtedly be looked upon with favor by the tennis governing bodies, and any tournament that it might hold, carrying with it a national title, would have a strong appeal as a sporting proposition, something in which exhibition matches are lacking.

the grads are anxious to have one, and have arranged for persons intending to take in the game to leave their names at the C.N.R. city ticket office. If enough people intend to make the trip, the special will be run.—Hamilton Spectator.

It is hinted that Ottawa, Toronto, St. Pats and Canadiens will be found in the Canadian league next season. The expansion of the N. H. L. has proven costly, and it looks as though only the clubs with large arenas will be able to stand the financial burden. The traveling expenses alone under the new schedule will be in the vicinity of $20,000, and players' salaries are larger than ever before. With a new arena, St. Pats might be able to carry on in the Calder circuit, but the seating accommodation at their present home is too limited.

Ralph St. Germain, lanky McGill half back, is unlucky. "Saint" ran 70 yards for a touch on Saturday, but was called back for skirting the side line. A couple of years ago he ran the length of the field against Loyola only to be called back for doing the same thing.—Ottawa Journal.

McGill are called to defeat Queen's on Saturday. The Shagmen showed some brainy work against Varsity and with a few breaks in their favor might have won out.—Ottawa Journal.

All football eyes are fixed on Kingston for that Varsity-Queen's game of Nov. 13th.—Toronto Telegram.

Queen's, after resting two weeks, will likely defeat McGill at Moison Stadium on Saturday, but the following week they will try conclusions with the University of Toronto team at Kingston, and the Blue and White will also have had the benefit of a two weeks' respite. It is likely that the championship will be won and lost in the Limestone City. The local collegians, with everything to lose and much to gain, will be sent against an aggregation that will take a world of beating. Queen's will be weaker than they were in other years, but there are any number of fans who will maintain that the Batstone-Voss backfield pair stands out as prominently as the Batstone-Leaddy combination did in the past. If there is a backfield player in the sport to-day the equal of Harry Batstone that player is Carl Voss.—Globe.

LOCAL BOYS' OUT FOR FIRST DRILL

Patterson, Taugher and Hartley Took Part in First Hamilton Workout.

Hamilton, Nov. 4.—Now that the Tigers are out of the race for the season of 1926, Percival Thompson horns into the sporting limelight to announce that the squad which will represent Hamilton in the Canadian Professional Hockey league during the coming season have all reported, and the first practice was held Monday morning. Believing in the old adage that youth must be served, the local pilot has mustered a team of young players, with a few veterans to steady the youngsters down. All doubt of Shay, the player secured from St. Pats, going to play was removed when he appeared for practice. It was figured for a time that he might not be able to report, owing to business reasons. The squad as it lined up was composed of Taugher, Kingston, and Faught, Port Arthur, Goal-keepers; Gerald Green, Sudbury; Lederman, New Hamburg, and "Dutch" Cain, defense; Nevilles and Roth, New Hamburg, centre; Patterson, Kingston, right wing; Shay and Hartley, left wing. There is plenty of youth and speed in that line-up, and it may be that other players will be added to the roster before many days.

NEW POULTRY COMPANY

Will Have a Business in Kingston Very Soon.

Elginburg, Nov. 2—W. E. Cordukes, J. Reid, C. Cramer and J. Silver attended the banquet held at the Masonic Temple, last Friday evening. A former pastor's wife, Mrs. J. Charlesworth, and her son, Arthur visited Mr. and Mrs. C. Ewing and called on other friends here last week. W. Storing's sale on Wednesday last was well attended. Considering the season, his stock, etc., were sold for good prices. Rev. J. Puttenham, Perth Road, was the guest of E. H. Stover, Thursday night. Mrs. Robert Silver, Sunbury, is visiting at J. L. Silver's Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ellerbeck, Harrowsmith, spent Sunday at M. Stover's. M. Stover has secured a good position with the new poultry company which is opening a business in Kingston.
