The second of th

Leave me. To night I'll watch the corpse alone. Sat the lamp there, that its faint light may rest On this pale face. Fold back the winding-sheet. Lay the white arm above the sable pall. 'Tis cold and stiff. Thou tremblest, boy

Perchame. Thou never look'st on death before? Away! It is no sight for thee. Hie thee to bed, And let me hear thy footsteps as they pass Along the corridor. So-he is gone. And then and I :emain :- I as I am ;-Thun in the stiff rigidity of death,-A thing of solemn and mysterious meaning. Silence is round us ;-but it is not yet The appointed hour. At midnight thou will

To animate again this inert clay; And, if the laws that govern thee permit, Impart to me a sign that I may know We yet shall meet hereafter. In this world We grew together, like two trees that twine Their branches into one, and if to die Be but to pass away to other realins, Be they of light or darkness, our twin souls Will there be found united. *

O God! It is a fearfu! thing to see The strong man stretched upon the bed of death,

Writhing in agony beneath the grasp Of unseen power. Even as its victim strives To shake the tiger from its throat, he strives Against the shadowy tyrant. And yet why? If death be but the herald to a state Of altered being, why should nature shrink With horror from his touch? Alas! look

And thou art answered. In those stiffening limbs-

That cold blank piece of nothingness-a weight

Of passive matter destined for the worms-What can we read of immortality? Say that 'twas but the casket for the gem .-Ought we not still to cherish what has held A gift of so much price? Is that black box, And the damp earth a lit receptacle ? Has not the light of life been in those eyes,-The eloquence of health upon those cheeks,-The grace of action is those manly limbs,-The lignity of virtue on that brow? Thoughts! Thoughts! ye madden me. *

How still is this lone hour! The lamp burns feebly.

And casts a flickering shadow on the dead. Hark! from a distant turret midnight sounds-Now, heart, be firm! I'll gaze upon the corpse, And move not-breathe not-till it look on me. The wind is up, and murmurs moaningly. I hear it in the corridor. Ha !-no! That slow and measured tread is something

The corpse! the corse! it is not where it lay. The door is opening. How those eye balls glare!

Oh, Heaven and Earth! 'Tis he as when he lived ! But wan, and sad, and changed-changed tho'

It speaks not-stirs not-but strange mean ings flit Across its pallid countenance. And now-

Just powers !- this is too horrible !

A DIRGE.

Weep not for her !- Oh she was far too fair. Too pure to dwell on this guilt-tainted earth! The sinless glory, and the the golden air Of Zion, seem'd to claim her from her birth: A Spirit wandered from its native zone, Which, soon discovering, took her for its own: Weep not for her!

Weep not for her !- Her span was like the Whose thousand stars shine beautiful and bright : Like flowers, that know not what it is to die;

Like long-link'd, shadeless months of Polar light ; Like Music floating o'er a waveles lake,

While Echo answers from the flowery brake: Weep not for her! Weep not for her !- She died in early youth,

Ere hope had lost its rich romantic hues When human bosoms seem'd the homes of truth. And earthstill gleam'd with beauty's radiant

Her summer-prime waned not to days that freeze : Her wine of life was run not to the lees: Weep not for her!

Weep not for her!-By fleet or slow decay. It never grieved her brother's core to mark The playmates of her childhood wane away Her prospects wither; or her hopes grow dark ; Translated by her God, with spirit shriven, She pass'd as 'twere in smiles from earth to Heaven:

Weep not for her!

Weep not for her !- It was not hers to feel The miseries that corrode amassing years, Gainst dreams of baffled bliss the heart to Thus, Lac-Snell and Copal, &c. &c. &c. which steel.

To wander sad down Age's vale of tears, As whirl the wither'd leaves from friendship's

And an earth's wintry world alone to be: Weep not for her!

Weep not for her !- She is an angel now! And treads the Capphire floors of Paradise; All darkness wiped from her refulgent brow, Sin, sorrow, suffering, banish'd from her eres:

Victorious over death, to her appear The vista'd joys of Heaven's eternal year: Weep not for her!

Weep not for her !-her memory is the shrine Of pleasant thoughts, soft as the scent of flowers.

Calm as on windless eve the son's decline, Sweet as the song of birds among the bow-

Rich as a rainbow with its hues of light, Pure as the moonshine of an autumn night Weep not for her!

Veep not for her!--There is no cause for wo But rather nerve the spirit, that it walk Unshrinking o'er the thorny paths below, And from earth's low defilements keep thee back :

So, when a few fleet severing years have flown, She'll meet thee at Heaven's gate-and lead thee on !

Weep not for her!

Law Blanks for Sale at this Office.

IN COUNCIL, 21ST NOVEMBER, 1825.

For the information of persons arriving in Upper Canada, as settlers, the following summary of the rules which His Majesty's Government has thought fit to lay down for the future regulation of grants of land in the Province, in conformity to the system which has been recently adopted with respect to other Colonies of His Majesty, has been prepared in conformity to instructions from Earl Bathurst.

I, A valuation will be forthwith made of the lands throughout the Colony, and average prices will be struck for each District.

2, All the lands in the Colony not hitherto granted, and appropriated for public purposes, will be offered for sale at the average prices thus fixed.

3, All persons proposing to purchase lands must transmit a written application to the Government through the office of the Surveyor General, in a certain prescribed form, which will be delivered to the party applying, by the Surveyor General, or by an officer to be appointed by him for that purpose, in the several Districts, on payment of a fee of 2s. 6d.

4, All correspondence with the Government respecting grants of land, must take place through the same office.

5, The purchase money is to be paid by four quarterly, or five annual instalments as the party applying may desire, but in the latter case legal interest shall be charged, and shall be payable annually from the time of making the agreement -a discount of 10 per cent, will be allowed for ready money payments.

6. On payment of the money a grant will be made in fee simple to the purchaser at the expense of the Crown, with the usual reservations of mines, minerals, and of white pine timber.

7. The largest quantity of land which will be sold to any individual, is 10,000 acres, and when put up to sale, it will be offered in such tracts, not less than 100 acres, as may be directed. Persons wishing more extensive purchases must apply, in writing, through the Ligutenant Governor in council, to His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, with full explanations of their objects and means,

8, Lands may also be obtained without purchase but upon different conditions,

9, Persons desirous to acquire lands without purchasing will make their application to the Government, in writing, through the Surveyor General's Office, in a prescribed form, copies of which will be furnished by the Surveyor General upon payment of 2s. 6d. 10, The largest grant that will be made without purchase, is 12,00 acres, the smallest 100 acres. li, No grant will be made to any person without purchase, unless the Government is satisfied that the grantee has both the power, and the intenfrom of expending in the cultivation of lands a capital equal to half the estimated value, or, in case the grant do not exceed 200 acres, that he intends to reside upon, and improve the same,

12. A quit rent of £5 per cent, per annum upon the estimated value, will be fixed upon the land granted without purcha-e.

first 25 years next following the grant, on payment of a sum equal to twenty times the annual

14. Until the expiration of the first seven years next succeeding each grant without purchase, no

15, Every Grantee without purchase, must, at the expiration of the fore mentioned term of seven years, prove to the satisfactson of the Lieut. Governor in Council, that he has expended in the Cultivation and Improvement of his Land a Capital equal to half its value, as that value was estimated at the time of his Grant, or, in case the Grant shall not exceed two hundred acres, that he has during that time, resided on, and improved his Land-on failure of such proof, his claim to the Land shall be forfeited, and the same may be granted to another applicant. It is to be understood, however, that if at any time within that period the condition of expenditure and cultivation shall have been complied with, the Patent may immediately issue.

16, No additional Grant of Land will be made to any person who has not proved, as last mentioned, the necessarry expenditure of Capital on the Lands already granted to him.

17. Persons receiving a second grant of Land. without purchase, will become liable to pay a quit rent upon the Lands comprized in such second Grant immediately from the date of it.

18. Persons desirous to receive Grants of Land without purchase, on terms different from those above stated, must lay before the Lieut. Governor in Council, a full explanation in writing of the circumstances which they may conceive to exrules.

19, U. F. Lavalists and other persons entitled to gratuitous Grant by the general regulation of His Majesty's government, are not to be affected by these rules.

The above rules to take effect from the first of January, 1826. By Order of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor. JOHN SMALL,

Clk, Ex. Council.
