FOREIGN.

France.—The London Courier of July 6 says,-"Wild and senseless as the project of counter-revolution in France by the ex-Royal Family may appear to be, we understand from an authentic source, that there are, at this moment, many persons ready to receive them in France, and that the partizans of Henry V. calculate on success, not so much through the influence and exertions of that party, as through the disatisfaction which many of the Liberals are said to feel at the want of energy in their present Sovereign, and the stagnation of trade in the French capital, by which manythousands are in a state of destitution, favorable to any attempt at revolution in which money may not be wanting."

The London Courier mentions a coinage of five franc pieces to the value of £50,000 sterling, with " Henry v. Roi de France," on one side, and the fleur de lis on the obverse, and states that proclamations to the French people in the name of Henry V. have been printed in London .--We can hardly believe the exiled Bourbons to be so besotted as an enterprise for the recovery of their dominion in France would bespeak them to be.

CALAIS, July 2 .- This town is at this moment in the greatest confusion, and nothing for the last two hours has been heard but the drums beating to arms, the word of command from the military officers, or the exulting shouts of the populace from every quarter. The cause of this tumult, it appears, is the general discontent of the working classes at the present extraordinary high price of corn, which they attribute principally to the monopoly of a few rich merchants in this town and neighbourhood.

It has been stated in London by a person of high rank, who is known to possess the best means of information, that the French elections will go much against the Ministers, and that M. Cassimir Perrier and his colleagues must either give way to the liberal party or retire from office. The lialliance with Belgium. Undoubted it seems to be, that a large and daily increasing party in France are opposed to the line of policy followed by Louis Phillippe. He may a majority in favor of the liberal party, he must adopt a very different course of foreign policy to that which he has hitherto followed, and in any event, if Poland falls, the French nation will demand of him a serious account for his inaction in a cause

Extract of a letter dated Havre June 29. "The appearances are again warlike. It is reported that Marshal Soult is appointed President of the French cabinet in place of Casimir Perrier, and that an army is marching for Belgium. We shall soon have that important question determined."

Belgium.—It is particularly in relation to the affairs of Belgium, that the news by these arrivals is interesting. We have the acceptance of the proffered throne hy Prince Leopold and the condition on which this acceptance is given, we have the debates in the Belgian Congress on this important subject, though not definitely closed; at the date of our last accounts from Brussels, the latest London paper in our possession of the 7th, contains a correspondence, which states that the result would be, a small majority in favor of acceding to the conditions of Leopold.

Poland.-WARSAW, June 23.-The head quarters at Warsaw. The Rusciams have been at Płock, but they have again retreated from thence; this morning a quantity of troops went through the Wolski Rogatka.

It was yesterday decided that a levy en masse should be raised in the country, Warsaw excepted, to give the Russian army in the kingdom a mortal blow.

Courier Office, eight o'clock, July 4 .-We have just received the following important news from Poland :

The fortress of Bobrysck, one of the most important in Lithuania, and containing arms and amunitions belonging to the Russians, to great extent, has been taken by the Poles. Siedlec and Lublin have been evacuated by the Russians; and General Roth has been obliged to fly into Gallacia.

This may be unfounded, as is also prohable that of General Sacken having destroyed himself; but what we know to be true, and what is very important, as showing the opinion entertained of war in Poland nearer to St. Petersburgh than Paris or London, is, that several of the Russian pobility who had been serving in the army for the three last years, have retired to their their Sovereign against a noble nation struggling for its independence. Others, after sustaining as soldiers the first shock of Polish bravery, have surrendered to their enemics, not because they wanted courage to fight, but because they were too virtuous to persevere in an unrighteous contest.

Portugal.—According to a letter of June 9th, from Lisbon, "A vessel had arrived there with despatches, announcing the late events at Brazil. This news produced a powerful sensation. The people exclaimed in the streets, 'Don Pedro is in | Let. A. 8 Single Stoves 39 " Europe: we are undone!"

Don Miguel, in these perplexing circumstances, endeavours to gain the affections of his partisans by attending all public religious ceremonies. He has for some days past been seen at churches, following the processions like a penitent.

Italy.—Frontiers of Italy, June 15. -All those who now pass through the l'yrol and Upper Italy will have an opportunity to convince themselves of the great military preparations of Austria. It is affirmed that these preparations are more formidable than they were in 1805 and 1809. If we may believe the reports that are spread in the Tyrol, 70,000 men are assembled on the frontiers of Switzerlond, and 80,000 in the interior of Tyrol. The public think that war is at hand .- They forget that Austria is as much interested as any other State in the maintenance of peace.

Spain.—The King of Spain is trying to raise money by offering to sell his claim upon his quondam South American subjects for a consideration.

Thus during many a long year did the Hon. The time has come; it has come slowly, but it has come, rendering for ever memorable the reign of our gracious Sovereign, whose name of happy augury in the sinnals of this country, and, as it has hitherto been, glorious by our escape from bigotry, will now be celebrated for our deliverance from corruption,--[The Hon.
