Curious definition of a Kiss.

Extract of a love letter written in the year 1679, translated from the German, by C-- T--s.

What is like a kifs? A kifs is as it were a seal expressing our sincere attachment; the pledge of our future union; a dumb, but at the same time audible language of a living heart; a prefent which at the same time that it is given is taken from us; the impression of an ardent attachment on an ivory coral press; the striking of two flints against one another; a crimson ballam for a love wounded heart; a sweet bite of the lip; an affectionate pinching of the mouth; a delicious dish which is eaten with scarlet speons; a sweet meat which does not satisfy our hunger; a fruit which is planted and gathered at the same time; the quickest exchange of questions and answers of two lovers ; the fourth degree of love.

The New Year's Gift.

A Quaker refiding at Paris was waited on by four workmen usually employed by him, having for their object to make their compliments, and to ask for a New Year's Gift. "Well, my friends." faid the Quaker, "here are your gifts, choose fifteen francs or the Bible;" "I don't know how to read," faid the first, " fo I take the fif. teen franks."-" I can read, faid the fecond, but I have preffing wants;" he took the fifteen franks. The third also made the fame choice Now came the fourth. a young lad about thirteen or fourteen years of age; the Quaker viewed him with an air of kindness, and said, "Wilt thou, too, reject this best of books, and take three pieces which may be obtained at any time by thy labour and industry?" The young that regulied, "fince your flay the book is so good, I shall take it, and read from it to my mother "-He took the Bible, opened it, and found between the leaves a gold coin of forty franks. The others hung down their heads, and the Quaker observed, " I am forry thou didit no. make a better choice."

A third volume of the MSS. of Herculaneum is in the press, and will be foon published .- Sir H. Davy is expected in September to make his experiments with the chemical compositions which he bas invented to unrole and decypher the ancient Latin MSS. of this collection. It has been observed that the Latin MSS. on papyrus are covered with a certain varnish, which increases the difficulty of unrolling them, and which the Greek MSS. have not.

A Knotty Pun.

A facetious gentleman once observing a young lady very earnestly at work, knotting fringe for a petticoat, asked her what the was doing? " Knotting Sir," replied the "Pray, Sir, can you knot?" " I can-not, Madam," answered he.
